Profiles of Excellence Awards Honorees Announced by AAMSE

August 2024 - The American Association of Medical Society Executives (AAMSE) recently recognized medical societies for their contributions to medical society management through their annual Profiles of Excellence (PoE) Awards program. The PoE Awards recognize organizations for their efforts that advance the field of organized medicine and improve the lives of physicians and the patients they serve.

"It is an honor to recognize the contributions of so many remarkable individuals and organizations who are innovating to best advance the profession and support their physician members. We can all learn from their example. Congratulations to this year's AAMSE POE winners!" said Catherine Johannesen, President of AAMSE.

A judging panel consisting of AAMSE members reviewed submissions and awarded recipients for excellence in six areas of medical society management: advocacy, communications, diversity, equity, and inclusion, education, leadership, and membership.

The 2024 Honorees are:
