ACJS Minority Mentorship Grant Award: The deadline for Nominations is August 2, 2021. Nominations sent to: Sanja Kutnjak, kutnjak@msu.edu Copy nomination to: Angela Gover, angela.gover@ucdenver.edu

The ACJS Minorities Mentorship Grant Award was created to provide opportunities for mentorship of minority doctoral students or junior faculty by senior criminal justice professors at the same or another institution within the ACJS organization. The goal is to facilitate a mentoring relationship between new or junior faculty and senior faculty to facilitate the former's professional development for a productive criminal justice academic career. The Awardee will receive an award check and a certificate. The Mentee will receive a certificate.

The ACJS Minorities Mentorship Grant Award of $1,000 can be used for expenses of the mentor involved in working with the mentee, such as telephone, postage, travel, honorarium, or other training expenses needed to develop a focused program of mentorship. Applications should be submitted by the mentor with the agreement of a designated mentee who has agreed in writing to be mentored for one year.

To be eligible for an award, the mentor applicant must meet the following criteria:
1. A member of ACJS at the time of application.
2. A senior faculty member (full professor).
3. Demonstrated excellence in teaching.
4. Established record of scholarship productivity in criminal justice.
5. Currently teaching in a CRJ/CRIM department at a regionally accredited institution of higher education [may be at the same or different institution than the mentee].
6. Commitment to provide a one-year program of active mentorship to the mentee.
7. Submitted a complete electronic application by the due date.

To be eligible for an award, the mentee must meet the following criteria:
1. A member of ACJS at the time of application.
2. A member of an under-represented racial/ethnic minority group in the criminal justice/criminology discipline.
3. Doctoral student or junior faculty member.
4. Written commitment to a one-year program of active mentorship.

Applications must be provided electronically to the sub-committee chair by the established due date. To be eligible for the award, an applicant (potential mentor) must submit:
1. Coversheet with the following information for both the applicant and the proposed mentee:
   a. Name
   b. Statement regarding ACJS membership
   c. Current academic rank/position
   d. Race/ethnicity/
e. Institution
f. Street and e-mail address
g. Telephone and fax numbers

2. 3-5 page, single-spaced narrative addressing:
   a. Applicant's background and academic experience
   b. Description of work and research experience
   c. Short-term objectives with measurable outcomes (for example abstract or manuscript submissions, proposal development) for the period of mentorship award (one-year)
   d. Description of how the mentorship award will meet short-term and long-term objectives
   e. Compatibility of the applicant's previous work with the mentee's interests and professional goals

3. Mentoring work plan which should include:
   a. Description of the activities to be undertaken with the mentee
   b. Timeline
   c. Brief (1-page) budget and justification for the mentoring experience

4. Letter of support from mentee stating commitment to the mentorship
5. Letter of support from mentee's doctoral advisor (if relevant)

Donal MacNamara Award: The deadline for Nominations is August 2, 2021.
Nominations sent to: Charles Crawford, Charles.crawford@wmich.edu
Copy nomination to: Angela Gover, angela.gover@ucdenver.edu

The MacNamara Award for Outstanding Journal Publication was created by a donation to ACJS from Dr. Donal MacNamara, one of Academy of Criminal Justice founding scholars. The purpose of the award is to recognize outstanding scholarship published in one of the publication venues of the Academy (Justice Quarterly, Journal of Criminal Justice Education, and ACJS Today).

1. Articles must constitute a scholarly approach to the topic.
2. Present a thoughtful analysis.
3. Present insights or a novel treatment of the topic.
4. Constitute a meaningful addition to the literature.
5. Articles published in the issues delineated by policy as the timeframe for the award.

Individual nominations are not necessary for the MacNamara award because all articles published in the three ACJS venues will automatically be considered.

