Approved Provider Criteria and Standards

Type I and Type II Approved Provider of Continuing Education Program

This revision is effective as of January 1, 2021 and supersedes all previous versions.

APT may revise its Approved Provider program and its criteria, standards, process, and other aspects of the program at its sole discretion.
All approval determinations are made at the sole discretion of APT based on all information received and reviewed, and that APT may approve or deny applications or renewals based on any and all information received by it during the application and renewal process or otherwise, including information that may be obtained independently or from third parties.
Approved Provider Criteria and Standards for Type I and Type II Approved Providers of Play Therapy Continuing Education

Mission

The mission of the Association for Play Therapy (APT), a national professional society in the United States, is to promote the value of play, play therapy, and credentialed play therapists. To satisfy this mission, APT will advance the psycho-social development and mental health of all people through play and play therapy by promoting and supporting those programs, services, and related activities that promote the ▪ understanding and valuing of play and play therapy;

▪ effective practice of play therapy through training, research, and support; ▪ recognition, incorporation, and preservation of diversity in play therapy; and ▪ development and maintenance of a strong professional organization to accomplish these objectives.

Program Intent

The intent of the Approved Provider Program is to develop and increase play therapy competencies that improve mental health services to the most vulnerable populations, especially children, and contribute to the profession as a whole. With this aim in mind, the purpose of the Approved Provider program is to provide quality post-graduate play therapy education and training for mental health professionals that supports the mission of APT. This is accomplished by ensuring play therapy education is developed and provided using an integrative and sequential process for educational planning and provision, referred to as the “Golden Thread” approach. Education and continuing education programs not specifically applicable to the practice of play therapy but generally applicable to mental health practitioners are ineligible for play therapy credit.

APT confers play therapy credit for play therapy education and continuing education programs that are specifically applicable to play therapy practitioners that improve client care, either directly or indirectly, by demonstrating evidence of EITHER:

a. a systematic use of a therapeutic model, the establishment of an interpersonal process using the therapeutic powers of play, and intent to prevent or resolve psychosocial difficulties and/or achieve optimal growth and development; OR
b. content that enhances the specific professional proficiency of mental health practitioners who are engaged in the clinical practice of play therapy, the supervision of play therapists, or the instruction of play therapy.

APT designates individuals and organizations as Approved Providers to:

▪ protect and promote APT-approved standards of post-graduate level play therapy continuing education and training;
▪ identify play therapy training that mental health professionals can apply towards earning or renewing the Registered Play Therapist (RPT), Registered Play Therapist-Supervisor (RPT-S) or School Based-Registered Play Therapist (SB-RPT) credentials; and ▪ ensure access by play therapists to quality play therapy training opportunities.

Type of Approved Provider Designation

APT designates individuals and organizations as either Type I or Type II Approved Providers of APT-approved play therapy continuing education (or training).

Type I - Approved Providers may offer unlimited play therapy educational programs with unlimited number of continuing education credit hours within the designated approval period. There are three different approval periods awarded by APT at its discretion: 1-year, 2-year, and 5-year. Approval Period is contingent upon applicant demonstrating a solid understanding of Provider standards as outlined in the Approved Provider Criteria and Standards.

Type II - Approved Providers may offer play therapy training at one event that neither extends beyond five (5) consecutive days nor offers more than 25 hours of play therapy credit.
Application and Renewal

Application/renewal instructions, specific words and terms, and program policies are addressed in this document, the Approved Provider Criteria and Standards. To become and remain an Approved Provider of APT-approved play therapy continuing education, each applicant must complete and return an Approved Provider Application with the applicable attachments and fees to APT.

To renew your designation, observe the application instructions displayed in both the Guide and Application/Renewal Form.

Approved Provider Fees

Non-refundable Application Fees
A non-refundable Application Fee of $150 is due at time of application submission. This applies to both Type I and Type II Applications.

Type I – The Application fee covers only the review of your application to determine eligibility and length of approval period (1-, 2-, or 5-year). Incomplete applications or applications without accompanying fee will not be reviewed.

