ENCOURAGE STUDENTS TO SUBMIT TO ALBRICIAS

As the school year comes to a close, be sure to remember the Albricias theme for our upcoming issue is "La mujer / A mulher latina o hispana." There are so many ways to incorporate the theme into final papers and projects (songs, skits, etc.)! You could celebrate famous women, matriarchs, and rebels; analyze ideals of beauty, gender roles, feminism, or domestic violence; and represent both the struggles and victories of Latina and Hispanic women around the world. Submissions are due June 1, 2019. Bring on your students' best work! For more information, click here.

ATTENTION PROFESSORS OF GRADUATE STUDENTS!

As you receive final papers, please encourage and mentor the best papers to be revised for submission to our graduate student journal the Spanish and Portuguese Review. Next submission deadline: May 20, 2019.

Spanish and Portuguese Review (SPR), the annual graduate student journal of the American Association of Teachers of Spanish and Portuguese (AATSP), invites the submission of original, unpublished manuscripts on culture, film, linguistics, literature, pedagogy, second language acquisition, translation, and other areas related to the study or teaching of Hispanic and Luso-Brazilian languages and cultures. Quantitative, qualitative, and mixed methods of research are encouraged. In addition to articles, SPR invites the submission of book and media reviews, interviews, and notes on technology and pedagogical resources. All submissions should display thorough and comprehensive knowledge of the subject and field in question; be written in Spanish, Portuguese, or English; and strictly adhere to the journal's guidelines.

For more information about SPR, click here or contact Editor Stacey M. Johnson at stacey.m.johnson@vanderbilt.edu.
