Message from the Chair—Dr. Adam Matz

Dear members, I look forward to seeing everyone at the 2022 annual meeting in Las Vegas from March 15-19th. The theme of this year’s conference is Avenues of Change: Integrating Research, Advocacy, and Education. There will be a variety of topic areas of interest to section members including panels organized under Reforming Corrections, Reducing Mass Incarceration, and more. The executive board is currently in the progress of organizing our annual reception and reviewing award nominations. In addition, you will soon receive a ballot for electing a new secretary/treasurer and two executive counselors. Keep an eye out for those correspondences and please take a moment to vote in these elections. In addition, the journal Corrections: Policy, Practice and Research is seeking out reviewers. If you have an interest in serving as a peer reviewer feel free to contact Dr. Ryan Labrecque (ryan.labrecque@ucf.edu), associate editor of CPPR and an executive counselor of the section.

Corrections Section Purpose

The purpose of the Corrections Section is to bring together academy members who have a particular interest in corrections, to facilitate and encourage research and theory development related to corrections, to encourage appropriate and effective teaching techniques and practices for corrections courses, to serve as a resource network for and encourage interaction among academic, research, practitioner and policy-making sectors in order to further knowledge about corrections, and to encourage the organization of corrections-related

Solicitations for op-eds or research items are welcome for the next edition of the newsletter!

Encourage Student Membership

As a section of ACJS we value all of our members but are especially committed to increasing and improving student memberships. This is a great time to double-check your own membership in ACJS and the section as well as recruit a couple of students to also join the section when they join ACJS or renew their membership. If you join/renew now, you’ll be just in time to buy a great T-shirt and for our virtual meeting in April?

Corrections: Policy, Practice, and Research — Call for Papers!

CPPR is a peer-reviewed journal with a broad correctional focus encompassing a wide range of relevant topics and innovative approaches from new theoretical perspectives and research findings to their implications for improving policy and practice. Both national and international in scope, the journal will address these issues and challenges as they relate to sentencing, prisons, jails, and community corrections. Manuscripts should be submitted electronically. The online submission website is: https://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/cppr.

Manuscripts should be no more than 25 double-spaced pages, Times New Roman, 12 point font, 1” margins. No color pictures, graphs or tables should be included. Authors should follow all formatting guidelines of the APA Publication Manual, 7th Edition.