Authorization Fee
Authorization fee is determined by APT after review of the Approved Provider application with supporting documentation and is contingent upon the applicant demonstrating a solid understanding of APT Approved Provider Criteria and Standards.

Type I – Authorization fee corresponds with approval period awarded by APT.
   a. 1-year authorization fee - $125
   b. 2-year authorization fee - $225

Type of Approved Provider Designation
New Applications: Select which designation you are applying for, either Type I or Type II. Type II designation may be awarded to a Type I Applicant at the sole discretion of APT.

Renewal Applications: Please include your Approved Provider Number.

Individual or Organizational Information
Approved Providers can be Individuals or Organizations, each of whom may provide training under their legal names or fictitious “doing business as” (DBA) names.

Once approved, Approved Providers, shall use only the name or DBA submitted on the application in connection with their APT Approved Provider number. Name change requests must be sent to APT via the online form provided on the Approved Provider landing page of our website.

Applicants must document all owners, partners, shareholders, and/or program planners with interest in the organization specified in Provider Standard 01 of the application. Moreover, applicants must include whether or not these individuals ever held an APT Approved Provider designation and if so, identify the assigned APT Approved Provider number each held with APT.

APT encourages, but does not require applicants to hold or apply for continuing education sponsorship approvals from other national associations like American Psychological Association (APA), National Board of Certified Counselors (NBCC), National Association of Social Workers (NASW), American Association of Marriage and Family Therapists (AAMFT), etc.

Continuing Education Program Administrator
APT understands that the Continuing Education Program Administrator (CEPA) may or may not be a mental health professional and that one person may fulfill all roles or that such roles may be fulfilled by several people. APT assumes the individual acting as the Continuing Education Program Administrator is the person completing this application and therefore is to be contacted if problems with the application are identified.

It is the responsibility of the Continuing Education Program Administrator to uphold the following administrative aspects:

a. conduct business with APT;
b. have a working knowledge of and access to the most current Approved Provider Criteria and Standards, ensuring Approved Provider abides by the terms and conditions of the program;
c. have a copy of the most recent APT Approved Provider application, supporting materials, and decisions on file; including: Approved Provider Renewal deadlines, and Annual Report;
d. have a system in place for timely response of deadlines;
e. ensure there is a Complaint Process in place for attendees; and
f. notify APT of any pertinent change in Approved Provider’s contact information when the change occurs.

Co-Sponsorships
When co-sponsoring programs with other parties, Approved Providers are required to retain sole and ultimate responsibility for the content, quality, conduct, issuing of credit, and record-keeping of such programs.

When co-sponsoring programs, APT Approved Providers must ensure the following are met:

a. the mandatory phrase and the sponsor or co-sponsor name must be predominately displayed on all marketing materials (print and digital).
b. Approved Providers must have full access to all instructional materials presented to participants for record maintenance purposes.
c. the Program Reviewer must revise all marketing materials including but not limited to: brochures, emails, posts, mailings, and online platform publications.

It is the responsibility of the sponsoring Approved Provider to represent their Approved Provider status, APT, and the field of play therapy in a professional and ethical manner. The Approved Provider designation may be in jeopardy if APT determines that the co-sponsorship failed in a material and serious degree to observe the policies and procedures of APT.

Code of Ethics
To ensure that each play therapy continuing education program is ethically and responsibly conducted, APT requires that Approved Providers pledge that each of its programs be conducted in accordance with the Code of Ethics promulgated by the American Psychological Association, American Counseling Association, National Association of Social Workers, or the American Association of Marriage and Family Therapists. This Code is typically that promulgated by the aforementioned organization as noted in the application.

If an Approved Provider will use an unlicensed presenter, the unlicensed presenter must certify to the Approved Provider which of the foregoing Code of Ethics will be adhered to by the unlicensed presenter and such certification will be provided to APT upon request.

