Welcome to the 103rd AATSP Annual Conference.
We are thrilled to be in the great city of Atlanta, Georgia, for the first time in AATSP history!

ABOUT US
The American Association of Teachers of Spanish and Portuguese (AATSP) promotes the study and teaching of the Spanish and Portuguese languages and their corresponding Hispanic, Luso-Brazilian and other related literatures and cultures at all levels of education.

WELCOME TO ATLANTA
Thank you to William Pate, President and CEO of Atlanta Convention & Visitors Bureau and Pat McCoy, President of The Foreign Language Association of Georgia for their warm welcome to Atlanta. To read their complete welcome letters that include an invitation to visit world-class attractions and other entertainment experiences, visit the AATSP website (aatsp.org).

MESSAGES FROM THE AATSP PRESIDENT AND EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR
Thank you to President, Maritza Sloan and Executive Director, Sheri Spaine Long for their welcome messages to conference attendees. Visit the AATSP website (aatsp.org) to read their welcome statements that include conference highlights.

CODE OF CONDUCT
When joining the American Association of Teachers of Spanish and Portuguese (AATSP) or participating in an AATSP event, members agree to comply with the rules and guidelines set forth by the Association. The AATSP is committed to providing an inclusive and harassment-free environment for everyone. To read the complete Code of Conduct, visit the AATSP website (aatsp.org).

EARN CONTINUING EDUCATION UNITS OF CREDITS
For attendees seeking Continuing Education Units of Credits, the AATSP will provide forms for documentation of attendance at individual session and workshops. Attendees MUST complete the AATSP Conference Workshop/Session Attendance form. The forms are available at the Registration Desk and should be picked up BEFORE the sessions.

Reminder: It is the responsibility of attendees to contact their district BEFORE the conference to determine necessary measures to fulfill their district professional development requirements and to receive approval for conference participation.

NEW YORK ONLY
The AATSP Annual Conference is a Continuing Teacher and Leader Education (CTLE) approved sponsor for New York Teachers. To obtain your signed certificate, bring your signatures from all session/workshop attended with the actual number of hours clocked.

USING CHOICE BOARDS AS FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT TOOLS

Presenter: Linda Villadóniga, Retired, Maria Villadóniga, Inc, Educational Consultant, St. Augustine, FL
Audience Level: Secondary (9-12)

Choice boards in Spanish class are a great way to provide options for your Spanish students! They can be used as a way of differentiating homework, as an in-class assignment, and as a weekly or quarterly formative assessment. This workshop will help you create great choiceboards, show you how to use them, and keep students engaged in learning. Handouts will be available.

004
Thursday, July 8, 2021 | 8:30am-9:15am | International 3

¿TRANSLANGUAGING EN LA CLASE DE ELE? RETOS, TRANSGRESIONES Y POSIBILIDADES

Presenters: Claudia Woodard, San Diego State University, San Diego, CA; Alfredo Urzúa, San Diego State University, San Diego, CA; Gisselle Velarde, San Diego State University, San Diego, CA
Audience Level: Community College, Higher Ed

En esta sesión, se considera la relevancia de translanguaging (García y Wei, 2014) en la enseñanza de lenguas, centrándose en el uso integral, fluido y estratégico de la L1 y la L2 para desarrollar la lengua meta, cuestionando así prácticas pedagógicas tradicionales. Los ponentes ilustran el potencial de translanguaging en cursos de español, de nivel principiante e intermedio, a través de actividades basadas en tareas cuyo fin es facilitar interacciones colaborativas que expandan la competencia comunicativa de los estudiantes.

005
Thursday, July 8, 2021 | 8:30am-9:15am | International A

ENGAGING DIVERSE TEACHERS AND STUDENTS FOR A DIVERSE WORLD

Presenter: Jessica Burns, The Weiss School, Palm Beach Gardens, FL
Audience Level: Middle/Junior, Secondary (9-12)

The importance of learning a foreign language should be based on innovative strategies that can allow educators to go beyond the confinements of a classroom. This session offers an innovative approach on how meaningful and memorable learning experiences can provide educators the tools to encourage the application of the target language in realistic scenarios. It will also provide educators opportunities to explore the relevance of learning a foreign language by finding ways to contribute at local, national, and international levels.

006
Thursday, July 8, 2021 | 8:30am-9:15am | International B

LA DIVERSIDAD Y LA JUSTICIA SOCIAL EN EL AULA: ABRIENDO UN ESPACIO A LA AFRODESCENDENCIA

Presenters: Rosa Bell, James Campbell High School, Ewa Beach, HI; Kevin Sledge, Waipahu High School, Waipahu, HI
Audience Level: Secondary (9-12)

Los presentadores de esta sesión compartirán las estrategias que utilizan para enseñar teniendo en cuenta la justicia social y la representación, en particular en lo que respecta a los afrodescendientes. Los participantes obtendrán una diversificación de herramientas prácticas que podrían usar en sus clases inmediatamente y con poco esfuerzo, incluyendo los diferentes niveles del español o del grupo demográfico en el cual enseñan.

Thursday, July 8, 2021 | 8:30am-9:15am | M101
FOSTERING COMMUNITY IN ONLINE LANGUAGE CLASSES: BUILDING RELATIONSHIPS THROUGH DISCUSSION
Presenter: Rachel Knighten, Lane Community College, Eugene, OR
Audience Level: Community College, Higher Ed
Developing a class community is a unique challenge in online language courses. This session will show how the presenter uses discussion boards to foster student-to-student interaction in order to create community in introductory-level, asynchronous, and online classes. The presenter will explain the philosophy that underlies their use of discussion boards, provide examples of successful topics, and share the evaluation tool.

Thursday, July 8, 2021 | 8:30am-9:15am | M102
HIGH SCHOOL TO CAREER: 12TH GRADE WORKPLACE SPANISH FOR MEDICAL INTERPRETING
Presenters: Maria Salazar, Fulton County Schools, Atlanta, GA
Audience Level: Secondary (9-12)
In Fulton County (Atlanta) Schools, we have developed a curriculum pathway to prepare students for a career in Spanish medical interpreting. This innovative program, delivered by a certified interpreter, was designed to ensure heritage speakers of Spanish have met all requirements and are ready to engage in certification testing for medical interpreting before high school graduation. This session will address the components of this program in which we provide ample opportunities for practice and expose students to the real-world environment of medical interpreting.

Thursday, July 8, 2021 | 8:30am-9:15am | M103
FROM FOLK TO FICTION: GAUCHITO GIL AS ICON OF HOMO SACER IN MARIANA ENRÍQUEZ’S “EL CHICO SUCIO”
Presenter: Heath Wing, North Dakota State University, Fargo, ND
Audience Level: Higher Ed
Mariana Enríquez’s short stories often create intertextuality between oral folk traditions and seemingly real-life stories taken from the headlines of a newsreel. In doing so, Enríquez captures a sense of fantastical horror in her fiction. This is evident in “El chico sucio”, in which the story of folk saint Gauchito Gil serves as backdrop to urban violence taking place at the narrative’s forefront. Gauchito Gil’s presence ultimately functions as a marker of modernity’s terrifying biopolitical subject whose killing is considered neither homicide nor sacrifice.

Thursday, July 8, 2021 | 8:30am-9:15am | M104
TEACHING SPANISH AND PORTUGUESE TO HERITAGE LANGUAGE LEARNERS AT UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO
Presenters: Ana Maria Lima, University of Chicago, Chicago, IL; Lidwina Van den Hout, University of Chicago, Chicago, IL
Audience Level: Community College, Higher Ed
This session will discuss how problems and advantages of heritage language learners are addressed at the University of Chicago. It will present a redesigned program that is being used as a template in intermediate-level Portuguese and Spanish classes. Through the use of parallel and differentiated approach and using the strength of both categories for the benefit of the entire group, this method uses formative writing assessments, online videos, student created videos, interactive task-based activities, and student portfolios to reach course objectives.

ÉXITOS DE LA SOCIEDAD HONORARIA HISPÁNICA – ¡COMPARTAMOS!
Presenter: Kelly Scheetz, Sociedad Honoraria Hispánica, Franklin, TN
Audience Level: Secondary (9-12)
Whether you are a seasoned SHH sponsor or just beginning to think about starting a chapter of the honor society for high school students of Spanish and Portuguese, you will want to attend this session. Current sponsors and SHH Advisory Board members will share successes from their own chapters. Award-winning ideas will be presented and sponsors are invited to share ideas for activities and methods for developing successful chapters.

RAPPORT IN THE FL CLASSROOM: FROM IN-PERSON TO ONLINE IN TIMES OF PANDEMIC

Presenter: Shayna Katz, University of Hawaii at Manoa, Kailua, HI

Audience Level: Community College, Higher Ed

The impact of interaction between the teacher and students on the development of positive relationships in the FL classroom are explored, one that transitioned from face-to-face (F2F) to online due to the COVID-19 pandemic. The results reveal an important relationship between the F2F classroom, feedback, and the perception of a positive teacher-student relationship, as well as between personal thematic discourse and the student-student relationship. To conclude, pedagogical implications are suggested that can be applied to both the F2F and online environments.

