VIDEOS FROM THE 2021 ANNUAL CONFERENCE AVAILABLE THIS WEEK

Once again for 2021, the Annual Conference was held in an entirely virtual format primarily using Zoom on-line software with some webinar format sessions as well. Each session* was recorded for your use post-conference. It has taken longer than we anticipated to bring these videos to your access, but finally your patience has been rewarded.

ACCESSING VIDEOS: If you were a registered attendee for ACSP2021, later today you will receive an email via Event Owl on-line software from Donna Dodd, ACSP Executive Director. If you don’t see it before this Friday, please check your spam folder! The message includes a web link for access to the videos, the email you used to register for the conference as your username, and an automatically generated password for the Event Owl software. Because you were an attendee of the conference, or have subsequently paid for a subscription to view them, these videos are yours to access for a full-year.

*Some people contacted the organization and asked that we not share their presentation, or entire session video. We worked to comply with these requests. Please let us know immediately if there's more we need to do on anyone's behalf in this regard.

If you have a question about a particular video, please contact Damien Raimondi, damien@acsp.org.

Didn't attend the conference? You still can with video access! If you know someone who would like to access the videos and needs a subscription, please have them contact stephanie@acsp.org.

The link to access the conference videos will also be located in our ACSP conference archives webpage.