Academy New Scholar Award: The deadline for Nominations is August 2, 2021.
Nominations sent to: Brooke Nodeland, brooke.nodeland@unf.edu
Copy nomination to: Angela Gover, angela.gover@ucdenver.edu

The Academy New Scholar Award recognizes outstanding scholarly contributions to the student of crime and/or criminal justice by someone who has received their most recent doctoral degree within the past six years. Scholarly contributions include, but are not limited to, books, articles, book chapters, reviews, technical reports, grants, or papers to scholarly associations.

To be eligible for this award, the person must be nominated by at least one other member of the Academy and must submit a current vita for review. In addition, the applicant at the time of nomination must be a current member of ACJS and an untenured faculty member.

To apply, submit to the Academy New Scholar Award Chair the following:
1. Nomination(s) by current ACJS member(s).
2. Current vita.
3. Up to four works (articles, book, etc., as described above) for review by the Committee.

Academy Leadership and Innovation Award: The deadline for Nominations is August 2, 2021.
Nominations sent to: Stephanie Mizrahi, smizrahi@csus.edu
Copy nomination to: Angela Gover, angela.gover@ucdenver.edu

Nominations of practitioners are being accepted for the new ACJS Leadership and Innovator Award. Practitioners are individuals employed in a professional capacity in the criminal justice system, related and ancillary programs, services, and agencies such as victim services, juvenile justice, case management and treatment, drug/alcohol and mental health services, and community coalitions, as well as research, government, or public service.

This award will be given in recognition of a practitioner whose work has had a direct, positive, and significant effect on the criminal justice system, with a commitment to improving the criminal justice system. These contributions may include program development, policy implementation, education, training, direct services, research, and legislative action.

To be eligible for this award, the candidate shall have:
1. Been an outstanding leader and innovator in a professional capacity.
2. Demonstrated commitment to improving the criminal justice system.
3. Contributed to criminal justice or related programs, relevant policies, or community development.
4. Provided exemplary professional service to his or her organization.

Nominees need not be ACJS members. Regional Organizations affiliated with ACJS and ACJS members may nominate a practitioner for this award by submitting a letter of nomination. The nomination letters shall include the nominees’ full contact information, resume, and rationale for the nomination. The winner of this award is expected to attend the ACJS Annual Meeting and will receive a $600 travel stipend.
ACJS Outstanding Mentor Awards (Non-Competitive):
Nominations sent to: Jennifer LaPrade, jlaprade@MissouriState.edu
Copy nomination to: Angela Gover, angela.gover@ucdenver.edu

These outstanding mentors will be honored in recognition of the recipient's excellence in the role of student/faculty mentor as evidenced by their willingness and commitment to foster the professional growth and achievement of students and faculty.

All members of ACJS are invited to nominate candidates for these special noncompetitive honors. This is your opportunity to voice your opinion and recognize a faculty member (current or retired) who, in your judgment, deserves acknowledgment as an outstanding mentor.

Award Criteria: To be eligible, the outstanding mentor shall be a current member of ACJS and shall have:
1. Served as an outstanding role model in a professional capacity in teaching, research, and service;
2. Demonstrated commitment to the career goals of the mentee(s);
3. Contributed to the professional development of the mentee(s);
4. Encouraged graduate student involvement in professional opportunities, supporting graduate students and junior faculty membership in professional organizations, and nurturing graduate students and junior faculty contributions to professional organizations; and
5. Provided exemplary academic and professional service to graduate student and junior faculty members.

Nomination Requirements:
1. Nominees must be current members of ACJS. (All current ACJS members are listed in the ACJS online membership directory.) Nominators do not have to be current members of ACJS.
2. Nominators may be mentees of the nominee or colleagues who have personal knowledge of the nominee’s mentoring efforts and accomplishments. Self-nominations shall not be accepted.
3. Nominations must be based on either having been mentored by the nominee or personal observation of mentoring provided to others by the nominee.
4. Nominations shall be provided by a formal letter summarizing the mentor's influence on students and colleagues. The letter should provide specific information about the deserving nature of the nominee's mentoring, rather than focusing on the nominee's other professional accomplishments.
5. The nomination letter shall include the nominee’s full contact information.

