C. Simone Fishburn, Ph.D.
President, Women In BIO

I am pleased to announce that Women In Bio has partnered with SmartBrief to launch WIB SmartBrief, a weekly e-mail newsletter specifically designed for life science and biotechnology professionals that focuses on news about women in the biosciences. The launch issue is below.

This complimentary benefit is specifically aimed at bringing you a quick, two-minute read that will help keep you up-to-date with the latest news and trends about women in our industry. News stories are meticulously picked for content and delivered straight to your inbox.

Due to your affiliation with Women In Bio, we are pleased to offer this completely free service to you. We are positive this brief will save you time and keep you informed, but if you no longer wish to receive WIB SmartBrief you may unsubscribe at any time.

Over the next few weeks, we will send you five introductory issues of WIB SmartBrief, with the hope that you will soon subscribe. In fact, you may sign up today, for free, to ensure you don't miss a single issue.