Hold Harmless
The Approved Provider hereby indemnifies and holds harmless APT from and against any and all claims, losses, actions, costs and expenses (including attorneys' fees) incurred by APT as a result of or arising out of:

a. the acts or omissions of the Approved Provider or its directors, officers, members, employees or presenters in the administration, presentation, the written contents or materials, or the handling of any complaint regarding any of its programs;

b. its failure to abide by the code of ethics and/or standards of practice by which its Program Reviewer and program presenters must abide, public laws and regulations, and other requirements promulgated by applicable licensing authorities;

c. any falsification or misrepresentation of information (including misleading information), by inclusion or omission on the Approved Provider’s application or supporting documents;

d. conduct by the Approved Provider or its directors, officers, employees, members, program presenters, and/or other representatives that is prejudicial to the purpose, interests, effectiveness, or image of play therapy and/or APT;

e. the use of any materials, information, pictures, or other content by the Approved Provider or its directors, officers, employees, members, program presenters, and/or other representatives that infringes on the intellectual property rights of third parties;

f. any other action or omission caused by the Approved Provider in its application or relating to its approval status.
Provider Standard 02 – Required Program Reviewer

The Required Program Reviewer (Reviewer) is an active Registered Play Therapist™ (RPT) or Registered Play Therapist-Supervisor™ (RPT-S) in good standing. The applicant may act as the Required Program Reviewer if the applicant holds a current RPT or RPT-S credential in good standing.

To ensure training quality and consistency, all programs for which play therapy continuing education is awarded must be reviewed and approved by the Reviewer. It is the responsibility of the Approved Provider to submit all trainings to the Reviewer for approval PRIOR to any marketing and advertising efforts, ensuring that program continuity is maintained throughout the process and reinforcing the “Golden Thread” approach. The Reviewer must be given ample time to review materials prior to the presentation date.

A program approved by the Reviewer, may be offered repeatedly without additional reviews, provided no changes to the program have occurred including but not limited to program length, learning objectives, presenter, content, etc.

It is the responsibility of the Required Program Reviewer to ensure the following requirements are met:

a. Program includes post-graduate educational content specific to play therapy skills, knowledge, practice, and/or supervision.

b. Learning objectives are measurable and bridge the topic back to play therapy theories, skills & methods, research, and/or best practices.

c. Program description/overview demonstrates the application of the play therapy content within the play therapy field.

d. Post test assesses applied and conceptual play therapy knowledge applicable to the field of play therapy.

e. Promotional material publicizing play therapy continuing education credit meets APT requirements. Including but not limited to: email blasts, social media posts, mailings, website landing page.

APT recommends that an agreement be negotiated between Approved Providers and Required Program Reviewers to address fees, liability, and other fundamental business relationship issues.

APT must be notified in writing of any change in Required Program Reviewer, and a new Reviewer – Attestation Form must be submitted when this type of change occurs.
Provider Standard 03 – Rationale and Process

The Approved Provider of Play Therapy Continuing Education program offers a path for the continuous acquisition of knowledge and skills through advanced and specialized post-graduate level education in the field of play therapy in order to improve professional competence, enhance the profession, and better serve the public. Therefore, APT defines post-graduate level continuing education training as advanced, focused, and scholarly in that it

a. builds upon a completed graduate mental health degree;
b. emphasizes depth of content, not just breadth, appropriately targeted for the attending audience’s existing play therapy skills and knowledge while maintaining a post-graduate level of content;
c. finds important the vital shift from current understanding to the development of new learning, which is identified through measurable educational objectives specific for play therapy practice, and facilitates critical reflections on the current knowledge and the new learning; and
d. presents educational content based upon
   1) empirically-supported, evidenced-based, peer-reviewed, research informed sources, materials, interventions, and practices;
   2) strong theoretical foundation;
   3) legal and ethical standards of professional disciplines; and
   4) best practices in play therapy defined by APT.

This section represents the essential elements necessary to offer quality post-graduate play therapy education that develops and deepens clinical competencies. Items in the Rationale and Process section are listed sequentially and represent a stepwise progression to effective program development and implementation with intentionality and integration at the root, referred to as the “Golden Thread.”

The “Golden Thread” is a metaphor commonly used in business to visually articulate the decisions, data, analytical processes, human behavior, and technology that link strategy and results. This same metaphor applies to the world of mental health, specifically continuing education, and the use of a sequential and integrative model - the “Golden Thread.”

