2013 International ACCT Conference Title Sponsors
Welcome to Parallel Lines™!

We are pleased to present our Members with this online user-friendly design and format. Our goal is to provide our Members with an easy to read periodical that reflects the more modern world in which we live.

In this special Conference edition of Parallel Lines we will be sharing information about the upcoming 23rd Annual International ACCT Conference & Exposition. We will also be celebrating ACCT’s 20th Birthday! All the planning is coming together and we are looking forward to getting this exciting event under way.

We encourage you to share Parallel Lines with your colleagues in your community. Remember you can view the publication on our website at www.acctinfo.org. As always if you have a program, member or topic that should be included, let us know! We can be reached at membership@acctinfo.org.

About ACCT

The Association for Challenge Course Technology, (ACCT) is a recognized standards developer by the American National Standards Institute (ANSI) and was responsible for the development of the first Challenge Course Technology standards originally published in 1994. These internationally recognized standards are currently being maintained by ACCT through our accredited ANSI public comment process.

ACCT serves as the leading trade association for the Challenge Course and Aerial Adventure Course industries. ACCT has 41 accredited Professional Vendor Members (PVM’s) and more than 2600 members globally (including the United States, Europe, Asia, the Caribbean, Canada, Japan, Korea and Central America).

What is a Canopy Tour?
A guided aerial exploration or transit of the forest canopy, most commonly by means of a series of zip lines or aerial walkways with platforms.

What is a Challenge Course?
A facility or facilities consisting of one or more elements that challenge participants as part of a supervised educational, recreational, or therapeutic curriculum.

What is a Zip Line?
A lifeline (typically sloped) suspended between support structures that enable the participant attached to a pulley to traverse from one point to another.

Dr. Donald Perry, Keynote Speaker

A Journey Through the Trees: Inspire, Initiate, Innovate!

Dr. Donald Perry has given presentations around the world and has made the first photographic archive of the “arboreal continent.” He received his doctorate in biology from UCLA in 1983 and won the prestigious Rolex Award for Enterprise in 1984. The feature film Medicine Man, starring Sean Connery, was based upon his canopy zipline and book Life Above the Jungle Floor.

Recently Perry has completed a prototype research/bird watching cableway called Ecotram. Articles about Perry’s pioneering rain forest explorations have been published worldwide in periodicals such as Newsweek, Life, Star, Smithsonian, Geo of Germany, Paris Match, Quick of Germany, and The New York Times Sunday Magazine. His television appearances include Good Morning America, Nova, and National Geographic Explorer just to name a few. Don’t miss Dr. Perry’s amazing story to be presented directly after the Opening Ceremony, Thursday, February 7, 2013 at 4:30pm.
The Power of Connection
by Michelle Hepler
ACCT Board Chair

It is hard to imagine that ACCT is turning 20 years old in 2013. It is even harder to imagine that the conference at Red Rock Resort & Spa in Nevada will be the 23rd time that some truly amazing people will be gathering, yet again to connect, share stories about their passions, learn, give, play, and laugh with old friends.

Those same amazing people will also meet and get to know at least one new, truly amazing person at this same gathering. Certainly you are sitting there reading this thinking…I want to meet some truly amazing people!!! Well then, Nevada in February is the place to be! I attended my first ACCT conference in Orlando, Florida, in 2000. While I had been in the industry for a few years, I was a relatively new ACCT member at that time. I can remember vividly the sense of information overload, but most importantly the energy and enthusiasm, that I experienced those few days. I returned to work overflowing with information, stories, and a host of new friends who I learned had the same trouble explaining to a stranger what we do for a living. To connect and learn that you share passions with so many amazing people is priceless. Since Orlando in 2000, I must say that I’ve only missed two other ACCT conferences – Albuquerque, New Mexico and one of the years in Portland, Oregon. Making this event annually has become a priority for me. Unfortunately, at times, as an Institutional Member from the Parks and Recreation sector, travel and training and development funding has been frozen and conference attendance has been restricted. I have creatively found ways to make it work by getting involved, by volunteering in a number of ways; it’s as simple as that. By volunteering, I met more people, I found more ways to share travel costs, and most importantly, found ways to continue to give the energy I had to give. If you know me well, you know I remember things, people and events well. If you ask me to pick a favorite ACCT conference, I probably would have difficulty picking just one. I can however, recall some of the most meaningful and informative presentations, recount a ton of memories, and share a number of stories and events. As you make your plans to join us in Nevada, whether it is your 23rd gathering or your 1st – make sure you come prepared. Prepared for the energy, the enthusiasm, the professionalism, and most of all, the truly amazing people you will spend a few days with, learning, laughing, giving, and sharing. If you get the opportunity to join us, find me and I’ll be more than happy to share a memory, a story, and plenty of energy!

