March 13 - 17, 2012

Dear Friends:

It is a pleasure to send greetings to everyone gathered for the Annual Meeting of the Academy of Criminal Justice Sciences.

We recognize the importance of outstanding organizations that serve as valuable resources for their members, and acknowledge ACJS’s commitment to be the premier educational forum for criminal justice professionals. Since 1963, the Academy has played a vital role in the advancement of criminal justice sciences, working to promote education, research, and policy analysis in criminal justice.

As you gather with colleagues and experts from all sectors of criminal justice to discuss “Sustainable Justice,” I am confident that you will find this Annual Meeting an excellent opportunity to share ideas and information about the latest trends and best practices of your field.

On behalf of all New Yorkers, I extend a gracious welcome to our great state and New York City, the cultural capital of the world. New York is always pleased and appreciative to host visitors from around the globe.

With warmest regards, and best wishes for a productive Annual Meeting, and an enjoyable weekend.

Sincerely,

ANDREW M. CUOMO
March 13, 2012

Dear Friends:

   It is a great pleasure to welcome everyone to the 49th Annual Meeting of the Academy of Criminal Justice Sciences.

   New York is proud to be the safest big city in the country. We have driven crime down to record lows, and we have done it by working with our non-profit partners on a number of reform initiatives—reducing juvenile detention, promoting alternatives to incarceration, and empowering parolees to get their lives back on track. As we build on this progress, we are excited to host the members of ACJS for what is sure to be another thought-provoking look at the research and analysis that is shaping the criminal justice profession today.

   On behalf of our great City, I am also delighted to welcome all of this week’s visitors. I hope you have a chance to experience firsthand the energy and excitement that have made us such a popular destination for professionals and vacationers from across the globe. Please accept my best wishes for an enjoyable visit, a productive meeting, and continued success.

Sincerely,

Michael R. Bloomberg
Mayor
Welcome everyone to the 49th Annual Meeting of the Academy of Criminal Justice Sciences! I can’t think of a more vibrant and exciting place to hold this year’s conference than here in New York City! It is truly a city that never sleeps, so the week is guaranteed to be full of opportunities to learn new things, to network with colleagues, and to have some fun in the process.

The theme we selected for this year’s conference is “Sustainable Justice” – I’m sure many of you are familiar with the concept of sustainability when it comes to the environment but may wonder how this can apply to our justice system. I like to describe it as designing and implementing policies and programs that are not only economically viable, but are also ethically responsible and further promote the principles of justice for everyone involved. To help illustrate how this philosophy can be implemented on a macro level, we have arranged for two special guests to give a keynote address, Acting Assistant Attorney General Mary Lou Leary and Ethan Nadelmann, the Executive Director of the Drug Policy Alliance. Each of these events are highlighted in the program and I hope you will set aside time in your schedule to attend.

As you will see from perusing through the program, we have put together a very full agenda with events that cover a wide range of topics and include a variety of formats. For example, each day we have scheduled a different Author Meets Critics session that will highlight a few of the dynamic books that are currently on the market. On Friday, we have once again set aside time to highlight this year’s Research and Pictorial Showcase which will feature 130 posters. Another part of the program we are very excited about is the series of Open Seminars that will be offered throughout the week. Each of these 75-minute sessions will focus on an issue related to professional development for faculty and students, such as how to get started with publishing, how to incorporate technology into the classroom, and how to prepare for an administrative role, such as becoming a Department Chair. Each session will be facilitated by individuals who have extensive experience and knowledge on the topic and is open to everyone.

With New York having so much to offer, we hope you will take some time to go out and explore the city while you are here. To help with your plans, we have put together a wonderful binder that will be kept at the main registration desk that will provide information on places to eat, directions for a host of self-guided tours of cj-related organizations (such as the United Nations, the Manhattan Court Complex, etc.), and other fun things to see and do in the city. Feel free to come look through the binder at any time!

As my time as Program Chair comes to a conclusion, I would like to extend my sincere thanks to all of the individuals who assisted me in putting this program together. To my entire Program Committee, thank you for doing such an exceptional job in handling all of the submissions and inquiries from the participants and answering my countless emails. To my two amazing assistants, Jen Burton and Kelly Milliken, thank you for being both my right and left hand, and even my brain at times, throughout this past year. Finally, to Melissa Barlow, thank you for entrusting me as your Program Chair – it was one of the most rewarding experiences of my career.