Successful continuing education in play therapy requires the following elements as detailed in the Golden Thread Approach.

a. Needs Assessment: that is relevant, timely, applicable to the field of play therapy, and addresses the Therapeutic Powers of Play.

b. Educational Planning: grounded in seminal and/or historically significant play therapy theories, skills and methods, best practices, and applications, including:
   1) current empirically-supported, evidenced-based, peer-reviewed, research informed sources, materials, interventions and practices;
   2) the selection of instructors with a master’s degree or higher in a mental health discipline and demonstrated expertise in the program content area;
   3) measurable learning objectives written in behavioral terms that bridge the content to play therapy theories, skills and methods, techniques;
   4) the use of appropriate instructional methods for achieving those learning objectives;

c. Evaluation: that solicits feedback to inform program revisions and improvements and that measure participant learning, respectively;

d. Post test: that reflects a level of engagement and skill acquisition appropriate for post graduate level continuing education instruction;

e. Awarding of Credit: is appropriate and accurate to the awarding of credit.
Provider Standard 04 - Program Planning

Applying the “Golden Thread” metaphor from program inception (needs assessment, format, etc.) through execution (instruction, methods, evaluation, etc.) is crucial for the development, implementation, and ongoing improvement of continuing education.

Needs Assessment
Applicants must utilize a mechanism (e.g. needs assessment or scan of mental health profession or specific licensing or credentialing criteria) to determine and ensure that program content is relevant, timely, and applicable to the field of play therapy, and addressing needs, or “gaps” between current conditions and desired conditions or “wants”. The discrepancy between the current condition and wanted condition must be measured to appropriately identify the need. Specifically address how the Therapeutic Powers of Play are included in your assessment. A list of the Therapeutic Powers of Play can be found on the Approved Provider page of the APT website.

Format Delivery - Contact and Non-Contact Programs Approved Providers may offer contact or non-contact trainings. Effective January 1, 2020: contact training is defined as "in-person" instruction only. Live webinars, recorded webinars, book studies, etc. are defined as non-contact hours. APT accepts no more than eight (8) hours of CE per day towards credentialing requirements.
   a. Contact training: attendees participate in-person with a live instructor in real time.
   b. Non-Contact training: attendees participate through distance, home study, and correspondence programs (see Standard 05).

Educational Planning
Educational planning starts with program content grounded in seminal and/or historically significant play therapy theories, supported by contemporary scholarship, and demonstrated in established research that promote the therapeutic powers of play. In particular, educational content on play therapy assessment or intervention methods must demonstrate sufficient current scientific evidence.

To assure well-rounded education, Approved Providers are encouraged to offer trainings in play therapy theories, skills and methods, applications, and history as outlined in the RPT Standards. When appropriate, play therapy content that enhances multi-cultural competency is encouraged.

Approved Providers are required to integrate current research into their presentations that includes: 3-5 sources, at least three (3) of which must be published within the past five (5) years in contemporary, peer-reviewed, scientific literature and journals, that support the content of your program (no more than one may be your own).

References and citations should be documented using the most current APA Style Format.

Book study programs are exempt from the reference requirement.

Program Requirements and Recommendations
Approved Providers are encouraged to include “play therapy” in the program title. However, it is required that the term “play therapy” be included throughout the content description, abstract, and overview.

Measurable Learning Objectives
Clear learning objectives written in measurable behavioral terms (American Psychological Association, 2018) must be accessible to all participants prior to registration.

APT requires that “play therapy” be predominantly displayed in the majority of the program learning objectives.
   ▪ Single day trainings that offer three (3) or fewer CE hours should have at least three (3) learning objectives.
- Single day trainings that offer more than three (3) CE hours should have one (1) objective for each hour of instruction (with a maximum of 6).
- Multi-day trainings that offer more than eight (8) hours of CE must ensure that the number of learning objectives are appropriate to the length and content of the training program.

EXAMPLE

Workshop Description:
"This training is designed for the new play therapist in agency, private practice, and school settings who is interested in learning more about play therapy interventions and techniques. We will cover the basic rationale, philosophy, history, and theoretical concepts specific to both directive and non-directive play therapy. Participants will be introduced to the toys and materials needed to set up a play therapy room or assemble a portable play therapy kit and we will explore cultural sensitivity. The application of play therapy to various populations, limit setting and handling the unexpected will also be discussed."