FORMACIÓN DE PROFESORES DE PORTUGUÉS EN MODALIDAD VIRTUAL: EL DESAFÍO DE FORMAR DOCENTES INCLUSIVOS Y CRÍTICOS

Presenter: Natalia Ricciardi, Universidad Nacional de Rosario, Santa Fe, Argentina

Audience Level: Community College

En 2020, las circunstancias inusuales de aislamiento social obligatorio llevaron a rediseñar las propuestas pedagógicas para la formación de profesores a través de la modalidad virtual en el profesorado universitario de portugués de Rosario, Argentina. Asumimos entonces una pedagogía crítica (Freire, 1996) reconociendo el carácter necesariamente político de la educación y la tecnología (Cobo, 2016). Serán presentadas técnicas implementadas para formar profesores de portugués capaces de adaptar propuestas que garanticen la inclusión y el uso crítico de las TIC.

EL FUTURO DEL SSP: LOS PUESTOS DE TRABAJO, EL MUNDO VIRTUAL Y NUEVAS ESTRATEGIAS DE RECLUTAMIENTOS

Presenters: Megan Myers, Iowa State University, Ames, IA; Carolina Rodríguez Tsouroukdissian, University of Alabama at Birmingham, Birmingham, AL; Diana Ruggiero, University of Memphis, Memphis, TN

Audience Level: Community College, Higher Ed

Este panel está centrado en el futuro de Spanish for Specific Purposes (SSP). Las tres panelistas actualmente están involucradas en programas de SSP/LSP y enseñan varios cursos incluyendo Español para los negocios, Español para profesionales en medicina y otros. Específicamente, van a hablar de los recursos de OER (Open Educational Resources) para programas de SSP, la conversión de una clase de español médico al formato virtual con miras a reclutar más estudiantes y la creación de cursos para Medicina e interpretación médica.

INDIGENOUS AMERICA IN THE TEACHING OF LANGUAGE AND CULTURE

Presenters: Anne Fountain, San José State University, San José, CA; Alice Miano, Stanford University, Palo Alto, CA

Audience Level: Secondary (9-12), Community College

Two teachers give practical ideas for incorporating indigenous languages and cultures of the Americas in Spanish classes. The session includes creative ways to teach about October 12th, now often called Indigenous Peoples’ Day; how indigenous languages coexist with and affect Spanish; how paper bills, coins, and stamps can provide teachable moments; and what free and accessible digital resources can offer. Handouts are shared with easy to implement ideas and digital links to resources.

Audience Level: Community College, Higher Ed

The 55% decrease in enrollment in Spanish programs (MLA 2019) and the enrollment gender gap, with a ratio of 4 women to 1 man in the Spanish classroom (Chávez 2001), warrant a thorough examination of language learners’ demographic variables (Brantmeier et al. 2019). Thus, this study attempts to explore language learners’ awareness, beliefs, and attitudes toward listening, speaking, reading, and writing by gender across advanced Spanish courses. Corresponding implications for teaching and enrollment at the advanced levels will be addressed in this presentation.

WAYS TO INTEGRATE GLOBAL HEALTH INTO WORLD LANGUAGE CURRICULUM

Presenter: Joan Clifford, Duke University, Durham, NC

Audience Level: Higher Ed

Many educators discuss family, homes, and traditions in their world language classrooms. Have you considered re-orienting the conversation and basing it around social determinants of health by studying how place and behavior affect quality of life? This approach allows the inclusion of topics like access to education and health care, transportation, public safety, and pollution. This session will show how developing an interdisciplinary narrative provides a focused way to deepen the world language curriculum and incorporate the study of social inequities.

Presenter: Maia Lamarque, Texas A&M University-Commerce, Rockwall, TX

Audience Level: Community College, Higher Ed

Un estudio etno poético de la Cenicienta en España como paradigma del Otro. El libro explora 42 versiones de Cenicienta en España. En ellas, se analizan los motivos del cuento en torno al Zeitgeist y a su condición metonímica. Cenicienta es la historia más contada en la historia de la humanidad apareciendo la primera versión alrededor de 900 años AC. Este estudio examina el componente ético-social de la historia en el análisis de 42 versiones españolas en diálogo con la versión medieval hasta reescrituras del siglo XXI, por ejemplo, la Cenicienta gay.

STUDENTS’ PERSPECTIVES ON TOOLS TO PROMOTE LEARNER ENGAGEMENT IN THE VIRTUAL LANGUAGE CLASSROOM: WHAT REALLY WORKS?

Presenters: Andie Anderson, University of Cincinnati, Cincinnati, OH; Jennifer Vojtko Rubí, University of Cincinnati, Cincinnati, OH

Audience Level: Community College, Higher Ed

As courses that are normally taught face-to-face have moved online due to the COVID-19 pandemic, instructors have struggled to keep students engaged in class. Fortunately, a variety of resources are available to promote student engagement online. But which of these tools and resources do students find effective in a virtual language class? This presentation focuses on the valuable perspectives of students about the resources available in online synchronous sections of basic Spanish. These results can guide instructors in their resource use in future virtual courses.

PORTUGUESE TILES: A PROJECT-BASED LEARNING EXPERIENCE

Presenters: Renato Alvim, California State University, Turlock, CA; Silvia Ramos Sollai, University of Florida, Homestead, FL

Audience Level: Community College, Higher Ed

This presentation will exemplify how project-based learning (PBL) and instruction and learning can be successfully implemented in a World Language (WL) Portuguese class through a series of activities that culminate with students creating their own Portuguese style tiles. WL reflects the five Cs relevance in learner-centered and proficiency-oriented instruction (Katradis, Fox, Tian, 2017). Results show experiential learning is central for capacity building; however, implementing intercultural communication and global competence skills is still debatable.

Montañas, sierras, valles, bosques, lagos, desiertos, salares, estepas, costas, selvas, glaciares, ríos y saltos de agua. Junto a su increíble flora y fauna, invitan a vivir experiencias irresistibles. Son lugares donde es posible conectarse con el entorno, respirar aire fresco y recorrer paisajes únicos con conciencia y respeto por el ambiente y la cultura local. Breve recorrido por Parques Nacionales y las áreas protegidas de Argentina del Sur argentino y Provincia de Buenos Aires.
This study analyzes the significance of Romance languages as a pathway to multilingualism in the 21st century in the United States and especially at the US Air Force Academy (USAFA). According to several studies, over 41 million people in the US speak a Romance language in the home. As a result, administrators and educators can take advantage of and capitalize on bilingual students in our programs. Awareness is imperative to recruit and maximize their linguistic and cultural skills, in particular the Spanish-speakers.

This panel aborda el tema la instrucción dirigida a hablantes de español que hablan la lengua como parte de su herencia cultural. Con la experiencia acumulada a través de los años, se desarrollarán los siguientes temas: adaptación e integración del hispano al sistema educativo anglosajón, perfiles lingüísticos de los hispanos y norma para la evaluación académica, desarrollo de la competencia lingüística de los hispanos para y por la literacidad y las nuevas tecnologías como recursos mediadores y potenciadores de la competencia lingüística.

Chair and Presenter 1: Las nuevas tecnologías como recursos mediadores y potenciadores de la competencia lingüística

LA METACOGNICIÓN EN EL DESARROLLO DE LAS ESTRATEGIAS COMUNICATIVAS EN ESTUDIANTES AVANZADOS DE ESPAÑOL COMO L2

Presenter: Leiry Cipamocha Moncaleano, University of Minnesota, Twin Cities, MN

Audience Level: Community College, Higher Ed

La investigación desarrolla las estrategias comunicativas (EC) (Dörnyei & Thurrell 1991) en estudiantes de ELE. Con el uso de los escenarios (Di Pietro 1994) se dan recursos a los estudiantes de la competencia comunicativa (Savignon 1997) para mejorar sus habilidades de comunicación interpersonal (ACTFL 2015). Se trabaja la cognición de las EC creando un aprendizaje continuo (Swain et al. 2009). Con un uso reflexivo y práctico, los estudiantes trabajan la metaconsciencia para ser capaces de conocer y reconocer las EC al usarlas de forma acertada, constante y consciente.

SMALL PRE-PLANNING ORAL TASKS ENCOURAGE SPEAKING IN BEGINNING SPANISH ONLINE STUDENTS

Presenter: Guadalupe Madrid, South Georgia State College, Douglas, GA

Audience Level: Community College, Higher Ed

Many questions about oral production came out when I started teaching Spanish in online classes due to the loss of face-to-face contact with the students. To solve the concern about how to promote oral presentation in online classes and based in previous studies, I designed a modality as a small pre-planning task which follow the sequence of pre-planning and oral presentation in a video recording.

SERVICE-LEARNING IN THE GRAMMAR CLASSROOM: FOSTERING DIVERSITY, RECIPROCITY, AND REFLECTION THROUGH SPANISH TRANSLATION
Presenter: Xabier Granja, The University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa, AL
Audience Level: Community College, Higher Ed
This study explores how service-learning translation can remove the focus on the self and enable foreign language students to move beyond their roles as language learners. It shows how students can cultivate solidarity through encounters with alternate senses of realities and disparities within their own community, even when face-to-face communication is hindered, and a remote workflow is necessary. It demonstrates students’ increase in their ability to engage and offers strategies to adapt an existing traditional Spanish course to include a service-learning component.

