The Women's Council has allowed me to expand my professional network and industry knowledge, forge amazing relationships and establish wonderful friendships along the way. The ability to work alongside the members of the Women's Council to bridge those with industry knowledge with those new to the industry has been extremely rewarding. I am very proud of the Women's Council and what we have accomplished over the years and look forward to continuing to serve the industry!

-Tammy Holtzman, Waste Connections

The Women's Council fosters the professional development of women in the waste industry while striving to increase their business, financial and leadership skills through education, workshops, mentoring, and networking. In addition, the Women's Council offers scholarships to students in pursuit of a career in the environmental industry.

Networking and social opportunities

There are various outlets for members to interact with one another both professionally and personally. These opportunities are best taken advantage of by attending meetings and events, and becoming involved in one or more committees. Below are a few of our networking and social opportunities during the year:

- Membership meetings are held regionally throughout the year and nationally in conjunction with WasteExpo and the Executive Leadership Conference Roundtable.
- Women's Council presents an annual fall tour with professional development opportunities.
- Informal mentoring opportunities develop through relationships that are established within the Women's Council.
- The Women's Council's committees are a great way for members to grow professionally as well as to acquaint themselves better with other members. Committees include:
 - Fundraising Committee. Helps raise money to fund the Council's programs, including scholarships and professional development opportunities.
 - Membership Committee. Keeps the members connected and involved through organized events.
 - Marketing Committee. Responsible for communicating Women's Council events and fundraising through social media.
 - Professional Development Committee. Identifies and offers educational opportunities to members of the Women's Council.
