Igor Laufer SAR Visiting Professorship 2014 - 15

JRLSARVP.Blogspot.com

John R. Leyendecker, MD
Professor of Radiology and Vice Chair of Clinical Operations
UT Southwestern Medical Center
Dallas, TX
VP STATS (to date)

- 24 Trips in 4 countries
- 54 Lectures
- >4300 blog page views
- 5 pounds gained
- $4557.99 spent (so far)
University of Kentucky
University of Louisville
University of Arizona
UT Southwestern
Maine Medical Center
Veracruz, Mexico (SAR IEC)
Mayo Scottsdale
Duke University
Brigham and Women’s Hospital
Massachusetts General Hospital
Boston University Medical Center
University of Utah
Indiana University
UCSF
SAR 2015

Cleveland Clinic
University Hospital (Case Western)
Northwestern
University of Chicago
Long Island Jewish
Paris France (ESGAR)
Lecture Topics

- MR Artifacts
- MR Angiography
- Renal Cell Carcinoma
- MRI of Prostate Cancer
- Pelvic Floor
- CT of Abdominal Pain
- Trauma CT
- MR Enterography
- Crohn’s Disease
- Pancreatic Neoplasms
- MR Urography
- Focal Liver Lesions
- Liver Metastases
- MR Safety
- MRI of Pelvic Masses
- HCC
- Enteric Emergencies
In the beginning...
SAR IEC Trip to Veracruz, Mexico
Awards
Boston
Coldest Day
0
Worst Weather

Mayo Scottsdale

Phoenix, AZ: The absolute worst place in the country to be on the night of the lunar eclipse!
Best views

Univ. of Utah

UCSF
Most homogeneous views

Indiana Univ.
University of Louisville

Most interesting honorarium
What I learned

▪ Challenges faced by new Chairs.

▪ Controversies and potential of DECT.

▪ A wide variety of creative informatics applications and solutions.

▪ That not everyone over the age of 35 knows what “detumescence” means.

▪ That the future of our specialty is in very good hands!
Advice for the next ILVP

▪ Visit Arizona and Texas in winter and Boston in Summer.

▪ Walk everywhere you can- You’ll eat well.

▪ Don’t change jobs mid year.

▪ Take lots of pictures.

▪ Have fun!!!
Special Thanks

▪ My friends and colleagues at Wake Forest and UT Southwestern.

▪ All of you who invited me into your departments and treated me like family.

▪ Carolyn Wang for helping me to start blogging.

▪ The SAR and Bracco, for still believing that the foundation of a healthy society is human interaction, not the internet.