Safety & Standards Programs

Resources, including our Safety manual, Safety Monday e-newsletter, and seminars help you train your personnel to reduce injuries/fatalities.

Our ANSI safety standards set performance standards for waste and recycling equipment and facilities in all 50 states.

Education, Information & Market Statistics

NWRA's educational sessions, newsletters, industry reports and website provide valuable information, keeping you informed regarding the latest trends and technologies and helping you make informed business decisions.

Our certification and education programs support professional development. They recognize proficiency in driver safety as well as landfill operators and can reduce your liability and costs.

Our market statistics and data program tracks robustness of the industry and provides economic trend analysis and forecasts for the industry, helping you gauge your company's performance and develop better business plans.

Savings & Discounts

Our Member Savings Programs provides discounts on services that you use to run your business every day. Members receive discounts on publications and events. Many members' dues are paid for by these savings.

Who qualifies as a Public Sector Affiliate?

Affiliate participation is available to individual public sector officials in the United States and Canada who manage waste collection, recycling or disposal operations, or related programs. Please note Public Sector Affiliate membership does not include voting rights or full participation in NWRA Chapter activities.

Credit Card Processing

Use of Card Payment Services reduces credit card processing costs and offers the lowest rates available. Participants have seen processing fees decrease by more than 30 percent.

Driver Qualification File Management/Drug Testing

Concorde offers innovative, user-friendly services including DOT-compliant driver qualification file management, drug and alcohol program management, pre-employment background screening, employment verification, physical exams, audit support, and litigation services.

Property & Casualty Insurance Program

NWRA members have access to special insurance programs through Insurance Office of America, designed for waste and recycling companies, including auto liability, workers compensation, and pollution legal liability for landfills and closure/post closure care.

Surety Bond Solutions

Nielson & Company has the surety industry's best personnel and technical resources, exclusively dedicated to companies in the waste and recycling industry. They specialize in providing customized surety programs to help eliminate the need for collateral or irrevocable letters of credit as a condition for obtaining bonds, which frees up available bank credit.

Debt Collection Services

Past due bills and bad debt hurt your business's profitability. Coast to Coast provides services backed by years of experience working with the waste and recycling companies, allowing them to reduce write-offs, increase recoveries and reduce collection costs.
