

Career Aspirations and Strategies for CLE Professionals

By:

Dr. Farouk Dey
Carnegie Mellon University

Presented at:
ACLEA 49th Mid-Year Meeting
February 2-5, 2013
Clearwater, FL

Dr. Farouk Dey

Career and Professional Development Center, Carnegie Mellon University
Pittsburgh, PA

Dr. Farouk Dey has over 15 years of progressive leadership experience in university student affairs, including career services, residence life, and new student programs. He currently serves as the Director of the Career and Professional Development Center at Carnegie Mellon University. Throughout his career, he served in many leadership roles at the University of Florida, Washington State University, the American College Personnel Association (ACPA), and the National Association for Colleges and Employers (NACE). Dr. Dey has earned a PhD in Higher Education Administration and a Specialist degree in Higher Education Administration from the University of Florida, a Master's degree in Counseling Psychology and an MBA from Washington State University, and a Bachelor's degree in Business Administration from the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee. His research interests focus on areas identity development, trends in higher education, diversity and multicultural competence, and authenticity in leadership and career development. A native of Algeria, he currently lives in Pittsburgh, PA with his wife Amel and their two children Ilyas and Yasmine.

