WHY CONSILIUM GLOBAL RESEARCH?

- Consilium Global Research (CGR) is the premiere investor recognition company that is uniquely qualified to offer the breadth of resources and capabilities to address the distinctive challenges that public companies face in today's market environment.
- The deep and diverse equity capital markets experience earned over multiple market cycles and across all sectors and in the key verticals of Research, Sales and Portfolio Management.
- The CGR Research Product is a Fundamental / Bottom-up style that is insightful and unbiased. Our Senior Research Analysts will drill down to identify each company's unique quantitative and qualitative characteristics. The Research Team will craft an equity story that addresses the key questions investors consider in making an investment decision.
- The broad distribution of the research product via Thomson Reuters, Cap IQ, FactSet, Bloomberg, Yahoo, Google Finance & Social Media. A targeted distribution to institutional investors by market cap, sector and style. To address the retail market the research is delivered to over 4,000 broker dealers. For high net worth individual investors CGR is partnering with Stock Market Manager.
- Our long-term relationships with the key decision makers at major institutions will give you access to some of the largest and most influential institutional money managers across the U.S.

THE BENEFITS OF ENGAGING THE CGR TEAM

- A highly regarded professional team that is known for their "Integrity" (a valuable commodity on Wall Street) and their results oriented approach who will work along-side you as a Partner to help you attain your company's long term objectives.
- A cost effective integrated approach that raises your profile in the investment community and expands your investor base.
- Insightful research coverage that formulates a story that resonates with investors and the subsequent feed-back identifying investors with real interest in your company. Thus your time is optimized and expenses are reduced because of the time spent presenting to people with little or no interest in your company is dramatically reduced.

Consilium Global Research bridges the gap between public companies and the investment community.
