

Women in ETFs is Taking Action by Providing New Services to Record 3300 Members and 22 Corporate Sponsors

September 12, 2017 New York, NY

Women in ETFs (WE) is proud to announce new efforts to further the careers of women by taking action to expand the Career Center and roll out Mentorship & Leadership Programs. These key initiatives will address the needs of our growing numbers of Members, Corporate Sponsors, and Event Hosts.

WE CAREER CENTER

Women in ETFs is expanding its effort to CONNECT members with career opportunities and sponsors with interested and qualified WE members for positions they have open. Joanne Hill, WE Co-Founder and Career Center task force leader shared that “We are excited to allow for complimentary access to all WE sponsors and Event Hosts to post jobs to our Career Center, accessing our talented and diverse pool of members.” Ana Concejero, Co-Head for Sponsorship in EMEA added that “the Career Center and the Mentorship & Leadership offerings are global but customized locally, enabling WE to make a powerful impact.”

WE MENTORSHIP & LEADERSHIP

Linda Zhang, Co-Founder of WE and Co-Head of the Mentorship & Leadership Committee, cited “25% of WE members indicate they would like to have a mentor and 16% would like to be a mentor. WE is addressing these needs by raising awareness and providing actionable ideas such as one-to-one Mentorship Programs, currently being piloted in Boston, Chicago, and in the EMEA region, and by using technology to deliver career advice in webcasts globally such as in our WE Talks series.”

Diana Tidd, Co-President of WE added that “our efforts in education and skills training are important because through these efforts, WE is able to provide a strong platform for C-suite leaders to inspire future leaders and bring our mission to life.”

Additionally, WE is committed to help raise the profile of our talented senior leaders and members to help them get noticed by providing various speaking opportunities at WE events and by leveraging their talent on the WE Leadership Team. “As part of WE’s ongoing stewardship efforts we are asking ETF firms, conference coordinators, journalists and editorial boards to include more diversity on conference agendas, publications and articles, said Jill Mavro, Co-President of WE.” Currently 21% of WE members are Executive, SVP, and Managing Director level talent. WE would like to see the same number reflected in the diversity of speakers at industry conferences and in the press.

WE MEMBERSHIP

WE’s activities are being noticed. In just over three years since its inception in January 2014, WE now has over 3,300 members globally in the US, Canada, EMEA, and Asia Pacific, adding over 900 new members, an increase of 38%, in 2017. Fifteen percent of the WE Membership are male members. “Engaging men in the dialogue about promoting the advancement of women, has been essential to the success of our educational, networking, and philanthropy events,” said Kristine Delano, Co-Head of Global Membership for WE. Catherine De Natale, Co-Head of Global Membership for WE added “WE Members are representative of the breadth of companies within the ETF ecosystem, with 2/3 members in the early to mid career segment (30% Associate/Analyst and 37% Director/VP), creating an opportunity for WE to provide career guidance.”
