

To become a Certified Medical Examiner you must:

- Be licensed, certified, or registered in accordance with applicable State laws and regulations to perform physical examinations
- Log onto the National Registry System and receive a unique identifier
- Complete required training
- Pass the Medical Examiner certification test
- Report results of driver exams every month via the national registry system
- Submit to periodic monitoring and audits
- Maintain certification by completing periodic training every five years and recertify by passing the ME certification exam every 10 years

To maintain your Medical Examiner certification you must:

- Continue to be licensed, registered, or certified in accordance with the applicable State laws and regulations of each State in which you perform examinations with a scope of practice that includes performing physical examinations
- Submit any changes in the application information to FMCSA within 30 days of the change
- Report to FMCSA any information related to any termination, suspension, or withdrawal of your license, registration, or certificate under State law
- Maintain documentation of State licensing, registration, or certification and completion of all required training
- Submit Form MCSA-5850 for each driver examined electronically every month via the National Registry website. If no exams were performed during the month, that must also be reported.
- Retain original completed Medical Examination Reports for all drivers examined and a copy or electronic version of the driver's medical examiner's certificate for at least 3 years from the date of the examination
- Provide copies of Medical Examination Reports and medical examiner's certificates to FMCSA within 48 hours of request
- Follow all FMCSA administrative requirements
- Complete periodic training every 5 years as specified by FMCSA
- Pass the Medical Examiner certification test every 10 years

FMCSA may remove a medical examiner from the National Registry of Certified Medical Examiners when/if a ME fails to meet or maintain the qualifications as outlined in the regulation. The reasons for removal may include, but are not limited to:

- Failure to comply with the requirements for continued listing on the National Registry of Certified Medical Examiners as outlined in the regulation
- Errors, omissions, or other indications of improper certification of an operator in either the completed Medical Examination Reports or the medical examiner's certificates
- Issuance of a medical examiner's certificate to an operator of a commercial motor vehicle who failed to meet the applicable standards at the time of the examination
- The medical examiner fails to comply with the examination requirements specified in the FMCSA regulations
- The medical examiner falsely claims to have completed training in physical and medical examinations standards
