As the current COVID-19 situation continues and you see some businesses around the country being impacted or potentially shut down temporarily, it is important for you to understand that the employees of Symbia Logistics are indeed performing essential and critical work as part of the United States supply chain.

In the Department of Homeland Security’s “MEMORANDUM ON IDENTIFICATION OF ESSENTIAL CRITICAL INFRASTRUCTURE WORKERS DURING COVID-19 RESPONSE” dated March 19th, 2020, there are various groups of employees in the transportation and logistics industries that are listed as “essential critical infrastructure workers.” You and the rest of our employees at (COMPANY NAME) fall into this category, as you can see below in the excerpts of this memorandum listing the following employee groups:

“TRANSPORTATION AND LOGISTICS
- Employees supporting or enabling transportation functions, including dispatchers, maintenance and repair technicians, warehouse workers, truck stop and rest area workers, and workers that maintain and inspect infrastructure (including those that require cross-border travel)
- Employees of firms providing services that enable logistics operations, including cooling, storing, packaging, and distributing products for wholesale or retail sale or use.
- Manufacturers and distributors (to include service centers and related operations) of packaging materials, pallets, crates, containers, and other supplies needed to support manufacturing, packaging staging and distribution operations”