Prior recipients of the ACJS Outstanding Mentor Awards are ineligible for future awards.
Ken Peak Innovations in Teaching Award: The deadline for Nominations is October 15, 2021. Nominations sent to: F. Wayne Laney, frank.laney@rccc.edu Copy nomination to: Angela Gover, angela.gover@ucdenver.edu

Purpose: The purpose of this award is to recognize and honor criminal justice and criminology faculty members for innovative teaching methods. The goal is to identify, acknowledge, and disseminate innovation in relation to learning and teaching; therefore, the focus of your applications should be clearly evidenced by specific practices that are replicable and effective.

Eligibility: The nominee must be: (1) occupying a full-time faculty appointment (i.e., lecturer, assistant professor, associate professor, professor) in a criminal justice department or program; (2) a member in good standing of ACJS; and (3) teaching courses in criminology or criminal justice at a regionally accredited, post-secondary institution. Applicants who meet the above criteria may be at any point in their career and can be either self-nominated or recommended by an academic colleague. Previous recipients are not eligible. Award recipient(s) are expected to attend the ACJS Annual Meeting and participate in the SAGE/ACJS Professional Development Teaching Workshop and present their innovative teaching method at the Workshop.

Award amount: $3,000 per awardee

Number of Awardees: 1-2

Submission of Materials: To assist the award committee, please provide the following information:

Project Description: In 100 words or less, briefly describe the innovative teaching method being placed in nomination.

Significance: In 400 words or less, describe how your instructional method uniquely increases student learning and engagement while departing from other methods. Include any creative features and originality of this approach.

Innovation: In 500 words or less, describe how this instructional approach was actually applied in the classroom. (This method may include, but is not limited to, the use of new instructional strategies, the use of traditional strategies in creative ways, the development and creation of innovative teaching materials, unique pedagogical applications of technologies, novel approaches to instruction, and innovative ways to engage students in the learning process).

Outcomes: In 500 words or less, please describe how the method was measured and determined to be effective and efficacious in enhancing student learning (student comments or course evaluations would be helpful but are not required).

Replication and Adaptation: In 500 words or less, describe the potential for others to adopt, adapt, or replicate the innovation, including a discussion of how the innovation might be used in other settings, in which type(s) of course(s), and the resources required.
Preference will be given to innovations that have the potential for replication beyond a single academic course.

SAGE Editor’s Note: This award is made possible by a generous donation from renowned author, academic, and practitioner, Ken Peak, coauthor of Introduction to Criminal Justice: Practice and Process with SAGE Publishing. Ken Peak is an emeritus professor and former chair of the Department of Criminal Justice, University of Nevada, Reno, where he was named “Teacher of the Year” by the university’s Honor Society. Following four years as a municipal police officer in Kansas, he subsequently held positions as a nine-county criminal justice planner for southeast Kansas; director of a four-state technical assistance institute for the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration (based at Washburn University in Topeka); director of university police at Pittsburg State University (Kansas); acting director of public safety, University of Nevada, Reno; and assistant professor of criminal justice at Wichita State University. As of 2018 he had authored or co-authored 36 textbooks, two historical books (on Kansas temperance and bootlegging), and more than 60 journal articles and invited book chapters. He is past chair of the Police Section of the Academy of Criminal Justice Sciences and past president of the Western Association of Criminal Justice.

NOTE: Neither Ken Peak nor employees of SAGE will have influence or input concerning the applications for, or winning of, this award.

Affirmative Action Student Scholarship Mini-Grant Travel Awards

The Academy of Criminal Justice Sciences' Affirmative Action Committee is accepting applications for two mini-grants targeted to racial/ethnic minority and women students for the purpose of promoting the involvement of all minority groups in the Academy. These grants will permit students to attend and present a research paper at the ACJS Annual Meeting in 2022. Each award will be for a maximum of $600. Recipients are required to submit receipts to receive reimbursement for their expenses. While a nominee may submit a single paper for multiple awards, a single paper may only be the basis for one ACJS scholarship award in a given year.

