Final Vote to be Taken on AOA at Annual Membership Meeting

TSPS members should be on hand Thursday, Oct. 16, 2014 at the Westin Galleria Hotel in Houston to participate in the Annual TSPS Membership meeting.

Important business this year includes a membership vote on the Article of Affiliation with the National Society of Professional Surveyors (NSPS).

NSPS produced a Memorandum of Understanding, or MOU, which is an agreement between NSPS and TSPS to guarantee 100% RPLS membership in NSPS. TSPS considered this document a replacement of the original Articles of Affiliation agreement signed back in 1993 and thus has renamed the new document the Article of Affiliation (AOA) versus MOU.

The leadership of TSPS spent many hours drafting and editing the proposed AOA. The AOA has now been agreed upon by both parties, and the final version was presented to the TSPS Board of Directors under New Business at their August 2nd meeting.

The Board passed the following motion… to approve the Article of Affiliation as shown and put it on the agenda for the Annual Membership meeting.

This agenda item, along with other important topics, will be discussed at the membership meeting. It’s important for you as a TSPS member to be present at this annual meeting.

NSPS Executive Director Curt Sumner will be attending this year’s convention. He will speak at the membership meeting along with our own Pat Smith, who is serving as NSPS President and will give a national update and answer questions. Mr. Sumner will be in attendance both Thursday and Friday, so be sure to take moment and say hello.

Not Too Late to Attend 2014 Convention

Attendance is soaring for this year’s Convention & Tech Expo, to be held at the unique Westin Galleria Hotel in Houston. But despite the great numbers, most CEU courses still have seats available. As of Tuesday, October 14, only three classes are full and closed to new registrants:

- Ethics and the Standards Uprising
- Coordinates and Geodesy

- Mrs. Sarah O. Hawkins Confederate Scrip, Texas School Lands

Many more opportunities exist for surveyors needing their CEUs, including "A Review of the Rules," which meets the licensing boards requirement for 3 hours annually of Ethics/Rules CEUs. Check out the updated registration form on page 4 - onsite registration is available!