Presenters: Patricia MacGregor-Mendoza, New Mexico State University, Las Cruces, NM; Gabriela Moreno, New Mexico State University, Las Cruces, NM; Jeffrey Longwell, New Mexico State University, Las Cruces, NM

Audience Level: Secondary (9-12), Higher Ed

Scholars acknowledge that there is a dearth of SHL/SNS reading research as well as an overemphasis on texts and tasks that are more formal in nature to measure reading abilities. Formal literary passages underestimate the linguistic repertoire and literacy skills of SHL/SNS learners. This presentation will illustrate how non-traditional reading passages that emphasize authentic language use can be used to differentiate between SHL/SNS and L2 learners and reveal ranges of literacy skills of both SHL/SNS learners and L2 learners within their respective groups.

THE EFFECTS OF SUSTAINED SILENT READING (SSR) IN SECOND LANGUAGE ACQUISITION: CLASSROOM EXPERIENCES AND ACCOUNTABILITY

Presenter: Diana Cristina Williams, Waipahu High School, Honolulu, HI

Audience Level: Middle/Junior, Secondary (9-12)

Research indicates the power of Sustained Silent Reading (SSR) in second language acquisition. An SSR program can increase reading fluency; still, there are some questions. What kind of accountability is necessary so students grow in their proficiency and meet their learning targets? We explore an SSR Program at the novice low-high levels using different levels of accountability while tracking growth in reading comprehension and speed. For novice mid-high students, tracking individual progress between SSR and other reading activities in an online setting took priority.

This session will discuss lessons learned after interviewing Puerto Rican Luis Rafael Sánchez about his most famous novel, La guaracha del Macho Camacho. This boom novelist and playwright has lessons to teach regarding language, life in Puerto Rico, and love. His use of both the Spanish and English languages in La guaracha is innovative for its time. Life in Puerto Rico is historically, socially, and politically criticized in this novel. And finally, other lessons to be learned are about the love of music, mass media, cultural identity, and much more.

PORTUGUÊS COMO LÍNGUA ADICIONAL PARA HISPANO-FALANTES: UMA PROPOSTA DE EDUCAÇÃO SOB AS LENTES CRÍTICAS E INTERCULTURAIS

Presenter: Michele Saraiva Carilo, The Ohio State University, Columbus, OH

Audience Level: Higher Ed

A Pedagogia Crítica (PC) e a Pedagogia Intercultural (PI), aplicadas à educação de línguas adicionais, promovem a atualização das noções de língua, linguagem, competência e cultura para além dos propósitos comunicativos visando a formação de agentes sociais cosmopolitas. No ano acadêmico 2020-21, a sequência de Português para Hispano-falantes em contexto de ensino superior foi criada tendo PC e PI como construto teórico-pedagógico. Competências comunicativas e crítico-interculturais foram avaliadas quanto à contribuição para o desenvolvimento da proficiência na língua.

SPECTERS IN SOUTHERN CONE LITERATURE: RECONFIGURING THE PAST AND THE PRESENT

Presenter: Aviva Kana, The Nueva School, San Mateo, CA

Audience Level: Community College, Higher Ed

This presentation analyzes how Chilean and Argentine literature uses ghosts from dictatorial pasts to disrupt state narratives in the 21st century. Pola Oloixarac’s Las teorías salvajes, Félix Bruzzone’s Los topos, and Nona Fernández’s Space Invaders all use spectral figures to re-imagine the way the past connects to the present. I rely on theorists such as Nelly Richard, Marianne Hirsch, and Rosi Braidotti to show how these ghosts, through their critique of state narratives, also present new ideas for a future that hovers on the thin line between utopia and dystopia.

REALLY TEACHING WORD ORDER IN THE CLASSROOM: WHY AND HOW
Presenter: Luis González, Wake Forest University, Winston-Salem, NC
Audience Level: Secondary (9-12), Higher Ed
Word-order theories are based on subject and direct object (DO). The putative orders are SVO, OVS, VOS, VSO, etc. There are problems with that. If taxes increased, “taxes” is an underlying DO, but a surface subject. In a computation of the frequency of los impuestos aumentaron vs. aumentaron los impuestos, is impuestos computed as SV or VS? Or as OV or VO? If instead of computing subject and DO, speakers are computing verber and verbed (González 2021), the answer is clear. This presentation will discuss word orders that can be used in the classroom, why, and how.

TEACHING SPANISH CONVERSATION SKILLS THROUGH PODCASTS
Presenter: Brianne Stambaugh, Covenant College, Lookout Mountain, GA
Audience Level: Community College, Higher Ed
Given that advances in technology are affecting the ways in which students interact in the target language, language teachers must continue to address how technology can be used to enhance our teaching methodologies. This presentation will explore how podcasts were used in an Advanced Spanish Conversation course to encourage students to interact with others while also working together to gain linguistic and cultural knowledge. Example assignments, rubrics, and students’ responses to the activities will be provided to session attendees.

THE IMPORTANCE OF SCAFFOLDED INTERACTION IN MEDICAL SPANISH COURSES DESIGNED FOR STEM STUDENTS – APPLIED IN AT-HOME COURSES AND A STUDY ABROAD PROGRAM
Presenter: Adèle Douglin, Georgia Institute of Technology, Atlanta, GA
Audience Level: Community College, Higher Ed
How does one create an engaging content-based medical language course and relevant study abroad program for students coming from a variety of STEM majors? This session will cover the creation of such a course and study abroad program for university students. One key component was fostering scaffolded interaction that encouraged students to talk with a variety of native speakers at home, and more so, when abroad. Thus, giving students a better understanding of different public health systems while also inviting them to explore solutions to limited access to medical services.

EXPERIENTIAL LEARNING EVERYDAY: A MODEL FOR EFFECTIVE LESSON PLANNING
Presenter: Stacey Johnson, Vanderbilt University, Nashville, TN
Audience Level: Community College, Higher Ed
The experiential learning model involves reflecting on and revisiting experiences in order to make meaning. As a way of organizing language instruction, it also provides a useful lesson planning framework. Many instructors already associate experiential learning with cultural learning, field trips, service-learning, and other real-world activities. However, even with day-to-day language instruction, experiential learning can improve student outcomes. The presenter will discuss the four stages of experiential learning and how they play out in the language classroom.

NEOLIBERALISM, THE URBAN PROCESS, AND THE CULTURAL POLITICS OF LA VAGUADA
Presenter: Michael Martínez, Jr., Minnesota State University Moorhead, Moorhead, MN
Audience Level: Community College, Higher Ed
If we are to understand the term culture as a set of contested social relations, then the struggle over Spain’s first modern shopping center serves as a point of entry to understand the cultural politics of the neoliberal regime of accumulation. Municipal approval for construction of La Vaguada in 1975 was passed despite objections from local residents. In response, concerned citizens organized a group called La Vaguada es Nuestra. To understand the cultural politics of this battle over urban space is to understand the international ascendency of neoliberalism.

LEARNING ABOUT SOCIOCULTURAL ISSUES THROUGH CINEMA AND VIRTUAL EXCHANGES
Presenter: Aurora Castillo-Scott, Georgia College & State University, Milledgeville, GA
Audience Level: Higher Ed
Virtual exchanges are learning experiences that help connect language students with native speakers in a virtual context. This presentation concentrates on using cinema and virtual communications to address the target culture’s social issues. The session will show an exchange project where US students participated in weekly synchronous communications with native Spanish-speakers in Colombia. The presenter will demonstrate how to design and integrate cinema and virtual communications in the language curriculum while promoting sociocultural discussion.

RABID DOGS AND A RAGING PROTAGONIST: THE ENIGMA OF HORACIO QUIROGA’S “EL PERRO RABIOSO”
Presenter: Michael Wong-Russell, Framingham State University (Emeritus), Brookline, MA
Audience Level: Secondary (9-12), Higher Ed
Quiroga’s ambiguous tale “El perro rabioso” appears to simply copy a discovered diary’s chronologically ordered first person account of the victim of a dog bite. In tandem with a study of rabies’ symptomatology as documented in medical manuals, however, a close reading of the syndrome plaguing the protagonist of a tale so rich in disorder that it weaves in and out of a range of pathologies reveals a shift in nature of the viral disorders that Quiroga has previously treated in his stories and leads the reader to other conclusions.

THE MEDIATION OF THE CROSS: THE HERO’S JOURNEY IN PEDRO PÁRAMO AND GRANDE SERTÃO: VEREDAS
Presenter: Faith Blackhurst, University of California, Davis, Davis, CA
Audience Level: Higher Ed
Juan Rulfo and João Guimarães Rosa go far beyond the techniques of traditional regionalism, universalizing their narratives by incorporating the symbol of the cross. They employ the spatial organizing power of the cross to determine narrative structure and strengthen mythic, religious, and epic themes as they relate to the hero’s journey. As in many modern narratives, however, ambiguity reigns—heavenly and devilish powers problematize their quests, leaving them unable to complete their journeys and find meaning in their lives.

FACTORS THAT INDICATE SPANISH TEACHERS’ POSITIVE IMPACT ON STUDENTS TO MAINTAIN THEIR INTEREST
Presenter: Comfort Pratt, Texas Tech University, Lubbock, TX
Audience Level: Secondary (9-12), Higher Ed
Findings of a survey administered to 66 Spanish teachers revealed their belief that the factors that are indicative of their positive impact on their students to maintain their interest for long-term study of the language are the students’ interest in the classes, their engagement in class activities and academic success, the motivation they demonstrate, the feedback they provide, and their relationships with their teachers. Participants will discuss the responses and add their own and examine the perceptions of advanced-level students about the teachers’ beliefs.

