The AAHFN Content Integrity

- Slide content is the speaker’s personal material and not part of any commercial company or entity presentation.
- No logos of Commercial Interest Organizations (i.e. pharma or device)
- No product advertisement/promotion/mention
- The slides do not direct attendees to visit a booth or other
- The content included is for the benefit of nursing practice and/or patients; it was not developed to promote any company or product.
- Generic names will be used to the extent possible when discussing specific health care products or services. If the use of trade names is required, trade names from several companies when available will be used, and not just trade names from any single company. The mention of any product or company names by the speaker is for educational purposes only and not an endorsement of any product or company by the AAHFN.
- Permissions were obtained for the use of any pictures or other previously published material.
- All slides and materials used as a part of this activity adhere to HIPAA regulations.
- The presentation is fair and balanced, and evidence-based where possible.
- The presenter’s disclosure information is on the following slide.
