JUNE 23-25, 2023
National Leadership Institute (NLI)

BACK TO THE BASICS: REESTABLISHING OUR FOUNDATION AND OUR WHY

Located at Crystal City Marriott at Reagan National Airport
Arlington, Virginia
Welcome, esteemed members of the SNMA Family!

It is with great honor and excitement that we extend a warm welcome to all of you as we gather for the first National Leadership Institute (NLI) of the 2023-2024 administrative year. NLI stands as a beacon of transformative leadership development, and it is held in sync with our quarterly Board of Directors Meetings. This June edition of NLI holds a special significance, as it allows us to dedicate our efforts to the heart of our pipeline—the Chapter Presidents and Regional Officers. In that same vain, we are able to celebrate the life of pioneering individuals of our organization such as Dr. Wilbert C. Jordan.

Within the SNMA community, we firmly believe in our responsibility to equip each and every one of you with the necessary tools for success, not just within SNMA but also in your journey beyond. This is the very purpose for which NLI exists. Our aim is to empower each participant with the skills required to thrive in medical school and become trailblazers in the field of medicine. To achieve this, we have meticulously curated a weekend filled with inspiring physicians who have blazed trails of their own.

The planning of this weekend has been a labor of love by our dedicated NLI Planning Committee, with your individual leadership journeys at the forefront of their minds. Aligned with the theme of this year’s June NLI, our collective hope is that each of you will depart this experience equipped with the necessary tools to establish a strong foundation and approach every step with intention, whether it be in shaping your board’s organizational culture or that of your respective chapters.

It goes without saying that a sincere appreciation must be extended to those who played instrumental roles in making this weekend a reality. Firstly, we extend sincere thanks to our headquarters staff, led by our Executive Director, Bridgette Hudson. Thank you all for the tremendous work put in. Secondly, I commend the NLI Planning Committee for their meticulous planning and unwavering commitment. Already, we are immensely proud of the impact this exceptional team has made. Lastly, but certainly not least, we extend our deepest appreciation to the heroes of this weekend—our Emeriti, and especially Dr. Tyees Gaines. Your heartfelt dedication to creating a transformative NLI experience for our students does not go unnoticed.

In conclusion, we implore each and every one of you to embrace the dynamism and productivity of this NLI weekend and the subsequent leadership journey within SNMA. Together, let us forge ahead, united in our pursuit of excellence, diversity, and trailblazing leadership in the field of medicine.

Yours in SNMA,
Veronica Mize & Antonio Igbokidi

Dr. Allison-Ottey is the CEO of CARLDEN Inc. and Beautiful Woman Inside and Out, Inc. She also serves as Executive Director of The COSHAR Healthy Communities Foundation. Dr. Allison-Ottey serves as the Health Strategist for several national companies/organizations and develops and oversees programmatic agendas with long- and short-term strategies ensuring effectiveness and achievement of goals.

Dr. Allison-Ottey’s companies have a national scope that reaches millions with their products, services, and events. She is also a media personality with a presence in television, social media, radio and print and one of the nation’s most influential physicians and health advocates. Additionally, she is the first female to be awarded the title Chairman Emeritus of the Student National Medical Association (SNMA).
Anthony Kulukulualani, MD

Dr. Kulukulualani graduated Summa Cum Laude from North Carolina State University with a B.S. in Biological Sciences and Plant Biology. He then conducted research at the Environmental Protection Agency for two years before attending Tufts University School of Medicine. He is currently a first-year Child and Adolescent Psychiatry Fellow at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. He was an APA Spurlock Fellow in 2020-2021, where he learned more about health policy and legislation while working for U.S. Senator Tina Smith.

He was awarded the APA SAMHSA Fellowship, which provides $25,000 in federal funding to execute a project that addresses the mental health disparities for minoritized populations. He also serves as the Area 5 Resident-Fellow Member Representative in the Assembly of the APA. Dr. Kulukulualani has held several other local, regional, and national leadership positions, including National President of the Student National Medical Association. He is passionate about teaching and mentoring youth, which drives his interest in a career in academic medicine.
Dr. Lott known by most of his friends and colleagues as “Nate” matriculated from OU-HCOM in 2008. He is board certified in Internal Medicine, Pulmonary Disease and Critical Care Medicine. He was active in his local chapter where he volunteered time at health screenings and would perform outreach activities with schools in the Athens and Columbus Ohio areas.

In 2006, he won the position as Region V Parliamentarian. He was subsequently elected as National Parliamentarian in 2007 where he helped with modification of the PPM and ultimately was selected as Speaker of the House of Delegates during his last year in medical school.

After graduation, he continued to participate in SNMA activities by going to the national conference as a representative of his residency program. He took several years off where he was able to focus on his career but has decided it is time to become more active in this organization that he has spent so much time supporting.
Kameron Leigh Matthews MD, JD, FAAFP

Dr. Matthews is the Chief Health Officer of Cityblock Health, a transformative, value-based healthcare provider integrating medical, behavioral, and social services for Medicaid and dually eligible and low-income Medicare beneficiaries.

A board-certified Family Physician, Dr. Matthews has focused her career on underserved and vulnerable communities, having held multiple leadership roles in correctional medicine, federally qualified health centers, and managed care. Most recently at the Veterans Health Administration, she led transformational efforts focused on integrated, Veteran-centered models of care including the implementation of the MISSION Act of 2018 and the EHR modernization effort.

She is an elected member of the National Academy of Medicine. She is a member of the sixth class of the Aspen Institute's Health Innovators Fellowship. She received her bachelor's degree at Duke University, her medical degree at Johns Hopkins University, and her law degree at the University of Chicago. As a passion outside of work, she co-founded and co-direct the Tour for Diversity in Medicine, an initiative seeking to bring premedical enrichment activities to underrepresented minority high school and undergraduate students across the country.
Dr. Mpasi is the Clinical Director for Complex Primary Care and Community Medicine and the Assistant Medical Director for the Clinically Integrated Network (Medicaid ACO) at ChristianaCare Health System and a Pediatrician with ChristianaCare School-Based Health Centers. She completed a health policy fellowship in the National Clinicians Scholars Program at the Perelman School of Medicine at the University of Pennsylvania.

Her primary work focuses on health equity promotion and pediatric health disparities. Her research additionally focuses on Medicaid network healthcare system and healthcare system navigation for medically vulnerable populations and disadvantaged communities. Dr. Mpasi is an advocate for educational preparation and leadership development for physicians and medical students of color to expand workforce diversity and executive leaders in the medical field.
Dr. Sanders serves as the Director of the Master of Health Administration Program, and as Professor of Health Administration / Business administration, at Salem Academy & College. Over the past 20 years, Dr. Sanders has worked in higher education teaching courses related to health care, business and public health and has created academic programs for undergraduate and graduate degrees.

Dr. Sanders is active in his community. Prior to relocating to North Carolina, he served on the Michigan Department of Community Health (MDCH) State Health Needs Assessment Task Force; the Mid-Michigan District Health Department Gratiot County Community Health Assessment Steering Committee; and the Board of Director member for the United Financial Credit Union, Saginaw, Michigan.

Dr. Sanders has been a guest lecturer for the Association of University Programs in Health Administration (AUPHA), the Emergency Management Higher Education Symposium hosted by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA), the Mississippi Podiatric Medical Association (MsPMA), the Student National Medical Association (SNMA) along with health systems, nonprofits, and academic institutions.