Eligibility:
To be eligible for the award, an applicant must meet the following criteria:

1. Be a woman or a member of a racial/ethnic group that has experienced historical discrimination.
2. Be enrolled in an undergraduate, master’s, or doctoral program of criminal justice/criminology program during some part of the academic year for the Annual Meeting at which the presentation will be made.
3. The applicant must have submitted a proposal for a paper presentation for the Annual Meeting on the ACJS website by the due date.
4. The applicant must be willing and able to attend the Annual Meeting and present the paper described in the website submission.
5. The paper can be self-submitted by the applicant student or submitted on the student’s behalf by a faculty member.
6. The paper submitted by the applicant may be co-authored with a faculty member; however, the student must be the first author and presenter.

Application Process:

1. Submit a letter of application.
2. Submit one hard copy and one electronic copy of either:
   A. A completed manuscript examining a criminal justice/criminological issue. Papers may be theoretical or describe a qualitative or quantitative research project. Completed papers should be no more than 30 pages in length. OR
   B. A proposal that outlines a paper as described in 2.A. above that the applicant will present at the ACJS annual meeting for which the mini-grant will be given. This proposal should be a maximum of 10 pages, double-spaced, typed. It should discuss (a) the nature of the research topic, (b) why the research is important, and where relevant, (c) the methods used, (d) the findings of the research, and (e) the theoretical, methodological, and/or policy implications of the results.
3. Proof of the student’s current enrollment and program of study.
4. Evidence that the student’s abstract has been accepted for presentation at the annual meeting.
5. Documentary evidence that the student will be attending the annual meeting and present the paper cited above (photocopy of airline tickets, and/or hotel reservations).

All application materials should be sent to:
Angela Taylor
Fayetteville State University
ataylo14@uncfsu.edu
Affirmative Action Committee Chair

Board Liaison:
Lorenzo Boyd
LBoyd@newhaven.edu
University of New Haven

Papers will be reviewed by a panel of ACJS Affirmative Action Committee members for organization, clarity of presentation, and quality of the theoretical/methodological work. Notification of mini-grant awards will be given in December 2021.

2022 ACJS Student Scholarship Awards

The Academy of Criminal Justice Sciences’ Student Affairs Committee is accepting nominations for the ACJS Student Scholarship Awards. Two students (one at the Masters level and another at the Ph.D. level) will receive funding in the amount of $600 each to apply towards travel to the annual ACJS conference. The award is to support meritorious scholarship by students (as evidenced by the paper the student will present) and to enable them to present their research at the Annual Meeting. The student need not have the recommendation of a faculty member in order to be considered. Self-nominations are welcome. While a nominee may submit a single paper for multiple awards, a single paper may only be the basis for one ACJS scholarship award in a given year.

Nominations shall include:

1. A letter of nomination including a statement that the paper is authored or co-authored by students. (Papers cannot be co-authored with a faculty member.)

2. One electronic copy of the paper.

3. Proof of the student's current enrollment.

4. Evidence that the student's paper has been accepted for presentation at the Annual Meeting.

5. Documentary evidence that the student will be attending the Annual Meeting and present the paper cited above (photocopy of airline tickets, and/or hotel reservations).

6. Other letters of support of the nomination may be submitted.
All papers and nomination materials should be submitted to:

ACJS National Criminal Justice Month Awards
The Academy of Criminal Justice Sciences’ National Criminal Justice Month Committee is accepting nominations for awards in recognition of National Criminal Justice Month events. Three plaques will be awarded to academic departments, schools, colleges, and/or universities for National Criminal Justice Month celebrations that focus on education and community engagement, as well as an overall program of the year award. Efforts will be made to highlight the award winners on the ACJS website as well as in ACJS Today. For more information on National Criminal Justice Month please visit:
http://www.acjs.org/page/NationalCJMonth

Education Award
The intent of this award is to recognize a National Criminal Justice Month event for the educational impact on students and the community. Applications will be assessed on the relevancy and quality of the event, as well as the impact of the event (e.g., number of people in attendance). One winning department will be selected for this award.