Cheers!
Heather L. Pfeifer
2012 Program Chair
Welcome to New York City and the 49th Annual Meeting of the Academy of Criminal Justice Sciences. To my knowledge, this is the first time that the ACJS annual meeting has been held in New York and I expect that many of you are as excited as I am about the opportunity to visit this amazing city. I would like to extend an especially warm welcome to those of you who have travelled from around the world to be with us in the Big Apple.

The theme for this year’s conference is Sustainable Justice, and you will see the theme reflected in two very special keynote addresses, one on Wednesday and one on Thursday. The theme is also reflected in four presidential plenary sessions and in numerous featured panels and roundtables throughout the program. Please note that we’ve included a page to tell you about the keynote and plenary sessions at the front of the program. The address by the recipient of the prestigious Bruce Smith, Sr. Award, another special event, will follow Wednesday’s keynote address. And, in support of a sustainable ACJS, I urge each of you to take part in the General Business Meeting on Friday morning at 9:30 in the Sky Lobby. This is your opportunity to get involved and have a voice in your organization. Another program highlight is the Research and Pictorial Showcase and Brunch, which will be open on Friday from 11:00 to 12:30. On Friday at 12:45, I hope that many of you will return to the Sky Lobby to attend the Presidential Address.

For me, the theme of sustainable justice is rooted in a critique of mass incarceration in the United States, and in growing evidence that the impact of most criminal justice practices is not distributed equally, but is borne by just a few neighborhoods in the major cities of each state. There is much in these related areas of research to suggest that current levels of imprisonment (and the justice practices most responsible) are anything but sustainable, not only from a fiscal perspective but also with respect to justice and public safety. On a more positive note, the theme of sustainable justice is also inspired by emerging trends in justice reinvestment, and by recent initiatives to ensure that crime and justice policy is informed by valid and reliable social science research.

Along these lines, the ACJS has made great strides in the last few years with respect to our profile in Washington D.C. and our capacity to make policy makers aware that the research of our members can help them make informed policy decisions. Over a decade ago, the ACJS moved the national office to the D.C. area as part of a commitment to increasing the national visibility of our organization. Today, the ACJS has an active agenda of regular communication with members of Congress about the importance of federal funding for crime and justice research. All of this speaks to the vibrancy of the ACJS and our capacity to bring research to bear on the pressing crime and justice issues of our day.

In addition to the more intellectual activities of the conference, I hope that you will attend the social events we have planned, beginning with the President’s Reception on Wednesday evening. Following the President’s Reception, we have arranged a special treat, an Evening Social featuring the Hot Spots. You may know the Hot Spots from their long-standing engagement at the ASC meetings, which, for me, has always been a highlight of that conference. What’s not to love about dancing the night away to rock and roll music performed by academic criminologists who are way better at rock and roll than academics have any right to be? On Friday evening, beginning at 6:30, we will celebrate the accomplishments of our colleagues at the ACJS Awards Ceremony and Reception in the Astor Ballroom on the 7th floor.
Please be sure to visit the Exhibit Hall while you are here, but remember that it closes at 2:00 p.m. on Friday. Also, those who are looking for jobs and those who are currently hiring can find each other in the Employment Exchange. There are many other meetings, gatherings, and events taking place at the conference, too numerous to mention here. I will mention, though, that Alpha Phi Sigma is holding its annual conference in the Manhattan Room, so let’s be sure to make these future leaders in our field feel welcome. In short, we have a lot going on inside the Marriott Marquis Times Square this week. Luckily, we’re in the city that never sleeps, so you will still have a chance to take in the wonderful sights, sounds, food, and culture that New York City has to offer.

Our Executive Director, Mittie Southerland, is unable to be with us for the conference this year, but I am very happy to report that she is recovering well from the health crisis she experienced a little over one year ago. I want to thank Mittie for all the support she has given me this year, despite her illness. I know I speak for her many friends in the ACJS when I say that I look forward to having Mittie back with us for the ACJS 50th anniversary next year in Dallas.

I am indebted to Heather Pfeiffer for taking on the daunting job of Program Chair and bringing to the job her usual good humor, attention to detail, and commitment to excellence. I also want to thank Lorenzo Boyd for his enthusiastic service as Deputy Program Chair, and the 2012 Program Committee for creating a fantastic program.

Many thanks to Cathy Barth, Lauren McDermott, Vanessa Sanders-Ford, and Felicia Morgan at the national office for all the great work they do for our organization throughout the year. Words cannot express how grateful I am to my new best friend, Cathy Barth, for all the support she has given me and all she has done to keep the ACJS moving forward to the 2012 conference.

Finally, thank you for the honor and privilege of serving as President of the Academy of Criminal Justice Sciences. It has been a pleasure.