E-POSTER: A CONCEPTUAL FRAMEWORK FOR PRESENTING THE FIVE BASIC SYNTACTIC OPTIONS OF THE SPANISH LANGUAGE

Presenter: Glen Kerch, Asociados Lingüísticos, San José, Costa Rica

Audience Level: Secondary (9-12)

The framework helps students visualize, understand, and master the five basic transformations in Spanish. Classroom use of the Syntactic Options Framework focuses student attention on crucial differences between Spanish and English, both within each individual option, as well as between the five options. It is useful in meeting California WL Communication Standard 7: “Language Comparisons in Service of Communication” where students investigate, explain, and reflect on the nature of language through comparisons of similarities and differences in Spanish and English.
OLLÁ MÓRISCA AND MÓROS Y CRISTIANOS: ON THE VIOLENT POETICS OF EATING THE MOOR

Presenter: Lamia Benyousef, Birmingham Southern College, Birmingham, AL

Audience Level: Secondary (9-12), Community College

Using the insight of Barthes and Ricoeur on the tyranny of language and the work of Lawrence on cultural genocide, this paper examines forms of symbolic violence perpetuated against the Moors in language pedagogy in the name of inclusion and multiculturalism. Study abroad programs are often advertised as a taste of Moorish Andalusia or a tour of medieval Spanish cuisine. This paper interrogates the ethics of banking on the victims of ethnic cleansing and proposes three strategies to avoid such cultural cannibalism.

APP SMASHING WITH BOOK CREATOR TO SHOWCASE LANGUAGE AND CULTURAL PROFICIENCY

Presenters: Stacy Amling, Des Moines Area Community College, Ankeny, IA; Rachel Mamiya Hernandez, University of Hawai’i at Manoa, Honolulu, HI

Audience Level: Secondary (9-12), Higher Ed

Book Creator, a user-friendly online tool, is an engaging way to creatively demonstrate students’ linguistic and cultural skills. Learners can create stories, and by leveraging other tools via app smashing, easily embed videos or annotate images verbally or in writing. These e-books are shareable with wider audiences in the classroom and beyond. Student-created books will be shared, and participants will leave with several examples that are easily adaptable to other levels and languages.

¿EN QUÉ IDIOMA QUIERES QUE HABLEMOS? LANGUAGE CHOICE IN WRITING TUTORING SESSIONS IN A SPANISH WRITING CENTER

Presenter: Clara Azevedo, University of San Diego, San Diego, CA

Audience Level: Higher Ed

Tutors and tutees in English-language writing centers-based studies usually share only English as their common language. If more than one language is shared, what language would be used during the tutoring sessions? This study aims to determine what language is used in Spanish-language writing center’s sessions, where tutors and tutees share at least English and Spanish, and why. Both tutors and tutees comprised heritage and second language Spanish speakers. Results indicate a preference for English and that tutors accommodate tutee’s language preferences.

LIVROS, TELAS E REDES: LITERATURA BRASILEIRA E TECNOLOGIA NA SALA DE AULA

Presenter: Marília Ribeiro, Emory University, Atlanta, GA

Audience Level: Higher Ed

Esta comunicação tem como objetivo refletir sobre como as tecnologias digitais têm transformado práticas de produção e leitura literárias, e como novas ferramentas digitais podem ser incorporadas ao ensino de literatura brasileira em programas de português de nível superior nos EUA. A apresentação proporá sequências didáticas que permitem abordar, por via dos conceitos de multimodalidade, hipertextualidade e interatividade, a leitura e análise de obras literárias.

EFFECT OF AUTHENTIC VIDEO ON THE DEVELOPMENT OF ETHNOCULTURAL EMPATHY

Presenter: Heidy Cuervo Carruthers, Southern Illinois University Edwardsville, Edwardsville, IL

Audience Level: Secondary (9-12), Higher Ed

Ethnocultural empathy is empathy directed towards people from racial and ethnic cultural groups who are different from our own. It is an essential human quality in our diverse world. In our field, it is a necessary competence for our students to develop towards ethnic and linguistic minorities. This study explores Spanish-language learners’ ethnocultural empathy levels before and after watching an authentic Spanish-language telenovela. Results of the study will be presented.

Presenters: Chair, Parthena Draggett, Independent Consultant, Naples, FL; Clarissa Adams-Fletcher, Dunwoody High School, Dunwoody, GA; Jessica Haxhi, New Haven Public Schools, New Haven, CT; Alexandra López Jiménez, Xavier College Prep, Phoenix, AZ; Kevin Rasco, South San Antonio, ISD, San Antonio, TX; Martha
Vásquez, San Antonio Independent School District, San Antonio, TX

Audience Level: Middle/Junior, Secondary (9-12)

What happens when teachers of Spanish and Portuguese are promoted to administrative positions? Join us as K-12 administrators (chairs, division heads, district supervisors) reflect on the key challenges for successful language teaching in their respective contexts. With language departments under pressure to produce at higher levels, especially with current challenges presented by the pandemic, let’s share strategies to not only survive, but thrive! How can we be mutually supportive? The panelists will offer their initial observations. Participants are invited to exchange ideas in depth. Given the current challenges, let’s consider problem solving together.

INCORPORATING HIPS INTO THE SECOND-YEAR SPANISH CURRICULUM

Presenter: Jane Berne, University of North Dakota, Grand Forks, ND

Audience Level: Higher Ed

At many institutions, there is a growing emphasis on incorporating HIPs (High Impact Practices) into courses across the curriculum. This is seen as a way of improving student learning by having them engage in a variety of practical, hands-on, and collaborative tasks. In this session, the presenter will first outline the criteria for developing HIPs at a specific institution and then show how activities for a second-year Spanish course have been created or adapted to correspond to both the HIPs criteria and to virtual instruction.

THE INTERFACE OF SPACE, LANGUAGE, AND FOOD: RESTAURANT NAMING IN PHILADELPHIA

Presenter: Maria de la Luz Matus-Mendoza, Drexel University, Philadelphia, PA

Audience Level: Community College, Higher Ed

This presentation explores the use of Spanish in 50 restaurant names in Philadelphia to determine the types of meanings that Spanish construes in these names and their motivation. Using Scollon and Scollon’s (2003) and Blommaert's (2010) framework to differentiate ways of meaning making and Ben-Rafael's (2009) four dimensional types of motivation for the process of naming, this analysis shows that the use of Spanish functions not only as a sign of authenticity and group membership, but also as a symbol to distinguish among the Latinx groups in the city.

HORROR FILM AS CULTURE LESSON: USING JAYRO BUSTAMANTE’S LA LLORONA TO TEACH THE GUATEMALAN GENOCIDE

Presenter: April Marshall, Pepperdine University, Malibu, CA

Audience Level: Community College, Higher Ed

2019’s La Llorona is not only a retelling of the weeping woman legend; it is an effort to confront a crime against Guatemala’s indigenous population. Bustamante employs a popular genre to explore a sociopolitical issue that is still taboo in Guatemala. Through his lens, we can integrate this difficult topic into the classroom at various levels. Brief historical context will be offered, and participants in this session will receive a bibliography with links to online resources and sample class activities.

EXAMEN AP: VAMOS A ENSEÑAR A NUESTROS ALUMNOS A INTERPRETAR TEXTOS, AUDIOS Y DE PASO... CULTURA Y VOCABULARIO
Presenter: Norma Ledesma, Katy ISD / Mayde Creek High School, Houston, TX
Audience Level: Middle/Junior, Secondary (9-12)
One of the problems students face when we are preparing them for taking the AP exam is the Interpretative Communication. This method aims to increase the understanding of the print or audio texts, vocabulary as well as knowledge of Hispanic culture using auditory and visual learning styles. The best of this strategy is to see, at the same time, how students improve their Interpersonal and Presentational Communication skills.

SPANISH LANGUAGE LEARNING THROUGH THE LENS OF HERITAGE SPEAKERS
Presenters: Madelyn Hernández, Georgia State University, Atlanta, GA; Paula Garrett-Rucks, Georgia State University, Atlanta, GA

Audience Level: Secondary (9-12), Higher Ed

Many Spanish language programs have an increasing number of Latinx students. Yet, Spanish language courses traditionally cater to monolingual English speakers. This presentation shares findings from a qualitative study with high school Spanish heritage speaker participants about the reasons they chose Spanish for Heritage Speakers or not and how we can acknowledge their strengths and support their unique needs. Situating findings in a LatCrit theoretical perspective, we will discuss the advantages of providing an appropriate language space for these students.

INTERFACING FEATURES OF L2 MOTIVATION: A QUANTITATIVE ANALYSIS OF STUDENT INCENTIVE IN FOREIGN LANGUAGE LEARNING

Presenter: Laurie Massery, Randolph-Macon College, Providence Forge, VA

Audience Level: Higher Ed

Fifty-nine learners in L2 Spanish completed a survey of thirty-one affirmations using the Likert Scale. Data were compiled into categories: Affect-Internal Motivation (AIM) and External Influencers (EI). A Pearson correlation coefficient showed a positive correlation between AIM and EI motivation types. The results revealed that the AIM/EI relationship was statistically significant with a p value of .000 (p < .05, two tailed) and a correlation of .719. Pedagogical implications indicate that student incentive can be fostered through external influence.

