More activities and ideas!

- Have students write their own version of the poem “Bilingüe” by Alma Flor Ada.
- Have students investigate messages transmitted in different murales around the country: Un mural dice más de mil palabras (Pilsen, Chicago, Little Havana, Miami, Melrose Ave., Los Angeles, CA. etc.).
- Have students explore and discuss the works of lesser-known Spanish-speaking artists, like Santiago Savi (Mexico) or Cecilia Vicuña (Chile).
- Start a Sociedad Honoraria Hispánica chapter for students grades 10-12 at your school if you don't yet have one.
- Start a Sociedad Hispánica de Amistad chapter for students grades K-9 at your school if you don't yet have one.
- Plan to hold a Sociedad Honoraria Hispánica induction ceremony if you were unable to do so. Here are samples if you need to hold it virtually and here are reasons to do it in the fall if you traditionally have done it in the spring.
- Start a new philanthropy project with your Spanish students. Here is a list of possible organizations that have worked with Sociedad Honoraria Hispánica chapters in the past.
- Make door decorations for each department in your school that recognizes the work of Latinx individuals in these different disciplines.
- Have your students make muñecas quitapenas:
  - Mapa de Antigua, Guatemala
  - Muñecas quitapenas
  - ¡GRACIAS por ser tan amable! Thank you for being kind!
  - Enjoy this Guatemalan “Quitapenas” Dolls from the _____ Chapter of the Spanish Honor Society
  - Tell these dolls your secret wishes. Tell them your problems. Tell them your dreams.
  - And when you awake, may you find the magic within you to make your dreams come true!
- Have your Sociedad Honoraria Hispánica students work on art, poetry, prose or multimedia works for submission to Albricias, the student literary journal of the Sociedad. Next theme: los derechos humanos. Deadline: December 1, 2021.
- Register your Novice-Mid to Advanced-High students to participate in the non-contest National Spanish Assessments (NSA) to promote proficiency & measure student growth.
- Register your students in grades 1-6 for the National Spanish Challenge.
