About Annual Medical Education Conference 2021

The Annual Medical Education Conference (AMEC) 2021 will address topics on leadership in healthcare, health policy, health disparities, and activism in underserved communities. Our program will not only prepare premed and medical students in their journey to become socially competent and clinically excellent physicians but will also provide the opportunity to network with students and physicians from all over the country. The dates for this AMEC are April 1-4, 2021 and the conference will be held virtually.

The Covid-19 pandemic has highlighted what we have long known: that social determinants of health and disparities in healthcare impact our communities in the US and globally. It is important now more than ever to come together as social justice-minded emerging physicians to become refueled, rejuvenated, and ready to transform the future. The conference program features several tracks for the general audience, premed students, medical students, 4th Year and Beyond (for our more senior medical students and residents), plus sessions focused on physician-researchers, advocacy, and pipeline programs. This virtual program will bring you two dynamic plenary sessions, engaging breakout sessions, multiple networking opportunities, and an interactive exhibit hall, with more than 200 medical and educational organization exhibitors.

*This guide is for 2021 AMEC attendees only. Please note that exhibitors must register as Exhibitors and not as Attendees. For information relating to exhibitors, including advertising and exhibitor registration fees, please see the AMEC 2021 Exhibitor Guide.