- Thursday, March 15, 2012: 9:00 AM – 5:00 PM
- Friday, March 16, 2012: 9:00 AM – 2:00 PM

Thanks to the generous support of CENGAGE LEARNING

free wireless internet access will be available to all attendees in the Exhibit Hall.

Connection instructions can be found on the inside back cover of this program.
SIXTH FLOOR
The ACJS Employment Exchange (EE), located in the Broadhurst room on the 5th Floor, will open on Wednesday, March 14, at 1:00 pm and close at 5:00 pm. On Thursday, March 15, and Friday, March 16, the EE will open from 9:00 am to 5:00 pm. The EE will not be open on Saturday.

There will be 10 position announcement binders containing all job postings submitted prior to and onsite at the Annual Meeting. There will be five candidate binders similarly configured with candidate materials. Position and candidate listings will be accepted onsite at the Meeting. All announcements and candidate materials submitted during the Meeting must be 3-hole punched. Copy services will not be available in the Employment Exchange.

Tables and chairs that institutions and candidates can use for employment-related discussions will be available on a first-come, first-served basis. Institutions may wish to consider bringing a tabletop placard to make it easier for candidates to locate representatives. Institutions also are advised to determine in advance their interview/discussion schedule (i.e., who will be available on what days at what times). Interview/discussion sign-up sheets will be made available for posting, and this operation works on a self-service basis. Conference attendees are asked to provide availability and contact information to EE staff who will post availability and contact information of both parties. It is the responsibility of those parties to schedule a meeting, and provide that information to EE staff who will reserve a table for the meeting.

To facilitate communication between prospective employers and job candidates, materials for self-service messages are made available. Candidates and institutions should check the board regularly. Also, since there is no way to insure that messages will be received or delivered, institutions should consider providing contact information for representatives (e.g., name and hotel) to EE staff.

On Thursday, March 15, at 9:30 am, Jim Ruiz, Associate Professor of Criminal Justice-Penn State Harrisburg, will make a presentation entitled “Tips for a Successful Job Interview.” This presentation contains valuable information for all those who are or will be soon entering the job market.

“Doc’ has been a mentor and a guiding force for me for quite some time. The love of education that was ignited by graduate studies with Dr. Richards continues to engulf my life. I look now for people with courage, respect, loyalty, and strong character to surround me in my life. I am proud to say that Dr. George Richards is among the few that I truly call friend.”
Michael Blankenship, a professor of criminal justice and former dean of the College of Social Sciences and Public Affairs at Boise State University, died suddenly at the age of 56.

Blankenship was dean from June, 2002 until December, 2006, when he joined the Department of Criminal Justice on a full-time basis. He came to Boise State from East Tennessee State University, where he served as chair of the Department of Criminal Justice and Criminology, associate dean of the College of Arts & Sciences and director of the Teaching and Learning Center.

“Mike was highly respected by his students, who were engaged by his lively debates; by his colleagues, who appreciated his passion for teaching and reforming the criminal justice system; and by the Treasure Valley community, who were touched by his outreach and advocacy,” said Boise State President Bob Kustra. “He will be missed as a vital member of our campus community.

During his tenure as dean, he initiated new research centers focused on urban and regional planning, aging, and Idaho history and politics. He also helped launch graduate programs in urban and regional planning, gerontology and anthropology.

A native of Asheville, N.C, his was an amazing journey from GED to Ph.D. He served as a police officer for seven years, eventually earning a bachelor of science in criminal justice and a master’s in public affairs from Western Carolina University, and a Ph.D. in criminal justice from Sam Houston State University.

He was a leader in teaching innovations, using state-of-the-art technology to facilitate student learning. His research focused on capital punishment and white-collar crime and he regularly was quoted by media as an expert on crime and social justice issues.

Drug Policy and Sustainable Justice

Ethan A. Nadelmann

Described by Rolling Stone as “the point man for drug-policy-reform efforts,” Ethan Nadelmann is one of the world’s most respected and high profile critics and commentators on U.S. and international drug control policies. Born in New York City, Nadelmann received his BA, JD, and PhD in Political Science from Harvard and M. Sc. in International Relations from the London School of Economics.

Nadelmann founded The Lindesmith Center, a leading drug policy institute created in 1994 with the philanthropic support of George Soros. In 2000, the growing Center merged with another organization to form the Drug Policy Alliance, which advocates for drug policies grounded in science, compassion, health and human rights. He now serves as the Executive Director of Drug Policy Alliance, the nation’s leading drug policy reform organization.