EXAMPLE

Learning Objectives:
"Participants will
1. discuss both directive and non-directive play therapy.
2. identify materials needed to set up a play therapy room or assemble a portable play therapy kit.
3. explain how to set limits and handle the unexpected in the play therapy room.
4. apply play therapy interventions with children, families and groups."
Provider Standard 05 – Selection of Instructors and Instructional Methods

Approved Providers are required to utilize instructors who:
  a.  have earned a master’s or higher mental health degree;
  b.  have demonstrated expertise in the program content being presented;
  c.  include statements in their presentation materials that describe the accuracy and utility of the material being presented, the empirical basis of such, and the limitations of the content;
  d.  demonstrate multicultural competency when applicable;
  e.  observe all intellectual property rights, i.e. trade names, trademarks, service marks, and copyrights, of third parties when presenting content and in written material, including providing appropriate notice of the third party’s rights, i.e. using the symbol for trade name, trade mark or service mark or identifying the owner of copyrighted materials; and
  f.  declare any conflict of interest, competing interest, or commercial support for the CE program being presented
  g.  refrain from using the training as a promotional opportunity.

Instructional Methods
Instructional methods that actively involve the learner and enhance the attainment of knowledge should be employed. Approved Providers must identify the method and delivery of content (i.e. PowerPoint, lecture, video review, group discussion, experiential, etc.).

Program Evaluation
Approved Providers employ a program evaluation for the purpose of evaluating and improving program development and implementation, the selection of instructors, and delivery methods.

The evaluation of CE programs must:
  a.  evaluate how well each educational objective was achieved,
  b.  gather participant feedback,
  c.  assess the utility of the content being presented in the field of play therapy.

Non-Contact Programs
When providing non-contact training, Approved Providers must utilize a sufficient user ID system and a mechanism for protecting confidential and sensitive information and materials.

Additionally, A post test is required for all non-contact programs. This ensures the individual participated in and performed all work for which credit is awarded.

Post tests must be of sufficient depth to measure both applied and conceptual knowledge of the content taught. When Providers do not have an assessment method of their own, APT’s suggests 6-8 questions* per CE credit hour, with a majority written in multiple choice format.

*For workshops in excess of eight (8) hours, providers would determine the appropriate number of questions to assess participant learning.

Disclosure of Potential Conflicts of Interest
Approved Providers must have a process in place to identify and disclose any potential conflict of interest to program participants at the start of the CE program. This includes commercial support for any CE presentation, or instructor, and any other relationship that could be reasonably construed as a conflict of interest.
Provider Standard 06 – Awarding of Credit and Records Maintenance

Play therapy credit is awarded on the basis of one (1) credit per one (1) hour of instructional time only to mental health professionals. For programs where instructional time is difficult to calculate (all non-contact programs), Approved Providers must have a method for determining the number of credits to offer and rationale for this method. Field testing is recommended for determining credit hours for these types of programs. It is unethical to award credit for unearned hours.

When referring to APT approved play therapy credit hours, Approved Providers may not use the term “CEU”.

Awarding of Credit
The following items must be included on all Continuing Education Certificates (Certificates of Attendance):

a. attendee name;
b. event or program name;
c. name and credentials of presenter(s);
d. sponsor and, if applicable, co-sponsor name(s);
e. date(s);
f. city and state;
g. number of play therapy credit hours awarded (one [1] hour credit = 60 minutes);
h. designation of contact or non-contact training. If non-contact, list type of non-contact program (book study, webinar, etc.);
i. APT Approved Provider XX-XXX (mandatory phrase); and
j. if issuing one certificate for multiple trainings, list the title, date, presenter(s), and number of hours for each training on the back of the certificate.

