Press Release

Bowser-Morner, Inc. Announces Three New Shareholders:

May 30, 2013

Bowser-Morner Vice Presidents Richard A. “Rick” Allen, P.E., James W. “Jim” Fletcher, and Patrick J. “Pat” Loper, II, P.E., have become shareholders of Bowser-Morner, Inc., a leading testing and engineering service company. Rick Allen is Manager of Bowser-Morner’s Toledo Operations. Jim Fletcher is the Director of Laboratory Services for Bowser-Morner’s Construction Services Division, and Pat Loper is Manager of Bowser-Morner’s Dayton Engineering Group.

Company President Steve Bowser explained that after three generations of Bowser family ownership, the company will transition to senior management ownership over the next five to seven years. “ Rick, Jim, and Pat have all demonstrated outstanding leadership and commitment to our company, our people and our clients, so I couldn’t be more pleased to have them as new members of our ownership team”, said Bowser.

Founded in 1911 and headquartered in Dayton, Ohio, Bowser-Morner has offices and laboratories in Cincinnati and Toledo, Ohio; Lexington, Kentucky; Springfield, Illinois; and Birmingham, Alabama. Bowser-Morner is a team of professional engineers, scientists, and engineering technicians specializing in Laboratory Testing; Geologic Consulting; Geotechnical Engineering; Construction Observation and Materials Testing; Subsurface Exploration and Sampling; and Environmental Services.