Full Exhibit Hall & Record Attendance for the 23rd Annual International
ACCT Conference & Expo
at the Red Rock Resort & Spa | Las Vegas, Nevada

Thursday, February 7 - Sunday, February 10, 2013 | Las Vegas, Nevada
To Register visit: www.acctinfo.org
There is still time to sign up for our annual conference. This year our International Conference and Expo will be held at the sprawling Red Rock Resort & Spa, in Las Vegas, Nevada. Close to gorgeous hiking and climbing in the Red Rock canyons, this is not your typical Vegas location. The dynamic property does have a casino, of course, yet outside are views of the Red Rock cliffs. Head to the conference center, with its sweeping verandas overlooking the pool and you will feel like you are somewhere else altogether.

Join us for ACCT’s 20th Birthday Celebration Saturday night! Yes, it has been a time of growth and ever changing practices for our industry. Meet and talk to both longstanding members as well as members new to the association. Our Networking Meal Plans are designed with this in mind. Grab some food while you discuss hot trends or past history. Face to face conversations can give meaning to some of your questions or give flight to some of your ideas.

This year eight pre-conference workshops kick off the conference on Thursday, February 7th. Spend time with the experts during in-depth presentations on personal protective gear, canopy and zip line hot topics, fun stuff games, processing tools for transforming drama, open forum for course managers and camp personnel, rescue systems, tree biology and visual inspection, and social media marketing. All attendees are encouraged to come to the Annual General Meeting (AGM), Thursday afternoon at 3:00pm. ACCT Executive Director, James Borishade, along with our ACCT Board of Directors, will share information on our industry’s latest business. Each committee will provide updates and a brief opportunity for questions.

Thursday evening kicks off the opening of our grand Exhibit Hall- filled with elaborate displays and technology you need to see! Take this opportunity to visit each of the vendors while enjoying light snacks and beverages during the Booth Crawl. We have leaders in the industry in our Exhibit Hall- whatever project or dream you have - one of these professionals can make it a reality.

Friday night we are adding some celebrity fun to the Exhibit Hall, in honor of our host city. Vendors and attendees are encouraged to dress as a movie star, singer, celebrity, superhero or other entertaining character. This may be Vegas, but keep your costume appropriate for all kinds of people. We can enjoy some creative styles and even some laughter - but let’s not have anyone need to shield their eyes! Show your creativity and you might just earn a FREE conference registration for 2014.

The Silent and Live Auctions will be held in the Exhibit Hall Friday night. Funds are raised for charitable purposes such as scholarships to the conference and for other special projects. Check out the great products and services donated by others in the industry.

Friday and Saturday, nearly 100 workshop session are available as part of your conference registration. Presenters work hard to deliver new topics as well as core industry knowledge. All workshops are held within steps of the exciting Exhibit Hall - so you can be sure to take it all in.

By popular demand - the Builder’s Olympics is back with its original name. Some things are just meant to stay! Participate or come support the teams as they compete in classic events like the cable whip and some new surprises!

Saturday afternoon brings with it the close of the Exhibit Hall - so be sure to stop by early in the day. Space is still available for closing dinner Saturday night, and can be purchased separate from the meal plan. Everyone is encouraged to attend Saturday night closing awards, ceremony, slideshow and Birthday party! Plenty of seating and social area is available for those that wish to dine elsewhere and join just for this special closing event.

If you haven’t registered yet there is still time to use the easy online registration form on the ACCT website. It’s quick, easy and saves you time at the event.

A special Thank You to the entire Conference Committee and the ACCT staff for working together to create another unique conference. This year, we look forward to seeing familiar faces and activities while trying out some new additions to the conference. Your feedback is always appreciated. If you have a last minute idea, or would like to look closer at helping plan and run this great event, please contact the ACCT office or contact me at cparisconsulting@gmail.com.

With the publication of the newest standards (8th Edition) the Canopy/Zip Line Tour (CZLT) industry has seen a gigantic step in the increase of safety measures and practices. As always, these changes have an impact on operators and builders and there is often confusion as to how to apply these changes to an existing course. It is also obvious that implementing these measures can become an economic burden to operators and sometimes a puzzle to the builder. With the intent to clear some of these issues the CZLT Committee will be offering workshops during the upcoming conference which will bring the light to all these changes. From braking systems to safety factors and operational issues, the intent of these workshops will be to educate the attendees in order to apply these changes.