Records Maintenance
APT requires that Approved Providers maintain this basic information for a minimum of five (5) years:

a. program title, learning objectives, and content description;
b. program presenter’s names, highest mental health degrees, and primary mental health credentials;
c. program date(s), facility name and address, city, and state;
d. summary of attendee’s program evaluations;
e. number of play therapy continuing education hours earned by attendees;
f. a list of program attendees who earned certificates of attendance; and
g. references, citations, and research used to support the presentation.

The records maintained by Approved Providers are subject to random audits by APT.
Provider Standard 07 – Quality Assurance

In order to ensure quality play therapy education is being offered, APT utilizes Annual Activity Reports and Audits of Approved Providers.

Annual Activity Report
At the end of each calendar year, all Type I Approved Providers are required to complete and submit an “Annual Activity Report.” This report is required even in the event that no play therapy CE was offered during the past year.

This report will be provided to you and should document all play therapy trainings held during the twelve (12) prior months. An Excel spreadsheet is recommended to track trainings throughout the calendar year. Late or incomplete/inaccurate submissions may put your provider designation in jeopardy.

Audit
Approved Providers are randomly audited by APT each year. If selected, you will be asked to provide copies of relevant records and materials, the name of the required Program Reviewer who reviewed and approved programs prior to their presentation, and by which Code of Ethics each program was conducted, and any other material or documents APT deems relevant to conduct the audit.

Special audits may be conducted when specific concerns are identified by or brought to the attention of APT.
Provider Standard 08 – Marketing and Promotion

APT strictly enforces the mandatory phrase policy, and does not confer credit for trainings that fail to display either of the two identification methods referenced below.

Identification Method 1
Include the mandatory phrase verbatim “APT Approved Provider XX-XXX” on all play therapy marketing materials (!print and digital).

Identification Method 2
Include the official Approved Provider logo with the assigned Approved Provider number located directly below the logo.

Additionally, Approved Providers must establish, observe, and make public policies regarding program cancellations, whole or partial registration fee refunds, and resolution of attendee complaints.

CE marketing materials (print and digital) must contain accurate and complete information for program participants and include the following:

- event or program name;
- sponsor and, if applicable, co-sponsor name(s);
- date(s);
- number of contact or non-contact play therapy credit hours (one [1] hour credit = 60 minutes);
- content description;
- behavioral learning objectives;
- event or program schedule (starting and ending times for each activity including registration, breaks, meals, and other activities). APT will only accept a maximum of 8 hours per day;
- facility name, address, city, and state;
- cite brief cancellation and refund policy;
- program presenter(s) (include name, highest mental health degree, and primary mental health credentials for each presenter);
- APT Approved Provider XX-XXX (mandatory phrase); and
- when offering trainings to individuals across multiple disciplines include the following statement, “Play therapy credit may not be awarded to non-mental health professionals.”

APT approves individual Approved Providers not play therapy continuing education programs. Using statements that guarantee APT will accept all play therapy training hours is not permitted. Refrain from using the words “certified” or “accredited” when promoting your Approved Provider designation.

Failure to adhere to all of the above listed requirements may put your Approved Provider status in jeopardy.

Program Promotion
It is the responsibility of the Approved Provider to represent their Approved Provider status, APT, and the field of play therapy in a professional and ethical manner. Approved Provider designation may be terminated if APT determines that the Approved Provider has failed in a material and serious degree to observe the policies and procedures of APT, engaged in conduct materially and seriously prejudicial to the purpose, interests, and image of APT, or committed a felony or other serious crime.
Appendix I – Application Denial, Complaints, and Appeals

Denial of Applications
If your Approved Provider application is not approved by the APT Continuing Education Coordinator, you may submit a written appeal that clearly and concisely states your rationale for approval to the APT President/CEO. The latter may consult the APT Registration and Continuing Education Committee, its chair or a subcommittee thereof, or the APT Board of Directors or its Chair. The decision of the President/CEO is final.