Community Engagement Award
The intent of this award is to recognize a National Criminal Justice Month event that meaningfully engages the community on criminal justice issues and topics. Successful events will typically include student engagement with a local criminal justice agency. One winning department will be selected for this award.

Program of the Year
The intent of this award is to recognize an academic department that successfully showcases a range of National Criminal Justice Month events. Departments that actively engage in several varied National Criminal Justice Month events will be considered. One winning department will be selected for this award.

Eligibility:
1. The person submitting the application must be a current member of ACJS.
2. The event(s) must have taken place during the month of March 2019 (National Criminal Justice Month).
Application Process*:
1. Submit a letter of application describing the National Criminal Justice Month event(s). The narrative of the letter should address the background of the academic department and provide a full description of the event in the context of the award category.
2. Submit any supplement material to support the application. Examples include pictures, video links, survey results, and letters of support from local criminal justice agencies.
*Applications may be made for each of the three awards, but departments are only eligible to win one award per year.

Application materials should be submitted to:

2022 ACJS Historical Mini-Grant Award

Purpose: The purpose of this award is to provide quality documentation of the history of the Academy of Criminal Justice Sciences (ACJS) and related significant milestones in the development of the field of criminal justice.

Rationale: This award will facilitate the systematic documentation of ACJS and criminal justice history. It offers a broad opportunity for ACJS members to enhance their research productivity.

Structure: Proposals are requested for a research project(s) of up to $5,000 over a 12-18 month period to capture a significant aspect of this history. The funds are intended to cover the cost of the research enterprise such as instruments, copies, recordings, transcriptions and travel. Where an award is less than $5,000, multiple awards, not exceeding the $5,000 amount for this purpose are possible. Areas of interest for a particular year may be identified by the ACJS Board.

2021 Area of Interest for Mini-Grant: Applicants should focus on quality documentation of the history of the Academy of Criminal Justice Sciences and related significant milestones in the development of the field of criminal justice. The specific area of interest is open.

Application: The application should not exceed three pages, typed, double-spaced, in size 12 font. It must include: a title, the applicant’s name and affiliation, the objective of the proposed work, relevant research questions, its significance, the procedures, a timeline, the deliverables, the budget and a dissemination plan.
Persons with limited grant/research experience are advised to identify a senior research mentor and indicate the nature of oversight or support that the senior party will provide toward the applicant’s success with the project. An appendix must include the applicant’s curriculum vita, and it might include a letter of support from a mentor, instruments and any related documentation, institutional review approval/progress as relevant, and the like.

Deadlines: Applications should be submitted to Melissa Burek at mwburek@bgsu.edu by December 18, 2021; the Historical Mini-Award Committee will make recommendations by February 3, 2022, for ACJS Board approval. Awards will be available in March, 2022.

Eligibility: Applicants must be current ACJS members who hold a graduate degree.

Deliverables: Deliverables must include a summary for ACJS Today, although more than one summary or article can be submitted for review. Deliverables must be rendered to the Anthony A. Peguero, Executive Board Liaison who has the responsibility of making the work/s accessible. A progress report will be due to Dr. Boyd at the mid-point of the proposed work. If the author uses the work to publish an article or other manuscript in an outlet other than ACJS Today, the author is required to include a notation that the work was funded (whole or in part) by ACJS. Dr. Boyd should be kept apprised of these additional publications so that a reference or link to the publication can be added to the ACJS website. If authors are submitting their work based on the Historical Mini-Grant Award to another publisher, they should check the publisher’s rules carefully for statements regarding whether the work has been published elsewhere; in this case, ACJS Today. The authors are cautioned to follow appropriate disclosure practices.

Administration: Melissa Burek, Executive Board Liaison will oversee this award. The review of applicants and recommendation of the award(s) will be completed by a Committee of three, chaired by a Trustee-at-Large and two ACJS members as appointed by the ACJS President.

Application materials should be submitted to:
