Connect with Your

Home Care Medicine Colleagues

Reception with Innovators in the Field

This is your opportunity to connect with AAHCM leaders, including the board of directors, as well as your fellow home-based primary care colleagues in a relaxed and informal setting. You'll have the opportunity to meet innovators in home care medicine, industry leaders, and poster presenters to hear about the work they're doing in the field.

Small-Group Networking Sessions

Get together in small, topic-specific groups to network and discuss challenges and potential solutions. Groups will be arranged by topic of interest and will be moderated.

Interactive Exhibit Floor

Connect with more than 25 industry vendors in home care medicine.

CHICAGO

More than 50 million visitors come to Chicago each year to enjoy endless options for dining, music, culture, and fun. The AAHCM Annual Meeting is located in Rosemont, IL, which is adjacent to Chicago, and a quick "L" train ride to all that the city has to offer.

The role of home-based primary care (HBPC) is growing as more providers and patients recognize its unique clinical and financial benefits. Especially with the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services' Independence at Home Demonstration, HBPC is primed to address the growing needs of an aging population and rapidly rising healthcare costs.

Since 1984, AAHCM has been serving healthcare professionals who deliver or manage comprehensive primary care services to patients in the home by removing barriers, setting standards, providing education, and fostering the development of legislation to facilitate growth.

Build your career while also building up the field by becoming an AAHCM member.

Preconference Sessions*

Presented by the Home Centered Care Institute (HCCI), this year's preconference sessions will explore the challenges faced and opportunities presented for caring for complex patients in the home. Learn solutions to the everyday challenges of this patient population and leave with actionable tools you can immediately put into practice when you return to work.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 25

Care of the Complex Patient in the Home... Staying Ahead of the Curve

9 am–Noon, Clinical Session

You'll leave this session with insights into advance care planning/prognostication, care coordination and transitions of care, caregiver support, medication management, and wound care that can be used in the care of homebound patients and their caregivers.

1–4 pm, Practice Management Session

You'll leave this session with tips for enhancing your revenue cycle through current fee-for-service billing opportunities, value-based contracting, and best practices for staffing models and workflow.

Take the clinical session, the practice management session, or both! But hurry, space is limited. Register today!

An additional fee is required for these sessions.*

Keynote Speakers:

Patrick Conway, MD MSc

Dr. Conway is president and CEO of BlueCross BlueShield of North Carolina and a driving force behind the national movement to value-based care, tying healthcare payments to quality and innovation.

Cheryl A. Phillips, MD AGSF

Dr. Phillips is president and CEO of the Special Needs Plans Alliance, a national leadership association for special needs and Medicare-Medicaid plans serving vulnerable adults.
