American Academy of Home Care Medicine Welcomes President Elect Theresa Soriano, MD MPH

Chicago (November 1, 2017): The American Academy of Home Care Medicine (AAHCM) has elected Dr. Theresa Soriano, MD MPH, to serve on the board of directors as president elect. Dr. Soriano recently took office at the AAHCM Annual Meeting, held October 13-14, 2017, in Rosemont, IL

Dr. Soriano is a board-certified internist and professor of medicine, geriatrics, and palliative medicine at Mount Sinai in New York City, where she was a long-time director and continues to see patients in the Mount Sinai Visiting Doctors Program. She earned her doctorate from Mount Sinai School of Medicine, New York, NY in 2001 and completed her residency in internal medicine at the University of Miami–Jackson Memorial Hospital. Currently senior vice president of care transitions & population health at Mount Sinai St. Luke's, Dr. Soriano is working towards improving interdisciplinary care and communication between her hospital and the surrounding community.

Under Dr. Soriano's leadership, the Mount Sinai Visiting Doctors Program has grown multifold in size and reputation to become one of the country's premier academic home-based medical care practices, respected for its educational mission, interdisciplinary model, and clinical innovations. Dr. Soriano has received numerous awards and honors for her work and her research has been published in several prominent medical journals.

Dr. Soriano has been active in the Academy for more than a decade, serving on multiple committees including the Annual Meeting Planning Committee and the Annual Awards Committee. She has also previously served on the AAHCM Board of Directors before becoming president-elect.

AAHCM

AAHCM is a professional organization serving the needs of thousands of physicians and related professionals and agencies interested in improving care of patients in the home. AAHCM delivers on the promise of interdisciplinary, high value health care in the home for all people in need by promoting the art, science and practice of home care medicine. The AAHCM membership is comprised of physicians, medical directors, nurse practitioners, physician's assistants, registered nurses, social workers, practice administrators, and residents/students working in the field of home care medicine.
