

Examples of Preventive Medicine Training Opportunities

Graduate Medical Education Committee – American College of Preventive Medicine

Type of site	Specific Type of clinical care, in addition to the general competencies
Refugee health	Screening for, treating counseling on diseases prevalent in refugee populations; Population based procedures
Student health	Screening for, treating counseling on diseases prevalent in student health populations; Population based procedures
Employee health	Employee medical focused clinical care Employee medicine focused population based procedures
In patient PM	Screening for, treating and counseling for the prevention component of diseases that resulted in hospital admissions Advance patient safety; Population based procedures
Outpatient PM	Screening for, treating and counseling for the prevention component of diseases that resulted in outpatient visits Advance patient safety; Population based procedures
Community health centers	Primary, secondary and tertiary prevention in patients with limited resources; Population based procedures
Public health departments	Primary, secondary and tertiary prevention in patients with limited resources; Population based procedures
TB clinic	Screening, treatment and counseling for latent and active tb Population based procedures
Comprehensive outpatient public health clinics	Emphasis on tb, std, family planning, well child Population based procedures
Occupational medicine clinical training sites	Occupational medical focused clinical care Occupational medicine focused population based procedures
Aerospace clinical training sites	Aerospace medical focused clinical care Aerospace medicine focused population based procedures
Travel clinics	Screening and counseling, as well as anticipatory prescribing for pre-travelers; Population based procedures
Corporate wellness clinics/employee health service	Primary, secondary and tertiary prevention in a work setting Population based procedures
Community wellness center	Primary, secondary and tertiary prevention Population based procedures
Clinical trials/demonstration grants	variable
International rotations	Primary, secondary and tertiary prevention in patients with limited resources Population based procedures
Telemedicine	Primary prevention, recommendations for secondary and tertiary prevention
Quality Assurance Organizations	Quality improvement, risk management
Local, State, and Federal public health organizations	Primary, secondary and tertiary prevention where appropriate Population based procedures

NB: "Population based procedures" include: surveillance, population based interventions, outbreak investigation, contact investigation, grant writing, needs assessment, program planning, community interventions, quality improvement, epidemiologic assessment, research, etc.