Nadelmann’s critiques of U.S. drug control policies and recommendations regarding harm reduction strategies and other alternatives to punitive drug prohibition have attracted international attention and played a decisive role in stimulating the growing debate over drug policy worldwide. He has spoken directly to diverse audiences throughout the world and appeared on scores of radio and TV programs in dozens of countries around the world.

Update on the Office of Justice Programs

Mary Lou Leary
Acting Assistant Attorney General
U. S. Department of Justice

Mary Lou Leary joined the Office of the Assistant Attorney General at the Office of Justice Programs in May 2009 when she was appointed Deputy Assistant Attorney General. She was named Principal Deputy Assistant Attorney General in September 2009. Prior to that, she served as Executive Director of the National Center for Victims of Crime, a private nonprofit in Washington, DC, for four years.

From 1999 to 2001, Ms. Leary’s service at the U.S. Department of Justice included acting Assistant Attorney General for the Office of Justice Programs, Deputy Associate Attorney General for the Office of the Associate Attorney General, and acting Director of the Office of Community Oriented Policing Services.

Ms. Leary has also served as United States Attorney, Principal Assistant and then Senior Counsel to the United States Attorney for the District of Columbia, and Chief, Superior Court Division. Her career included extensive trial and grand jury experience as Assistant United States Attorney in the District of Columbia and Assistant District Attorney in Middlesex County, Massachusetts.

Lori Pompa has been going in and out of prisons and jails since 1985. She is on the faculty of the Department of Criminal Justice at Temple University, and is Founder and Director of The Inside-Out Prison Exchange Program which, for the past 14 years, has created opportunities for social change through dialogue between those inside and those outside of our nation’s correctional facilities.

Pompa served as Director of Experiential Learning for Temple’s College of Liberal Arts from 2000 until 2003. Since beginning at Temple, she has taken nearly 15,000 students into prisons, jails, and other correctional facilities, through tours, workshops, and other types of exchanges.

As a 2003 Soros Justice Senior Fellow, she collaborated with others on both sides of prison walls to develop Inside-Out into a national model of transformative pedagogy.
Delancey Street is considered the nation’s leading self-help residential education center for former substance abusers and ex-convicts. We have about 1500 residents located in five facilities throughout the country: New Mexico, New York, North Carolina, Los Angeles, and headquartered in San Francisco. Presenters Brett Crawford and Ramiro Mejia are residents of Delancey Street in San Francisco.

All residents of Delancey Street receive a high school equivalency and are trained in three different marketable skills before graduating. Residents learn not only academic and vocational skills, but also interpersonal and social survival skills, along with the attitudes, values, sense of responsibility, and self-reliance necessary to live in the mainstream of society drug-free, successfully, and legitimately. We have accomplished all this at no cost to the taxpayer or the client.

Over 15,000 men and women have graduated into society as taxpaying citizens leading successful lives, including lawyers, truck drivers, sales people, the various medical professions, realtors, mechanics, contractors, and even a member of the San Francisco Board of supervisors, the President of the San Francisco Housing Commission, a deputy coroner, and a deputy sheriff.

ACJS 49TH Annual Meeting
Marriott Marquis Times Square
Wednesday, 3:30 to 4:45 in Westside 1, 5th Floor
Dr. John H. Laub is Director of the National Institute of Justice, the research arm of the United States Department of Justice. He is also a Distinguished University Professor of Criminology and Criminal Justice on leave from the University of Maryland, College Park. With Robert Sampson, Dr. Laub was the 2011 recipient of the prestigious Stockholm Prize in Criminology, for their research showing why and how criminals stop offending.

He has published extensively, including two award-winning books: Crime in the Making: Pathways and Turning Points Through Life (Harvard University Press, 1993) and Shared Beginnings, Divergent Lives: Delinquent Boys to Age 70 (Harvard University Press, 2003), both coauthored with Robert Sampson.

Dr. Laub received his B.A. from the University of Illinois, Chicago, and his M.A. and Ph.D. in criminal justice from the State University of New York at Albany.

Thursday, 2:00 to 3:15 in Westside 1, 5th Floor
Presidential Plenary Session

Reframing Public Safety within the Context of Sustainable Development

Eric Cadora
Justice Mapping Center
School of Criminal Justice, Rutgers University

Eric Cadora is Founder and Director of the Justice Mapping Center, created in 2007 to design, launch, and administer the National Justice Atlas of Sentencing and Corrections. The Center produces geographical analyses and maps of the residential distribution of correctional populations to help states and local jurisdictions analyze, rethink, and tailor their use of criminal justice and related government resources to high incarceration and reentry neighborhoods.

