Dance Avanti...Ken Pandozzi

Hello, I'm Ken Pandozzi. I teach Ballroom and Latin dance styles. My love of music and dance go back for decades. Earlier in my life I was, and still am, a professional musician. My favorite styles of music were Tango and Latin rhythms. From time to time I would watch the Ballroom Dance competitions on television because I always enjoyed the music selections that were chosen for the dancing. Over twenty years ago, I eventually decided to invest some time into trying 'a few' dance lessons. The first lessons I studied were Tango in the Providence and Boston areas and I have been dancing ever since. After three years of dancing, I entered into professional training programs. Since then I have competed in various states and been involved with four dance studios. I thoroughly enjoy spreading the love of music and dance to others. In my free time I enjoy partaking in local acting and historical reenacting.

Keith Stremmel

Keith Stremmel started dancing in the country scene back in 1999. Initially he concentrated on Country Two-step, East Coast Swing, Cha-cha, and line dancing. Keith didn't think much of West Coast Swing until about two years later. Attending a major dance event, he was inspired with what could be done at the higher levels of West Coast Swing. With that event, and slowly more events to come, it fueled his interest of wanting more dance, and he took a greater interest in West Coast Swing. Additionally, he found himself trying, liking, and learning, Argentine Tango, Rumba, Salsa, three-count Hustle, and Nightclub Two-step. With his skills and passion for dance growing over the years, Keith also discovered how rewarding it is to help people learn and grow in dance. In late 2006 Keith started teaching weekly classes and private lessons of West Coast Swing and Hustle, in Red Lion, PA. Later the classes spread to York and Lancaster, PA, Baltimore, MD, and Washington DC. While traveling in New Zealand in 2007, he was invited, and had the honor, to teach a group class in the growing dance community in Hamilton, NZ. In 2007 Jayne Parks and Keith choreographed a Hustle routine and put it on the floor for a public event. The year 2008 became just as exciting and rewarding when Keith partnered with Lara Deni, started choreographing West Coast Swing routines, and then traveled the United States to compete at many major dance events through 2009 with a routine. Currently he travels to various national dance events and competes in other divisions of West Coast Swing and some Hustle.

Keith is currently striving to develop a stronger dance community in the Lancaster and York counties of PA. So come out to some of his events and dances to say Hi and enjoy the growing dance community. Checkout the "Classes and Events" page to find the fun and education.
