FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
July 2, 2018

NWRA PARTICIPATES IN THE CITADEL IN DC PROGRAM FOR SUMMER INTERNSHIP

Arlington, VA – Ryan Adkins, a rising junior at the The Citadel, The Military College of South Carolina, is interning this summer with the National Waste and Recycling Association (NWRA). Each year, The Citadel sends a select group of students to Washington, DC as part of The Citadel in DC program.

“I am pleased to have Cadet Adkins interning with us this summer. Internships provide an opportunity for anyone interested in a profession to better understand it. Ryan has quickly become an important member of the association, assisting our government relations and communications teams. We look forward to Ryan's contributions as he continues his internship with us this summer,” said Smith.

“Ryan is studying Political Science with a focus in law and legal studies. Ryan has been a great asset to The Citadel in DC program. He is competitive academically and very interested in pursuing opportunities to broaden his knowledge and experience of global issues,” said Paget Tisdale, Director of The Citadel Career Center.

The Citadel in DC program allows students to live in DC, intern and earn academic credit. Students are also partnered with an alumnus of The Citadel to have as a mentor and guide to navigate all of the different opportunities. NWRA President and CEO Darrell Smith is a graduate of The Citadel.

###

ABOUT NWRA
The National Waste and Recycling Association represents the private sector waste and recycling services industry. Association members conduct business in all 50 states, and include companies that manage garbage, recycling and medical waste, equipment manufacturers and distributors, and a variety of other service providers. For more information about NWRA, please visit www.wasterecycling.org.

Contact:
Brandon Wright
National Waste and Recycling Association
bwright@wasterecycling.org
202-364-3706