The Justice Mapping Center works with a variety of national partners, including: the Pew Charitable Trusts, the Council of State Governments, the JFA Institute, and the Columbia University Spatial Information Design Lab, and in several states, including: New York, Connecticut, Florida, Louisiana, Texas, and Arizona, as well as in the United Kingdom.

Cadora is author of numerous articles on neighborhood level impacts of incarceration and co-author, with Todd Clear, of the book Community Justice, a review of the emergence of community policing in the 1980s, community courts in the 1990s, and community corrections in the new millennium.
It happened in the flash of a moment. And now, a Black man is dead—another is behind bars—awaiting his fate.

In That Moment

A one-act play
By Ross London and Jonathan Butler

ACJS Annual Meeting – New York Marriott Marquis Times Square
Thursday, March 15, 6:30 – 7:45 PM
Odets Room, 4th Floor

The Play—The play transports the audience into the mind of a young African American man, behind bars for a homicide, as he struggles to understand what he did—what he is.

In That Moment gives a human face to the complex issue of minorities in policing. Filled with dramatic tension, anguish, spirituality and music, through a series of unexpected twists, it challenges the audience—Black and White, liberal and conservative—to think about the hard issues of policing in the inner city with unflinching candor and genuine compassion.

In That Moment was created through the unique collaboration of two authors: one Black, one White, longtime friends and colleagues who share a passion for justice. Jonathan Butler, whose life experiences form the basis of the play, is a police officer with the Hoboken, New Jersey Police Department. Ross London is a former criminal court judge, professor of Justice Studies at Berkeley College, and the author of Crime, Punishment and Restorative Justice: From the Margins to the Mainstream. (Lynne Reinner, 2011).

Panel Discussion—Following the play, a panel of police officers, professors and community leaders will discuss with ACJS members the issues raised by the play.

ACJS event 296A. Admission is free.

Annual Meeting Presentation Categories

Panels
A Panel consists of four or five presenters of written papers and a panel chair. Presenters make formal presentations of completed works. The Panel chair opens and closes the session and coordinates questions and comments from the audience.

Feature Panels are panels that are likely to be of special interest to a wide audience or may feature one or more special guests.

Author Meets Critics
Author Meets Critics is a moderated discussion between the author(s) of a recent scholarly published work and three or four critics of the work’s methodology and findings.

Roundtables
A Roundtable is an open discussion of a topic, organized by a moderator and involving several individual discussants with special knowledge or expertise in the topic area. Discussants can be academics, practitioners, or students. No formal papers are presented. Often the discussion concerns diverse viewpoints or findings in a topic area.

Feature Roundtables are roundtables of special interest to a wide audience or may feature one or more special guests.

Open Seminar
An Open Seminar involves one or more presenters on more practical educational opportunities on such topics as looking for funding, grant writing, finding a job, developing course syllabi, or becoming a new department chair. Open seminars can also be hands-on experiences that involve the audience as participants, such as mock job interviews or victim offender mediations. An Open Seminar is in a different format than a roundtable or panel, because there are no discussants and no scholarly papers presented. All Open Seminars are open to all conference participants with no advance registration required.

Research and Pictorial Showcase
The Research and Pictorial Showcase is a collection of visual displays of research that encourages informal interaction between authors and audience. This event occurs Friday, 11:00 a.m.-12:30 p.m.

STATE-SPECIFIC

NEW! State-Specific Criminal Justice Series

One drawback with many current books is that they pertain to the really non-existent "American" criminal justice system and ignore the local landscape. Each state has deliberately designed its own legislature, executive branch, law enforcement system, court and appellate review system, state supreme court, correctional system, and juvenile justice apparatus. Texts in this series are designed to be used as primary texts or as supplements to more general introductory criminal justice texts.

The ETS® Major Field Test for Criminal Justice

Now there is a way to independently and consistently evaluate students’ mastery of their major field of study and demonstrate the effectiveness of your program. The ETS® Major Field Test for Criminal Justice draws questions specifically from subject matter common to most undergraduate criminal justice programs, including law, law enforcement and the United States court system. It is designed to measure such skills as:

- critical thinking
- interpreting and analyzing data
- applying concepts and ideas
- considering theories and relationships

The results offer you the data you need to:

- track and evaluate student mastery in the field of Criminal Justice
- enhance teaching and learning with reliable, hands-on, actionable data
- gauge your institution’s performance for accreditation and accountability initiatives
- inform future program and course planning
- demonstrate the strength of your program to prospective students and faculty

How Can You Get Started?
Elevate your resume to the top of the pile by putting the LPQ certification designation next to your name. The LPQualified certification program will give you a head start over other applicants by demonstrating that you have basic knowledge of loss prevention strategies and retail business principles. When retail hiring managers see your LPQ designation, they will know that you have both the knowledge and motivation to be a success in a well-paid position in a Fortune 500 company.