The CZLT Committee will be presenting a workshop involving the new standards in order to answer questions among standards users. Changes from the previous standards will be highlighted and attendees will be able to inquire about these changes during a Q&A period.

There will also be a Pre-Conference workshop where a team of experts will be discussing some of the “Hot Topics” in this industry that have been in debate for years, as well as constructive chats. We will have a Panel of four presenters with the following topics:

Mark Glynn - Rethinking Ground Anchors. In this presentation the goal of the presenter is to educate the participants on the proper practice of designing, constructing and testing earth anchors based on the best practice currently used.

Erik Marter - Training Effective Guides. The goal of this presentation is to educate the trainer and operator on the difference between a good guide and a great guide and how this comes down to proper training.

Ben Poulter - Advancements in Braking Systems. The goal of this presentation is to demonstrate to the audience how technology developed with robust methodologies combined with adequately defined standards can be used to enable new and enhanced user experiences.

Victor Gallo - One Wire Rope or Two… Says Who? The goal of this presentation is to provide the necessary information to the builder and future tour operator as to the ins and outs, pros and cons of a single or double wire rope zip line course.

In addition to this, various Canopy/Zip Line Tour workshops will be offered throughout the conference with experienced presenters involved with this industry.
As we enter into 2013, we’re getting ready to celebrate ACCT’s 20th birthday and to rollout the first phase of the new membership package. The new membership categories and benefits were released in the Parallel Lines, Fall Edition 2012. Various information has been released in the monthly ACCT Clipboard regarding what your next steps should be. This article is written in an effort to give you more specific information on how the new package will be rolled out and what you need to be aware of.

The Membership Package will be rolled out in four (4) phases. These phases are outlined below. A few things to keep in mind in regards to the new categories:

-- You do not need to change your membership over to the new categories until you renew your membership.
-- If you currently hold an Associate Membership in a business name you will need to list the Program Director as the Individual Member or upgrade to an Organizational Membership when renewing.
-- If you currently hold an Associate Membership and want to change to the Student/Senior or Non-Profit Category before your expiration date you will not be issued a refund for the difference in membership costs.

1. Drama and the Compassionate Cycle of Innovation: Getting Unstuck with Nate Reiger and Jeff King

Experience The Cycle of Compassionate Innovation as a roadmap for transforming drama into positive change. Explore issues such as negative vs. positive conflict, facilitator drama and enabling, and the learning edge. Although we can’t guarantee smooth sailing, we promise this workshop will give you plenty to chew on, challenge some long-held habits, offer insight, and stir things up.

Nate is a founding member of Next Element Consulting, providing communication and leadership training, conflict resolution support, and outcomes measurement to clients in the US and abroad.

Jeff is also a founding member of Next Element Consulting, offering coaching, training, facilitation, and leadership skills development for organizations of all sizes and has presented many times for ACCT.

2. A Principle-based Approach to Challenge Course, Aerial Park, and Canopy Tour Rescue Systems with Brian Lisson and Dr. Kathy Haras

This one-day workshop will present information about the basic physics of rope systems and introduce analysis techniques that will allow you to make evidence-based decisions about the safety and effectiveness of different rescue strategies which can be used on challenge courses, adventure parks, and canopy tours. Bring your calculator and come prepared to analyze your favorite rescue.

Brian is President of Adventureworks! Associates Inc. in Ancaster, Ontario, and has been involved in experiential and adventure-based programming since 1983. Brian has taught ropes course and rock climbing rescue techniques for over 20 years and is actively involved in the testing and development of ropes course rescue strategies.

A Forum designed with a diversity of presenters on “Hot Topics” in the industry. Presenters have the necessary field experience in each topic to inform and educate the public on specific issues and techniques. Q & A period will be held at the end of the forum.

Victor Gallo is the current Chairman for the ACCT Canopy/Zip line Committee. He is also owner of a canopy, zip line and aerial bridge building company based out of Costa Rica.

4. OPEN SPACE for Course Managers and Camp Personnel with Tom Leahy

OPEN SPACE is an incredible meeting methodology created in the 1970’s by Harrison Owens and allows participants to come with their expertise and questions and create an environment of sharing and abundance. As a participant in OPEN SPACE, you will take an active role in your own learning and have unique power and responsibility to make sure others get the learning they need. In OPEN SPACE, you create the agenda and convene discussions that are relevant to YOU in the moment. Discussion topic areas can include ANYthing and EVERYthing you do or encounter as a course manager or camp personnel. Your questions and experience will help to develop this unique workshop.