Basis for Probation, Suspension, or Revocation
APT may deny, place on probation, suspend, or revoke an Approved Provider designation if the Approved Provider:

a. Has a disciplinary action taken against it or its presenter(s) by a licensing authority or professional society, or the Approved Provider or one of its presenters fails to comply with the Code of Ethics identified by the Approved Provider (or the presenter as being the applicable Code of Ethics), in a manner relevant as determined by APT.
b. Offers play therapy credit for programs that do not comply with post-graduate level play therapy continuing education program specifications outlined in Provider Standard 03 – Rationale and Process.
c. Utilizes program presenters who do not meet the criteria specified in Provider Standard 05 – Selection of Instructors and Instructional Methods.
d. Fails to obtain advance program approval by the Required Program Reviewer.
e. Is, or its representatives or program presenters are, convicted of a serious crime related to the provision of mental health services or the provision of continuing education programs, or a crime that would adversely affect the public credibility of play therapy or reputation of APT;
f. Provides false, misrepresentative, or misleading, by inclusion or omission, information on its initial or renewal Approved Provider application or any supporting documents;
g. Fails to regularly display the mandatory phrase - APT Approved Provider XX-XXX - on all program marketing materials (print and digital) and certificates of attendance;
h. Has an adverse resolution to a written complaint filed with APT by a complainant or initiated by APT regarding the quality of or treatment received at a program;
i. Aids or engages in any conduct that is prejudicial to the purpose, interests, effectiveness, reputation, or image of the play therapy profession and/or APT;
j. Has adverse action taken pursuant to any policy or procedure adopted by APT from time to time; or
k. Is deemed by APT to have committed an act or omission of dishonesty, ethical or moral turpitude, abused or caused injury or harm to others, or otherwise tarnished, or engaged in activities that APT in its sole discretion determines could tarnish, the image, reputation, or reflect poorly upon the field of play therapy, APT, or the general play therapy community.

Complaints and Appeals
Complaints against an Approved Provider should first be filed with the Approved Provider. If satisfaction is not obtained or the situation is one in which the Approved Provider cannot provide restitution or resolution, complainants may file a confidential written complaint against an Approved Provider with the APT Continuing Education Coordinator regarding activities of the Approved Provider when conducting programs as a designated Approved Provider.

a. Within 10 days after receipt of the written complaint, the APT Continuing Education Coordinator will confidentially share a copy of the written complaint with and solicit a written response from the Approved Provider.
b. If a written response is not received from the Approved Provider within 10 days, the APT Continuing Education Coordinator will render a written resolution to the Complainant and Approved Provider regarding the continued designation of the latter. This resolution is final.
c. If, however, a confidential written response is received within 10 days from the Approved Provider, the APT Continuing Education Coordinator will render a written resolution to both the Complainant and Approved Provider regarding the continued designation of the latter. The APT Continuing Education Coordinator may solicit additional information from the Complainant, Approved Provider, or both prior to rendering a resolution.
d. Within 10 days of the resolution rendered by the APT Continuing Education Coordinator, the Complainant or Approved Provider may file a written appeal to the President/CEO.

e. Within 10 days after receipt of the written appeal, the President/CEO will share a copy of the written appeal with and solicit a written response from either the Complainant or Approved Provider, as applicable, regarding the continued designation of the latter.

f. If a written response is not received from the Complainant or Approved Provider as applicable within 10 days, the President/CEO will render a written resolution to the Complainant and Approved Provider regarding the continued designation of the latter. This resolution is final.

g. If, however, a written response is received within 10 days from the Complainant or Approved Provider as applicable, the President/CEO will render a written resolution to the Complainant and Approved Provider regarding the continued designation of the latter. The President/CEO will first review the appeal and all relevant information and may consult the Complainant, Approved Provider, APT Registration and Continuing Education Committee, its chair or a subcommittee thereof, or the APT Board of Directors or its Chair, or other relevant parties. This resolution is final.

h. Probable resolutions are that Approved Provider designation is:
   1) Continued;
   2) Placed on probation for six (6) or 12 months with all rights and privileges;
   3) Temporarily suspended for six (6) or 12 months without any rights and privileges; or
   4) Permanently revoked; or
   5) A combination of more than one of the above.

i. If the resolution is any of items 2-5 of subsection (i), it will be published by APT.

j. If the resolution is any of items 2-5 of subsection (i), APT may, in its sole discretion, file a formal complaint with the appropriate licensing board of Approved Provider, Program Reviewer, presenter or all of the foregoing.