TEACHING GRAMMAR ONLINE: THE INTERSECTION OF COMPUTER ASSISTED LANGUAGE LEARNING AND PROCESSING INSTRUCTION IN SPANISH AS A SECOND LANGUAGE

Presenter: Tiffany Robayna, Samford University, Birmingham, AL

Audience Level: Secondary (9-12), Higher Ed

This session will look at how learners process a second language when learning completely online. It takes two processing strategies: 1) First Noun Principle and 2) Lexical Preference Principle and uses direct objects and past tense morphology to investigate how different types of questions used to deliver the input (referential, affective, and referential with affective activities) affect learners’ processing of another language. As a result of this study, insights will be shared on how to create questions and activities for students when teaching grammatical aspects online.

PROMOTING TARGET LANGUAGE PROFICIENCY AND CULTURE AWARENESS THROUGH COLLABORATION ACROSS DIVISIONS VIA FLIPGRID
Presenter: Leonardo Arango, Ransom Everglades, Miami, FL
Audience Level: Middle/Junior, Secondary (9-12)
The promotion of target language production and cultural awareness is paramount in language learning environments. In a world of social distancing and remote learning, Amigos por Correspondencia (pen-pals) initiative was launched in 2020 at Ransom Everglades School (RE) of Miami, Florida, and the Episcopal School of Dallas, Texas (ESD). Five Spanish MS and US groups from each school were paired through Flipgrid tasks for exchanging videos and written comments in the target language. Diversity, inclusion, and cultural awareness were the core units of this initiative.

THE PROCESSING OF L3 SPANISH COMPLEXED SENTENCES: A CORPUS-BASED AND EYE-TRACKING STUDY
Presenters: Hui-Chan Lu, National Cheng Kung University, Tainan, Taiwan; AnChung Cheng, University of Toledo, Toledo, OH
Audience Level: Higher Ed
This study investigated how Mandarin Chinese-speaking learners’ language proficiency in L2 English and L3 Spanish affected the processing and comprehension of L3 Spanish relative clauses through an eye-tracking device. Participants’ eye movement data were analyzed to examine their attention to the subject, verbs, and objects in relative clauses to find out patterns of input processing as learners comprehended sentences containing the target forms. This presentation will end with pedagogical implications for language teaching and instructional material design.

REMOTE INSTRUCTION IN SPANISH HERITAGE LANGUAGE COURSES
Presenters: Anel Brandl, Florida State University, Tallahassee, FL; Angelica Amezcue, Arizona State University, Tempe, AZ; Evelyn Durán-Urrea, Lehman College, Bronx, NY; Estrella Rodríguez, Florida State University, Tallahassee, FL
Audience Level: Community College, Higher Ed
This session discusses the challenges of implementing online courses for Spanish heritage learners. Our presentation describes heritage learners’ experiences with remote instruction using the Theory of Social Presence (Hauck et al., 2014) and the Community of Inquiry Model (Garrison et al., 2000) as guiding frameworks. We explored the cognitive, social, and teaching presence facets of remote instruction in intact courses of Spanish heritage bilinguals. Attendees are encouraged to reflect on their own online teaching practices in times of remote instruction.

TRILINGUAL VIRTUAL CONVERSATION TABLE: SPANISH, PORTUGUESE, AND ENGLISH DURING COVID-19
Presenters: Felipe Fiuza, East Tennessee State University, Johnson City, TN; John Mullins, East Tennessee State University, Johnson City, TN
Audience Level: Community College, Higher Ed
This trilingual conversation table happened through Zoom every week. This project was born from a partnership between Uninorte, in Colombia, the Federal University of Espírito Santo (UFES), in Brazil, and the LCRC at ETSU. We talked for about twenty minutes on each language changing topics every week. Hundreds of students and community members from the three countries have joined us through Zoom since March 2020. This program offered students a unique opportunity to interact with native speakers on a weekly basis. This section will have an interactive component.

VOS AND VOSOTROS/AS IN THE SPANISH TEXTBOOK

Presenter: Gonzalo Campos-Dintrans, The University of Mary Washington, Fredericksburg, VA

Audience Level: Community College, Higher Ed

This study examines the presence and the absence of the pronoun vos in college-level Spanish textbooks. Comparisons will be made with previous studies on the teaching of vos. The presenter will also discuss how ideas about language are both reflected and perpetuated in teaching materials.

ABRAÇANDO A DIVERSIDADE DO MUNDO LUSÓFONO: REPENSANDO ESTRATÉGIAS DE ENSINO

Presenters: Ana Maria Lima, The University of Chicago, Chicago, IL; Raquel Goebel, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign, Champaign, IL

Audience Level: Community College, Higher Ed

O foco do ensino de Português nos Estados Unidos tem sido Brasil e Portugal. Nesse contexto, alunos aprendem pouco sobre a diversidade das comunidades lusófonas e sobre grupos marginalizados. Ao negligenciar outras realidades, replicamos modelos que enfatizam os grandes centros. Esse projeto convida educadores a repensar estratégias de ensino ao apresentar recursos criativos de inclusão que poderão ser usados tanto no ensino presencial quanto no remoto. Participantes conhecerão novas ferramentas que facilitam diversidade e inclusão.

MOTIVATE STUDENTS IN CLASS AND GET THEM OFF SOCIAL MEDIA WITH NEARPOD

Presenter: Rebecca Ewing, Duke University, Durham, NC

Audience Level: Secondary (9-12), Higher Ed

When the pandemic hit, teachers had to pivot from in-person instruction to hybrid or online instruction. During the litany of webinars and online conferences, I discovered and have successfully used Nearpod. This presentation will engage language instructors in an interactive simulation of Nearpod, including example class activities, ideas for expansion and adaptation of activities, and a first-hand experience of what the application can do, as well as its limitations. Students shared that this platform forced them to focus in class!

DEVELOPING YOUR OWN CUSTOM, DUAL-TEXT, ILLUSTRATED WORKS FOR YOUR SCHOOL’S EARLY IMMERSION PROGRAMS
Presenters: Garth Vance, Children Bilingual Books, Renton, WA; Denise Vance, Kent Youth and Family Services, Renton, VA
Audience Level: K-6
In the past 15 years, we have witnessed a shift from traditional to independent publishing in the children book genre. That shift is now giving way to the next logical step in the progression of book development. Early learning programs now have the capability of customizing their own early learning materials, most notably with Spanish and Portuguese dual text. Recent printing and publishing innovations have opened up options for immersion programs around the world.

UNTIL ALL CAN READ: SERVICE LEARNING AND LITERACY WITHIN THE HISPANIC COMMUNITY

Presenter: Shannon Polchow, University of South Carolina Upstate, Spartanburg, SC

Audience Level: Community College, Higher Ed

Literacy is one of the biggest civil rights issues today in the 21st century. In states such as California and Michigan, recent lawsuits have questioned if the educational system is obligated to teach a child how to read. Unfortunately, the students often left behind include those in the Hispanic community. In this presentation, we will explore how language teachers can connect undergraduates to service-learning opportunities that focus on raising literacy rates within the Hispanic community in meaningful ways.

HELPING INTERMEDIATE LEARNERS FIND MORE MEANING IN LA MISMA LUNA

Presenters: Laura Shepin, Rolling Meadows HS, Rolling Meadows, IL; Heidi Huck, Rolling Meadows HS, Rolling Meadows, IL

Audience Level: Secondary (9-12), Higher Ed

The 2007 film La misma luna is widely used in schools because of its engaging story and PG-13 rating. However, unsophisticated learners may miss the real story of the hardships of immigration as they are charmed by the film’s Hollywood ending. This presentation will show how, by supplementing the film with newspaper articles, Sonia Nazario’s book Enrique’s Journey, and a corrido, intermediate students can make meaningful cultural connections and gain a deeper understanding of immigration.
1. TRASFONDO HISTÓRICO, ACTUALIDAD SOCIAL Y LEGAL DE LA VIOLENCIA MACHISTA A TRAVÉS DE DOCUDRAMAS EN EL MUNDO HISPANO

Presenter: Anna Cepeda, Florida International University, Miami, FL

La investigación consiste en un acercamiento a la realidad de la violencia machista, su trasfondo histórico y la manera en que la misma es expuesta en documentales. Se intenta encontrar un punto de encuentro entre la realidad y la ficción de un problema vigorosamente saludable en las sociedades actuales, como lo es la violencia contra la mujer, sin importar la nacionalidad, el sistema de gobierno o el grado de desarrollo que dicho país posea.

Presenter: Jesús Galindo Benítez, University of Virginia, Charlottesville, VA

3. GENDER-INCLUSIVE LANGUAGE IN TWITTER

Presenter: Caitlin E. Samples, University of Georgia, Athens, GA

The present study analyzes the traditional and gender-inclusive variants of nosotr_s appearing in tweets posted near Madrid and other Spanish cities from November 1-10 of 2010, 2014, and 2018. The variants considered are o, a, @, x, e, and the data reveal that although only the masculine variant was found in the 2010 posts, by 2014, posts included inclusive @ variants. All five variants were found in the 2018 data.
Audience Level: Secondary (9-12), Higher Ed

This presentation describes how discourses of civility and good citizenship in early 20th century manuals of good manners aided the configuration of modern capitalism. I present Colombia’s case, arguing that texts such as the Spanish American Protocol of Civility and Good Manners (1910) by Tulio Ospina shaped a national subjectivity based on industrial goods’ consumption. By analyzing Ospina’s manual and newspaper articles, I reveal that etiquette and hygiene principles introduced the urban life practices necessary to grow a nascent export-import economy.