Tom Leahy has been trained and has facilitated OPEN SPACE events since 1994. His experience with OPEN SPACE and his background as a challenge and adventure facilitator will support this first offering at the ACCT Pre-Conference.

5. Tree Biology, Structural Mechanics, and VTA for ACCT Practitioners with Scott Baker and Jake Jacob

This workshop will cover the biology of trees as it relates to people building in or near trees and/or anchoring in trees. The vibrant discussion of wrap or bolt (anchor) in trees will be thoroughly disseminated. Methods used by arborists to identify various defects in trees will be covered. The principals of adaptive structural growth in trees (self-engineering) will be discussed using actual examples.

-- Expanded pre-conference descriptions and bios are available on the ACCT website at www.acctinfo.org. --
5. Tree Biology, Structural Mechanics, and VTA for ACCT Practitioners

The attendees will also learn the basics of Visual Tree Assessment or VTA and gain a tangible knowledge of how to determine whether a tree is able to be loaded in structural use or better left alone. The information we present will also help participants understand how to observe and monitor trees supporting structures over time.

Scott is a Registered Consulting Arborist, Board Certified Master Arborist. Thirty-six years experience with trees and Challenge Courses. He has been teaching people about trees for a long time!

Jake Jacob is a treehouse builder & rigger who has co-presented with Scott numerous times on topics such as knowledge of tree entry, tree attributes/limits and successful rigging.

6. Personal Protective Equipment- Inspection, Maintenance and Management with Rick Vance

Workshop participants will learn manufacturer’s recommendations for care, maintenance, inspection, and management of life safety equipment specific to adventure courses and training organizations. The course will cover basic skills and procedures for conducting equipment examinations, and producing inspection reports. Considerations for creating a thorough life safety equipment management system and inspection regime will also be covered.

Rick Vance, Petzl America’s Technical information Manager, is a certified Personal Protective Equipment (PPE) inspector and trainer with a mechanical engineering background. Rick has extensive experience in the vertical world as a climber and mountaineer, and extensive knowledge of PPE systems for industrial and rescue applications.

7. Fun Stuff with Karl and Michelle with Michelle Cummings and Karl Rohnke

Come and join this fun duo who will present games and initiatives that can be immediately implemented into a variety of educational programs. Regardless of the size of your group, they will facilitate creative team activities that are guaranteed to elicit laughter, fun and learning, with purpose behind almost everything they do. Whether you are an experienced facilitator looking for training strategies or a beginning facilitator looking for more games for your bag of tricks, you will learn, laugh, lean, leap, and lunge in this workshop.

Michelle Cummings M.S. is the Big Wheel and founder of Training Wheels, a known leader in the Team Development industry. She is an accomplished author and is a sought-after speaker and consultant on leadership, teambuilding, and experiential learning. Michelle has created a wide variety of facilitation, debriefing and teambuilding activities that have collectively changed the way trainers and educators work. Michelle has authored 4 books to date and a 5th is in its final stages.

Karl Rohnke is quasi-retired but still travels worldwide presenting clinics concerning the use of games and initiative problems as related to various pedagogic applications. He has authored 15 books that relate to the field of adventure education including Cowstails & Cobras, Silver Bullets 1 & 2, QuickSilver, and Funn ‘n Games. He is credited for creating many of the teambuilding games we all play today. Be sure not to miss the opportunity to play with Karl at ACCT.

8. Social Media Strategies: It Takes More Than a Facebook Page and Twitter Account with Matthew Marcus

Sure you have a Facebook page and maybe a listing on TripAdvisor. But using Social Media as a tool to increase sales and grow your business or program takes more than just posting a few updates once in a while. In this lecture with live demos, you will discover Social Media strategies you can easily learn and implement for FREE or inexpensively, that will help you increase sales/participation, engage better with your current customers/participants, and help you develop your brand and reputation. By the end of this session, you will choose a handful of strategies you can start using the day you return from the conference!

With 14 years in the industry, Matt has been an early adopter of using technology and Social Media to work smarter, not harder. At the Georgia Institute of Technology for the past 6 years, Matt integrates technology and Social Media to supplement standard sales and marketing strategies. Matt believes technology is only a tool – not a crutch, but that the tool must be used wisely and with expertise to get the job done right. Matt will share with you easy, FREE, and cheap ways you too can utilize Social Media to your advantage.
