

ACJS EDITOR POSITION
Justice Evaluation Journal

The Academy of Criminal Justice Sciences (ACJS) is seeking applications for the position of Founding Editor of the Justice Evaluation Journal (JEJ). For this new official publication of the ACJS, the Editor will be responsible for establishing and administering a high-quality academic journal for our membership. The Editor will set editorial policy, select deputy and associate editors, create a peer review system, and manage the journal. Applications must meet the following criteria:

- Demonstrated record of scholarly activity as measured by such indicators as publications in refereed journals, book publication, and research. Strong preference will be given to applicants who have published research and carried out scholarly activities focused on criminal justice policy and program evaluation.
- Prior editorial experience as measured by such indicators as editorial responsibilities for other scholarly publications and past experience as a referee or associate/deputy editor of an academic journal, or other editorial experience demonstrating the applicant's ability to implement and maintain the integrity of blind review, to establish and maintain the high quality of this new publication, to communicate effectively, and to behave in a professional manner that is supportive of the mission and goals of the ACJS and consistent with the ACJS statement of ethics.
- Commitment to the ACJS Code of Ethics, particularly to Section III.C regarding research and publication.
- Earned Ph.D. or terminal degree in area of specialization.
- Senior (associate professor or above) academic rank at host institution.
- Formal declaration of support from host institution, including release time, space, and other support services the institution will commit to editorship.
- ACJS membership in good standing for three continuous years at the time of application.

Those interested in being considered should provide a formal proposal to the JEJ Editor Search Committee Chair, Prabha Unnithan, Colorado State University: Prabha.Unnithan@colostate.edu via email attachments no later than November 13, 2017. The proposal should include:

- Statement of editorial philosophy for the Justice Evaluation Journal
- Statement of applicant's qualifications, including vita;
- Formal declaration of institutional support;
- A budget including a breakdown of the expenses that will be provided by the host institution and those expected for the Academy.

The JEJ will be published twice a year. The Executive Board of the ACJS will appoint the Editor for a three-year term. The Editor's first issue will be due in early 2018. There is a $5,000 summer stipend for the Editor. Proposals for co-editorship will not be considered.

Requests for further information should be directed to the JEJ Search Committee Chair, Prabha Unnithan at Prabha.Unnithan@colostate.edu or (970) 491-6615.