A SMALL LIBERAL ARTS SPANISH PROGRAM: CHALLENGES, CONSIDERATIONS, AND ONE POSSIBLE SOLUTION

Presenter: Daniel Woolsey, Hope College, Holland, MI

Audience Level: Community College, Higher Ed

This session explores several challenges faced by a Spanish program at a small liberal arts college, including scheduling congestion, program articulation, declining student interest and therefore declining student enrollment, and equity concerns among teaching faculty. Responding to these challenges requires consideration of institutional mission, departmental context, student expectations, and best teaching practices. What emerges is a solution that is invitational, collaborative and trusting, and that effectively turns our current language program upside down.

SUPPORTING TOOLS FOR DEVELOPING STUDENT AUTONOMOUS LEARNING IN SECONDARY DUAL LANGUAGE PROGRAMS

Presenter: Leo Valladares, Utah DLI, Salt Lake City, UT

Audience Level: Middle/Junior, Secondary (9-12)

One of the challenges of navigating the transition from the elementary to the secondary DLI classroom is increasing the level of autonomous learning skills. To respond to this particular complex need of the program, the Utah secondary Spanish team has developed techniques that gradually support students taking ownership of their learning. During this session, the presenters will demonstrate several effective scaffolding tools and techniques including the KWL charts, Linguafolio, Cornell notes, and evaluation tools for teacher use.
What does diversity mean in the context of studying and teaching Spanish and Portuguese? This keynote address will demonstrate how the culture and history of these languages are essential to the formation of an antiracist classroom and world language profession. We will celebrate the rich diversity of the Hispanic, Latinx, and Luso-Brazilian worlds. As we celebrate diversity, we must also interrogate our field. Let us join together to chart a dynamic cartography for inclusive excellence.

BIOGRAPHY

THE EFFECT OF COGNATE STATUS ON TONIC STRESS PLACEMENT IN L2 SPANISH

Presenter: Adrienne Fama, Mount Pisgah Christian School, Johns Creek, GA

Audience Level: Secondary (9-12), Higher Ed

Cognates have certain advantages and disadvantages in an L2; their meaning is already familiar, but linguistic interference can negatively affect their pronunciation. This study explores the effect of cognate status, stress pattern, written accent marks, and proficiency level on stress acquisition among L1 English speakers at three L2 Spanish proficiency levels. The findings suggest that learners rely on both L1 and L2 stress patterns for L2 stress assignment. The results also show frequency and regularity in L2 input as contributors to tonic stress placement accuracy.

MOSQUITA Y MARI: REPRESENTATION OF HISPANIC YOUTH AND SEXUAL DIVERSITY

Presenter: Beth Huaman Andia, Saint Catherine University, St. Paul, MN

Audience Level: Higher Ed

This paper will present pedagogical tools to explore the movie Mosquita y Mari (2012) by female director Aurora Guerrero in the approach of Hispanics in the US contexts. In the interpretative mode there are several topics that can open to a rich discussion about race, class, gender, sexuality, and identity. At a more symbolic level, this film explores the characters’ identities from young female and especially young Latinx communities.

VIRTUAL EXCHANGE IN SECOND LANGUAGE ACQUISITION: SPANISH-ENGLISH WITH THE UNIVERSIDAD DE CANTABRIA AND UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND

Presenter: Laura Mier Pérez, Universidad de Cantabria, Cantabria, Spain

Audience Level: Higher Ed

In this session, we present the results of an internationalization project carried out at the Universidad de Cantabria, Spain, in collaboration with the University of Maryland. Considering the current changes that the pandemic has imposed in teaching at the higher education level, we have implemented a Personal Learning Environment methodology to articulate the online learning of students. In addition, we have integrated as part of the learning process a virtual interexchange with the University of Maryland in the context of second language acquisition.

TEACHING SPANISH AND PORTUGUESE AMIDST A PANDEMIC
Presenter: Pedro Craveiro, UC Santa Barbara, Santa Barbara, CA
Audience Level: Community College, Higher Ed
Considering our present-day situation and the quick-change last year from face-to-face to online courses due to COVID-19, this paper explores pedagogical and didactic strategies to engage students and evaluate student performance and engagement in a virtual setting. I will focus on Portuguese and Spanish language instruction and bring tools recommended by current research and personal suggestions to make language classes appealing. The ultimate goal is to provide creative takeaways on addressing the difficulty of teaching a foreign language virtually.

ALTERNATIVE APPROACHES TO THE TEACHING OF CULTURE IN PORTUGUESE FL COURSES
Presenters: Edvan Brito, University of Arkansas Fayetteville, Fayetteville, AR; Luciana Prestes, Middle Tennessee State University, Murfreesboro, TN
Audience Level: Community College, Higher Ed
As we prepare our students to face the challenges of the 21st century, we should take into consideration the constant change of social, cultural, and economic contexts. It is our responsibility to incorporate into the students’ academic experience the development of a lifelong learning process that promotes competency in the current job market and good citizenship. With that in mind, this session seeks to provide alternative approaches to the teaching of culture in Portuguese FL courses.

I TECH: USE OF TECHNOLOGY FOR A SUCCESSFUL LEARNING EXPERIENCE
Presenter: Elga Sepúlveda Suárez, Houston ISD, Houston, TX
Audience Level: Middle/Junior, Secondary (9-12)
The use of technology tools in traditional and virtual classrooms has increased during the last decade. Now, more than ever, technology is a tool that teachers can use to engage their students in the process of learning. There is a variety of online resources that teachers can use to create meaningful content for their students. We will learn about different technology tools and their use in the traditional and virtual classroom. These tools will help us to create meaningful activities for our students which will result in a successful learning experience.

COLLABORATIVE WRITING IN THE REMOTE CLASSROOM: TECHNIQUES TO ENCOURAGE STUDENT INTERACTION AND ERROR CORRECTION
Presenter: Aviva Kana, The Nueva School, San Mateo, CA
Audience Level: Secondary (9-12), Higher Ed
This presentation explores how to use collaborative writing in remote high school Spanish classes. It specifically looks at how collaborative writing exercises increase language accuracy and encourage socialization. In these assignments, students negotiate how to address feedback from their teacher and peers. They also use collaborative writing as a way to socialize and learn about classmates that they have not met in person. In this way, collaborative writing serves as a communicative and engaging tool to improve Spanish writing and error recognition.

NATIONALISM, ISOLATIONISM, AND LANGUAGE EDUCATION

Presenter: Dieter Waldvogel, Samford University, Birmingham, AL

Audience Level: Secondary (9-12), Higher Ed

The US is experiencing a political tug-of-war between globalism and nationalism with L2 education caught in the middle of this sociopolitical debate. The current sociopolitical trend towards isolationism is rendering L2 education vulnerable to further cuts. This presentation will address the effects these sociopolitical trends are having on the demand for L2 education. It argues that the goal of L2 education is to raise awareness of the limitations imposed by nationalism and to advance beyond those limitations in search of an international identity.

MENTORING LANGUAGE FACULTY IN HIGHER EDUCATION FOR ONLINE TEACHING

Presenter: Silvia Rodriguez Sabater, College of Charleston, Charleston, SC

Audience Level: Community College, Higher Ed

Faculty mentorship has not usually focused on online teaching in higher education. Even expert faculty can suddenly become novice teachers when teaching online. Despite the abundance of recent resources, seasoned guidance is fundamental to equip faculty with sound pedagogy and skills to teach online. This presentation articulates the features of and mentorship practices in an online readiness course where faculty learn about course planning,

Presenters: Amy Pierce, Fort Smith Public Schools, Fort Smith, AR; Madeline Martínez Santiago, University of Arkansas at Fort Smith, Fort Smith, AR

Audience Level: Secondary (9-12), Higher Ed

Constant shifting from in-person to remote learning and back again inspired a boom in app creation, all in the name of helping teachers sail uncharted waters. The result is a mind-numbing morass of deciding which applications are actually worthy of the time and/or monetary investment needed for implementation. The presenters have done the deep dive and will share actual classroom results and student feedback – good, bad or ugly – so participants can leave with a Monday-morning-ready manifest of apps that will get the job done, whether in the classroom or the Zoom room.

1. A TASK-BASED NEEDS ANALYSIS OF PORTUGUESE FOR BUSINESS AT COLLEGE LEVEL

Presenter: Marcela Lemos, Indiana University Bloomington, Bloomington, IN

To contribute to the expansion of the Portuguese program at a university that houses a prestigious business school, I propose the first task-based needs analysis (NA) of College Portuguese in the United States. The goal of this NA is to reformulate a currently unoffered Portuguese for Business course into a task-based language teaching curriculum. This NA relies on multiple methods of data collection to determine the specific needs of business professionals, graduates, and majors and arrive at target tasks and target task types to compose the curriculum.

