

Rick Russell is Chief Operating Officer at Neal R. Gross & Co., a national court reporting and transcribing company located in Washington, DC. He joined the company in 1980 as an administrative assistant and part-time electronic court reporter and for the next 35 years has been involved in all aspects of the court reporting and transcribing business.

Rick has a BA in Political Science and Economics from Colgate University and an MBA in Finance from George Washington University.

Rick has been a member of AAERT since 1995 and over the years has worked on many projects for the Government Relations Committee. In 2010 he joined the Board of Directors and since that time has also been serving as Chair of the Government Relations Committee. During the past two years Rick has also been Treasurer of the Association.