Learn more about a career in loss prevention at www.losspreventionfoundation.org/O1.html

Register for the LPQ certification program at www.losspreventionfoundation.org/lpq.html

Students who become student members of The Loss Prevention Foundation receive a 10% discount on the on-line course. To become certified, you must successfully complete a proctored examination. The LPQ qualifies towards credits at Eastern Kentucky University & Fairleigh Dickinson University.

TEXAS STATE UNIVERSITY-SAN MARCOS NOW OFFERS A Ph.D. DEGREE IN CRIMINAL JUSTICE

Why a Ph.D. from Texas State University’s Department of Criminal Justice?

- The department has 27 full-time faculty members with backgrounds in criminology/criminal justice, law, sociology, and psychology.
- The Center for Geospatial Intelligence and Investigation is headed by Dr. Kim Rossom who is the world’s leading expert on geographic profiling.
- Doctoral students are both traditional, full-time students and part-time, working professionals.
- Doctoral teaching assistantships are available.

New Faculty in 2010-2011: Dr Marcus Felson, Dr Mitch Chamlin, Dr. Beth Sanders

The Department of Criminal Justice at Texas State University-San Marcos offers a doctoral program for (1) criminal justice professionals who seek advanced education and (2) students who will pursue academic appointments at colleges and universities in Texas and around the nation. Texas State University-San Marcos is located in the heart of the central Texas corridor, near sixteen state criminal justice offices and thirteen Texas counties, including Travis (Austin) and Bexar (San Antonio). The university’s geographic proximity to state criminal justice agency headquarters for law enforcement, criminal courts, and corrections, and to managers and executives in these agencies, makes it an ideal location for offering a doctoral-degree program.

The doctoral program is part of a vibrant department, with approximately 800 bachelor’s students and 150 master’s students. Faculty members are involved in a wide range of applied and basic research. A list of faculty and their research interests is available at www.cj.txstate.edu/people/faculty.

For more information, contact:
Dr. Mark Stafford, Doctoral Coordinator * stafford@txstate.edu * (512) 245-5410 * www.cj.txstate.edu
Students have the opportunity to select specialized areas of study within the criminal justice field, including areas such as investigative science, law enforcement and criminal behavior.

Program features:

- Full-time and part-time options.
- Over 30 full-time faculty members, with specializations in areas such as Criminology, Law Enforcement, Victimology, National Security, Forensic Science and Law and Public Policy.
- Scholarships, Graduate Assistantships and Teaching Fellowships for qualified students.
- A selective program that enables each student to receive individual instruction and mentoring.
- Located in suburban West Haven, CT and part of the Greater New Haven Community.
- Strong relationships with a wide range of public and private organizations which offer graduate students significant opportunities to develop data sources and research opportunities.

Also offering Bachelors Programs in Criminal Justice & Forensic Science, and Masters Programs in Criminal Justice, Forensic Science & National Security.

We at NEACJS are dedicated to the advancement of Criminal Justice as a science, a profession and as an educational discipline. We believe that we have a responsibility and a voice in establishing and executing the policies associated with our discipline. Criminal Justice is dynamic and requires constant involvement by those of us who hold positions within our respective organizations that allow us to drive policy decisions in a positive direction. NEACJS is fortunate to have many dedicated and hard-working members who are in large part responsible for many of the advances that have taken place and will continue to take place in the world of Criminal Justice.

If you are not a member of our wonderful organization and you are from our area please consider joining NEACJS. Please visit us at the NEACJS Table located in the vendor’s exhibition space during this conference.

ACJS INFORMATION
The Academy of Criminal Justice Sciences is an international organization established in 1963 to foster professional and scholarly activities in the field of criminal justice. ACJS promotes scholarly research and professional activities within the discipline of criminal justice for both educators and practitioners. The Academy also provides a forum for disseminating ideas related to issues in research, policy, education, and practice within the field. Additionally, the Academy offers sections that address special interests of the members.

The Academy attributes its success in creating this dynamic professional association to the composition of its membership. ACJS is comprised of members from a variety of backgrounds including:

♦ Scholars who are international in scope and multidisciplinary in orientation, ♦ Professionals from all sectors of the criminal justice system, and
♦ Students seeking to explore the criminal justice field as future scholars or practitioners.

Through the vital interchange of ideas among these groups, ACJS members develop and share knowledge about critical issues regarding crime, criminal and social justice.