2. “WE GET THE BAD END OF THE BROOM.” AN EXAMINATION OF SPANISH HERITAGE LANGUAGE SPEAKERS’ CONCEPTUAL METAPHOR IN WRITTEN ENGLISH AND SPANISH

Presenter: Lorraine Ramos, University of California Merced, Merced, CA

Students use metaphors in their writing to conceptualize their identity and cultural experience. This study applies conceptual metaphor theory to 192 Spanish heritage language speakers through their writings. HL pedagogy has focused on attitudes about language and culture in Spanish. This project examines English and Spanish writing in a Hispanic context. This creates a space for HL speakers that are not included in Spanish-only investigation. This bilingual viewpoint gives instructors insights on how students feel about their identity and culture.

3. EL PANORAMA DEL ESPAÑOL COMO LENGUA EXTRANJERA Y LA ADECUACIÓN DE LA COMPETENCIA COMUNICATIVA EN EL AULA EN EL CONTEXTO DE LA INDIA

Presenter: Abdul Rehman, Auxiliar de Conversación de Inglés, Galicia, Spain

El auge de enseñanza del español dentro del contexto educativo en la India está creciendo de forma ostensible. Por otro lado, se ha utilizado el método de traducción a lo largo de la historia de la enseñanza de español, por lo cual la mayoría de los alumnos graduados en estudios de español se limitan a lograr niveles entre un A1-A2. Debido a esto manifiesto la importancia del enfoque comunicativo y el enfoque por tareas para desarrollar la competencia comunicativa.

Presenter: Everton Vargas da Costa, Framingham State University, Framingham, MA

Audience Level: Community College, Higher Ed

Esta sessão apresenta uma oficina realizada com professores de português língua de herança em escolas comunitárias, baseada no conceito de autoría como desenvolvimento profissional. A oficina enfatizou o papel central da autoría dos professores através do desenvolvimento de uma unidade de ensino incorporando ideias discutidas (letramento, bidialetalismo). As metas principais da oficina eram convidar os professores a refletir sobre a sua prática e a produzir materiais inéditos. Nesta sessão os participantes
The objective of this study is to document the use of Spanish in public spaces in San Diego County by adult heritage Spanish speakers. This study seeks to provide information in welcoming and unwelcoming areas for Spanish speakers in a multilingual area right at the Mexico-US border. Preliminary results show that participants feel more comfortable speaking Spanish in places in close proximity to the border and neighborhoods with a significant Latino population and less comfortable in the northern and eastern parts of the county.

Is it possible to create an environment of equitable opportunities for all students? Absolutely! School districts and individual schools can utilize their robust language programs to create a culture of inclusion and celebration, especially when talking about marginalized populations. By removing barriers and providing multiple opportunities to students, including offering classes in students’ home language, institutions can provide students with the tools they need to be successful in the future. In this session, participants will gather ideas to make their classrooms and schools an environment of collaboration, innovation, rigor, and equitable opportunities for all students. The presenter, an Assistant Principal, will share examples from his urban middle school, located in the center of Reno, Nevada of how he used General Spanish and Spanish Literacy programs to increase student achievement and create opportunities for all middle school students.

SUBVERSIÓN DE GÉNERO Y RAZA EN LA CELESTINA COMO PROYECCIÓN DE DIVERSIDAD EN LA EDAD MEDIA

Presenters: Aned Ladino, Georgetown University, Washington, DC; Drue Edney, Georgetown University, Washington, DC

Audience Level: Community College, Higher Ed

Esta sesión explora la subversión de ideologías de género y raza en La Celestina de Fernando de Rojas (1499) lo cual permite proyectar la diversidad en la Edad Media. Se busca redescubrir el medievo por medios audiovisuales utilizando el cine y series de televisión como herramientas de enseñanza para discutir las concepciones de género y raza en la Península Ibérica. Entrando en conversación con teorías contemporáneas de género y queer de Judith Butler y la existencia multicultural de María Menocal.

TRANSLATION IN THE MULTILINGUAL LANGUAGE CLASSROOM: RATIONALE, ROLES, AND ACTIVITY DESIGN

Presenters: Sonia Colina, University of Arizona, Tucson, AZ; Sarah Albrecht, University of Arizona, Tucson, AZ

Audience Level: Middle/Junior, Secondary (9-12)

Translation is making a comeback in the multilingual language classroom as an activity that promotes literacy, metalinguistic and cultural awareness, translinguaging, and linguistic diversity. While theoretical papers on this topic are becoming more common, practical guidance on how to use translation in an informed manner is scarce. This presentation will help teachers understand the context that facilitated translation's comeback, the roles translation can serve in language learning, and how to design activities by guiding them step by step through an activity.

TRANSLATION IN THE FL/L2 CLASSROOM: A SURVEY ON COURSEBOOKS AND STAKEHOLDERS’ BELIEFS

Presenters: Jhonatan Henao-Muñoz, University of Arizona, Tucson, AZ

This study inquires about actors [instructors-students] and factors [textbooks-syllabi] within Spanish as FL/L2 programs in the US Higher Education to identify how translation is implemented within FL/L2 teaching and learning practices. It aims to answer (1) whether or not FL/L2 textbooks contain/promote/use translation within their activities? if so, on which activities/skills is translation focused? How? (2) whether or not instructors use translation in the FL/L2 classroom? If so, how do they use it? and (3) what the beliefs are towards TiLT according to both actors?
This study analyzes what elements of instruction work best for heritage language learners by focusing on the use of the cultural portfolio, a flexible learning tool that requires students to complete different types of tasks (written, oral, aural, audio, video, artistic) through interactions with members of the Hispanic community. We examined students' perceptions of the portfolio tasks and their views of the pedagogical benefits of these tools, in terms of culture, but also for the development of their linguistic performance.

PERCEPTIONS OF AND SUCCESS IN HYBRID AND SYNCHRONOUS REMOTE LANGUAGE CLASSES

Presenter: Valerie Jepson, Winthrop University, Rock Hill, SC

Audience Level: Community College, Higher Ed

Although online courses are not new, the number of language courses using online formats has recently increased. Using previous research (Bhagat et al., 2016), I examine students' perceptions of learning Spanish in hybrid courses (face-to-face supplemented with asynchronous learning) and 100% online synchronous courses. Participants (N=250) provided perceptions on effectiveness of teaching approaches, relatability to instructor and perceived success. Answers were correlated to professors' perceptions, reasons for taking the course and learning outcomes (course grades).

Presenters: Francesca Sunkin, Western Kentucky University, Bowling Green, KY; Melba Amador, Pennsylvania State University, Pittsburgh, PA

Audience Level: Higher Ed

Presenters will discuss the process of creating instructional materials for Open Educational Resources. They will share their experiences and the process of their participation in a Content Camp in which they authored questions in Spanish for an Open Educational Resource. Presenters will review what is currently available, what is still in progress, as well as hopes for going forward. Finally, they will explain how the audience can benefit from using these resources as well as how they can participate in them. The audience will participate in authoring questions.

GRAMMATICAL HURDLES FOR ADVANCED SPANISH LEARNERS: A DATA ANALYSIS OF A PROFICIENCY-BASED GRAMMAR ASSESSMENT
Presenter: Trina Montano, Defense Language Institute Foreign Language Center, Monterey, CA
Audience Level: Higher Ed
This presentation presents data collected from a pool of advanced/advanced-high Spanish learners who took online proficiency-based reading and grammar assessments. By cross-referencing users’ reading proficiency levels with scores on a dynamic assessment of grammar, evidence suggests that while learners demonstrate competence in advanced grammar, they continue to experience difficulty with using a few linguistic features. The implications of the study encourage teachers to discuss instructional practices that affect grammatical competence for advanced learners.

1. THE ROLE OF WHATSAPP IN DEVELOPING L2 SPANISH LEARNERS’ INTERCULTURAL SENSITIVITY: AN EXPLORATORY TASK-BASED LANGUAGE STUDY IN SPAIN
Presenter: Timothy Ashe Jr., Arizona State University, Tempe, AZ
Technology (i.e., the WhatsApp mobile application) can play a positive role in a student’s language and culture learning when it is used in collaboration with a language curriculum that uses a modular framework. In this study, participants intensely interacted in a three-week immersion experience where they used WhatsApp to communicate with each other, with their instructors, and with their host families by completing tasks in three modules that were a part of an Advanced Spanish Conversation and Culture Course.

2. L2 SPANISH VOCABULARY RETENTION USING COLLOCATIONS
Presenter: Lillian Jones, University of California Davis, Davis, CA
Theoretical and applied linguists have recently turned to collocations to capture linguistic structure and explain increases in L2 fluency (Ellis 2001, 2002; Bosque 2001). However, few studies have considered collocations as a method to increase vocabulary retention. Guided by a psycholinguistic framework, this presentation explores a ten-week classroom study that used a cloud-based, open-source, digital vocabulary program to expose intermediate L2 Spanish learners to new vocabulary uniquely paired with a commonly associated collocation.

LEVERAGING LINGUISTICS IN THE L2 CLASSROOM FOR REAL-WORLD PREPARATION
Presenter: Christina Agostinelli-Fucile, Northeastern University, Boston, MA
Audience Level: Secondary (9-12), Higher Ed
Our goal as language educators is preparation for meaningful communication in the real world. This session will discuss several key linguistic concepts relating to second language acquisition, bilingualism, dialectology, historical linguistics, and sociolinguistics and illustrate their integration into language and culture courses at various levels. Leveraging these concepts can enhance students’ linguistic and cultural understanding and build their confidence in their own language abilities. Sample activities included in Spanish are easily adaptable for Portuguese.