Academy of Criminal Justice Sciences

Certification for Academic Programs

The Academy of Criminal Justice Sciences Certification Standards for Academic Programs were approved May 2, 2005 and amended October 28, 2005 by the ACJS Executive Board. The goal of ACJS in adopting these Standards and implementing a Certification Review process is to measurably improve the quality of criminal justice education. For several years, ACJS had Minimum Standards for Criminal Justice Education and these standards were used in a peer review process through ACJS Academic Review. The new standards and process represent an evolution from “peer review” to “certification”. The ACJS Certification is designed to evaluate evidence-based compliance with the Certification Standards.

What do we mean by compliance with standards? The ACJS Executive Board will Certify those programs that undergo ACJS Certification Review and that have demonstrated, through substantive, credible evidence, the program meets or exceeds all parts of every standard. The emphasis is on evidence, not intention. Programs are required to provide evidence of program quality & effectiveness based on program outcome assessment.

The Certification Standards are broken into nine sections, each of which has specific Standards and Recommended Indicators. The sections are:

- A: Program Mission & History
- B: Program Structure & Curriculum
- C: Faculty
- D: Admission & Articulation
- E: Resources
- F: Student Services
- G: Integrity
- H: Program Quality & Effectiveness
- I: Branch Campuses, Additional Locations, and Other Instructional Sites

The Certification Standards for Academic Programs and Process for Undergoing Review are available for Associate, Baccalaureate, and Master’s degree programs. You can access these Standards at the following web addresses:

- Associate Degree Process and Standards - http://www.acjs.org/pubs/167_667_12020.cfm

The Application for Program Certification and other documents can also be downloaded from the Certification page on the ACJS website: http://www.acjs.org/pubs/167_667_3517.cfm

NOTE: All papers presented at the 2013 ACJS Annual Meeting are to be original works never before published, printed, or accepted for presentation elsewhere.

All attendees at the ACJS Annual Meeting shall abide by the ACJS Code of Ethics. A copy of the Code of Ethics can be found on the ACJS website, www.acjs.org.
Program Guidelines

All program participants are required to pre-register for the conference and to provide their own transportation and meeting expenses. The form for downloading and submitting pre-registration is available at www.acjs.org on the Annual Meeting page of the website.

Abstracts should be submitted only once via the ACJS website. DO NOT SEND ABSTRACTS DIRECTLY TO THE TOPIC AREA CHAIRS. If you have questions about your submission, please send them to the Program Chair, Lorenzo Boyd at ACJS2013@uncfsu.edu

LCD projectors will be available in the meeting rooms. No laptops/computers or overhead projectors will be provided. Additional audio/video equipment is the responsibility of the presenter. Individuals wanting additional equipment must either bring their own equipment to the conference or make arrangements through the hotel for equipment rental.

ACJS Program Participation Options

Research Showcase
The Research Showcase is a collection of visual displays of research that encourages informal interaction between authors and audience. The primary author of a Research Showcase presentation must be in attendance and committed to standing near his or her presentation throughout the allotted Friday 11:00 a.m. – 12:30 p.m. session.

Paper Presentations
Panels consist of four or five presenters of written papers and a panel chair. Presenters make formal presentations of completed works. The panel chair opens and closes the session and coordinates questions and comments from the audience. Participants who select this option are expected to send their finished papers to the Panel Chair two weeks prior to the conference.

Roundtables
Roundtables are open discussions of a topic, organized by a moderator and involving several individual discussants with special knowledge or expertise in the topic area. No formal papers are presented. Often the discussion concerns diverse viewpoints or findings in a topic area.

Feature Panels
Each topic area has co-chairs. One of the co-chairs is responsible for soliciting papers for a complete panel and discussants for a roundtable presentation. These complete panels and roundtables will be featured in the conference program.

Complete Panels
A complete panel consists of coordinating the arrangement of four papers related to a common theme. The person facilitating the complete panel must include a panel chair, panel title, and four papers with all supporting information for the papers at the time of submission to the website. Participants involved in this option are expected to send their finished papers to the Panel Chair two weeks prior to the conference.

Student Authored Paper Panels
Undergraduate and graduate student authors may submit their papers to a regular topical area of their choice where they will present with other faculty and practitioners. However, students have the option to submit their papers for presentation on an all-student panel. These panels are on a variety of topical areas, and are designed to facilitate initial presentations in a supportive and welcoming environment. Participants who select this option are expected to send their finished papers to the Panel Chair two weeks prior to the conference. Students who select this option should send to a “student panel” and NOT to a topical area.