Location: International C
Title: Social Justice Issues in Online Language Education: The Student Perspective
Presenter: Jeff Longwell, New Mexico State University, Las Cruces, NM
Audience Level: Secondary (9-12), Higher Ed

With the increased necessity of adapting all levels of language education to the online environment, language educators must keep in mind social justice issues in education as they plan and deliver their courses and programs to students. Educators have their own ideas of what these social justice issues may be, but what do students say they are? This workshop will discuss recent research that asked students exactly which social justice issues are important to them in online education. This workshop will also address ways to overcome these issues in online courses.

Time: 9:00am – 12:00pm
Room: M104
Title: Fostering Digital Literacy: Hands-on Practice with Effective Apps for 21st Century, In-person or Remote Second Language Teaching and Learning
Presenters: Holly Nibert, The Ohio State University, Columbus, OH; Richard Henricksen, The Ohio State University, Columbus, OH; Anthony Palmisano, The Ohio State University, Columbus, OH; Leila Vieira, The Ohio State University, Columbus, OH
Audience Level: Community College, Higher Ed

Recently our university embarked on a digital initiative to increase student engagement and digital literacy through active learning, whether in person or remotely. In our workshop, made even more relevant and urgent by the pandemic, we will share our experiences electing and leveraging various productivity apps for the Spanish language curriculum. At least four apps will be presented, along with sample activities for each one, an analysis of the new possibilities facilitated, and hands-on practice to prepare attendees to experiment with apps in their own teaching.

WORKSHOP 7

Date: Sunday, July 11, 2021
Time: 9:00am – 12:00pm
Room: M105
Title: Can You Escape in Time? Using Escape Rooms as Language Learning Tools in the Classroom
Presenter: Alyssia Miller, The University of Tampa, Tampa, FL
Audience Level: Secondary (9-12), Higher Ed

This workshop will demonstrate how to use escape rooms as an adaptable tool for language learning for different types of instruction including online, remote, hybrid, and face-to-face. Participants will be able to apply theoretical backgrounds to their own activities, participate in a hands-on demonstration, co-create their own examples for use in the classroom, and use different technologies to aid in their escape room creations.
WORKSHOP 8
Date: Sunday, July 11, 2021
Time: 9:00am – 12:00pm
Room: M106
Title: Coding with Motion Sensors in Spanish
Presenter: Tiffany Freda, St. George's School, Middletown, RI
Audience Level: Middle/Junior, Secondary (9-12)

Participants will learn about an open-source platform that will allow students to code their own interactive learning games that correspond to motion sensors.

WORKSHOP 9
Date: Sunday, July 11, 2021
Time: 9:00am – 12:00pm
Room: M107
Title: Components of a Sustainable and Replicable DLI Program
Presenters: Raul Martin, Canyons School District, Salt Lake City, UT; Diego Benites, South Summit School District, Salt Lake City, UT; Natiely Torres, Salt Lake City School, Salt Lake City, UT
Audience Level: K-6, Middle/Junior

As the rapidly growing demands of a global economy become apparent, communities turn to the promises of DLI programs, to meet the academic rigor, linguistic flexibility and intercultural competencies needed to prepare a competitive global workforce. This session will address the foundational pillars of DLI programs and the infrastructures of support needed to ensure program quality and sustainability. The Utah DLI Program will be used to illustrate these foundational pillars and infrastructures through guided analysis and group discussions.

WORKSHOP 10
Date: Sunday, July 11, 2021
Time: 9:00am – 12:00pm
Room: International A
Title: Negotiating Rigor and Academic Development in Secondary Immersion
Presenters: Ofelia Wade, USBE/Canyons School District, Salt Lake City, UT; Leo Valladares, USBE/Tooele School District, Salt Lake City, UT
Audience Level: Middle/Junior, Secondary (9-12)

As DLI programs progress into secondary, an urgent need emerges to examine program design, curriculum, and pedagogy to address the specific needs of the DLI learner and program outcomes. Utah Spanish DLI has adapted and articulated curriculum and pedagogy for the instruction of rigorous content in the immersion language that is highly aligned to the academic and language proficiency outcomes of the program. Participants will interact with pedagogical tools in order to understand how to engage students in academically and linguistically challenging courses, address the specific needs of the DLI learner and program outcomes. Folk Stories from the Hills of Puerto Rico / Cuentos folklóricos de las montañas de Puerto Rico

EDITED BY RAFAEL OCASIO

"Rafael Ocasio's unique bilingual anthology, Folk Stories from the Hills of Puerto Rico, is a treasure of delectable and profound tales collected at the beginning of the twentieth century. Moreover, Ocasio's comprehensive introduction and notes about the history of these tales fills a gap in our understanding of the unusual contribution made by Puerto Rican peasants to the island's cultural tradition. In short, this is a significant and remarkable book that will bring joy to readers."
—Jack Zipes, translator and editor of The Original Folk and Fairy Tales of the Brothers Grimm: The Complete First Edition

"Esta excepcional antología bilingüe por Rafael Ocasio, Cuentos folklóricos de las montañas de Puerto Rico, es un tesoro de sabrosos e intensos cuentos recopilados a principios del siglo XX. Además, la amplia introducción de Ocasio y sus notas sobre la historia de estos cuentos llenan un vacío sobre nuestra comprensión de la inusual contribución realizada por los campesinos puertorriqueños a la tradición cultural de la isla. En resumen, este es un libro significativo y extraordinario que llenará de alegría a sus lectores."
—Jack Zipes, traductor y editor, The Original Folk and Fairy Tales of the Brothers Grimm: The Complete First Edition

"The tales collected in this volume highlight Jíbaro ingenuity, courage, and resilience while illuminating Puerto Rican traditions and values that contextualize the time in which they were collected. Like the jewels excavated by the legendary pirate Contreras, these folk stories are still 'very pretty and very valuable,' and they demand to be shared."
—Lorraine M. López, author of Rituals of Movement in the Writing of Judith Ortiz Cofer

"Los cuentos recogidos en este volumen resaltan el ingenio, el coraje y la resiliencia del jíbaro, al tiempo que iluminan las tradiciones y valores puertorriqueños que contextualizan el tiempo en que fueron recogidos. Al igual que las joyas excavadas por el legendario pirata Contreras, estas historias populares siguen siendo 'muy bonitas y muy valiosas,' y exigen ser compartidas."
—Lorraine M. López, autora de Rituals of Movement in the Writing of Judith Ortiz Cofer

This exciting new anthology gathers together Puerto Rican folktales that were passed down orally for generations before finally being transcribed beginning in 1914 by the team of famous anthropologist Franz Boas. These charming tales give readers a window into the imaginations and aspirations of Puerto Rico’s peasants, the Jíbaro.

Some stories provide a distinctive Caribbean twist on classic tales including “Snow White” and “Cinderella.” Others fictionalize the lives of local historical figures, such as infamous pirate Roberto Cofresí, rendered here as a Robin Hood figure who subverts the colonial social order. The collection also introduces such beloved local characters as Cucarachita Martina, the kind cockroach who falls in love with Ratoncito Pérez, her devoted mouse husband who brings her delicious food.

Including a fresh English translation of each folktale as well as the original Spanish version, the collection also contains an introduction from literary historian Rafael Ocasio that highlights the historical importance of these tales and the Jíbaro cultural values they impart. These vibrant, funny, and poignant stories will give readers unique insights into Puerto Rico’s rich cultural heritage.

Esta nueva y emocionante antología reúne cuentos populares puertorriqueños que fueron transmitidos oralmente durante generaciones antes de ser finalmente transcritos comenzando en 1914 por el equipo del famoso antropólogo Franz Boas. Estos cantecillos de los campesinos, los jíbaros, de Puerto Rico.

Algunas historias brindan un distintivo toque caribeño a cuentos clásicos como “Blanca Nieves” y “Cenicienta.” Otros ficcionalizan la vida de personajes históricos locales, como el famoso pirata Roberto Cofresí, representado como una figura al estilo de Robin Hood, quien subvierte e l orden social colonial. La colección también presenta personajes locales tan queridos como Cucarachita Martina, la amable cucaracha que se enamora de Ratoncito Pérez, su devoto esposo ratón que le trae deliciosa comida.

Incluyendo una nueva traducción al inglés de estos cuentos populares, así como las versiones originales en español, la colección también contiene una introducción del historiador literario Rafael Ocasio, quien destaca la importancia histórica de estos cuentos y los valores culturales del jíbaro que éstos imparten en los relatos. Estas historias vibrantes, divertidas y comovedoras brindarán a los lectores una visión única de la rica herencia cultural de Puerto Rico.

Rafael Ocasio is the Charles A. Dana Professor of Spanish at Agnes Scott College in Atlanta, Georgia.

The Northeast Conference is excited to get back to its roots in New York City in 2022 and to welcome our conference attendees, who often travel from around the country and even around the world to learn and grow professionally with us. Our aim is to bring together all those involved in the teaching and promotion of world languages—including researchers and educators at every level of education. Our program will include in-depth three and six-hour pre-conference workshops, a variety of sessions, featured presentations by distinguished speakers, as well as our #techlab, Research Roundtable, and “Best of State” sessions.

Please visit our website for complete details. Registration will be open late summer!