 Submission Procedures

All submissions must be made via the ACJS webpage: http://www.acjs.org. The submission system for the 2013 annual meeting will be available no later than June 1, 2012. Do not send submissions directly to the individual committee members. Please note that the ACJS Annual Program book is created from the information you submit online. To reduce the number of errors in the program, please review and verify that all the information you enter into the submission form is complete and correct before you click the submit button. Please be sure that the first and last names are in the appropriate places.

Before beginning the submission process, please have all the following required information available. All submissions must include:

1. Submission Type (Click on the appropriate submission type): research showcase, paper presentation, roundtable, complete panel, or student panel. When submitting a complete panel, the chair information and information for up to four papers must be entered.

2. Title of paper, research showcase presentation, roundtable or complete panel.

3. An abstract of no more than 100 words must be submitted for each paper and roundtable. An abstract should be included for each paper on the complete panels. When submitting a complete panel, the chair’s form will include requested times and dates for the panel. This is a benefit of putting together a complete panel.

4. Contact information for each author, presenter, chair, etc. [Note: Paper submissions are limited to the presenter and five co-authors.]

CALL FOR NOMINATIONS

The ACJS Nominations and Elections Committee is soliciting nominations for the following Academy of Criminal Justice Sciences offices: Second Vice President, Secretary, Trustee-at-Large, Region One Trustee, and Region Five Trustee. All candidates for office must be regular ACJS members in good standing. The individuals who are elected will take office at the Friday 2013 ACJS Executive Board Meeting.

The person elected to the office of Second Vice President will have a four-year term of office on the ACJS Executive Board and will hold the offices of Second Vice President, First Vice President, President, and Immediate Past President in turn. The person elected to the office of Secretary will have a three-year term. The person elected to a Regional Trustee position will have a three-year term. Only current ACJS Regular members living in the Region (One or Five) and having been a member of the respective regional association for at least one full year may run for the respective Trustee position. Region One includes Connecticut, Delaware, the District of Columbia, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont, and the Canadian Provinces of New Brunswick, Newfoundland, Nova Scotia, Ontario, Prince Edward Island, and Quebec. Region Five includes the states of Alaska, California, Hawaii, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, Oregon, Utah, Washington, Wyoming, the Canadian Provinces of Alberta and British Columbia, and the Pacific Territories and Possessions.

Individuals seeking ACJS office may achieve candidacy by either petition or nomination. Individuals who use the petition process automatically secure candidacy, as long as the petitions are deemed to meet the minimum number of signatures required. Individuals who are nominated for office shall compete for placement on the slate via review by the Nominations and Elections Committee, which will make a recommendation to the ACJS Executive Board regarding the final slate of candidates. Those nominating individuals for ACJS office are expected to contact the nominee to ensure that the nominee is willing to run for the office in question. An ACJS member seeking an office via petition must obtain seventy-five (75) signatures of Regular ACJS members in good standing. The petition must state the name and complete address of the candidate, e-mail address, home and office phone numbers, and the office the candidate is seeking. To facilitate verification, the petition must also include the clearly printed name, signature, and institutional affiliation or address of each ACJS member signing it and the signature date. More than one petition form may be submitted on behalf of a specific candidate.

Nomination Forms Must Be Postmarked By July 1, 2012. The Nomination Form can be accessed directly from the ACJS Home Page or at: http://www.acjs.org/pubs/uploads/callfornominationsFORM.doc.

Petition Forms Must Be Received No Later Than June 15, 2012. The Petition Form can be accessed directly from the ACJS Home Page or at: http://www.acjs.org/pubs/uploads/Petition.doc.

Mail all nominations and petitions to:
Melissa Barlow, Chair
ACJS Nominations and Elections Committee
Academy of Criminal Justice Sciences
7339 Hanover Parkway, Suite A
Greenbelt, MD 20770.

Address any questions to the Committee by contacting Dr. Barlow at mbarlow@uncfsu.edu or (910) 672-1972.

As per ACJS Policy 303.01, the following rank-ordered criteria will be used by the Nominations and Elections Committee in making recommendations to the ACJS Executive Board regarding the final slate of candidates.

1. Dependability, demonstrated experience, record of accomplishments.
2. Demonstrable service to the Academy.
3. Demonstrable record of scholarship or contributions to the field of criminal justice.

ACJS Policy 104.01 states its goal of inclusivity. ACJS seeks to provide opportunities for all its members to participate in the business of the Academy, including policy and decision-making.

NOTE: The final slate of candidates approved by the ACJS Executive Board will be asked to complete a Candidate’s Information Form. This document will include length of ACJS membership, previous service for ACJS, previous service to other criminal justice organizations, major publications, and a candidate’s statement.
