ANNOUNCING 2021 LINCOLN CURRICULUM INNOVATION AWARD

The Lincoln Institute of Land Policy is offering three $7,000 awards for exemplary courses.

Via a partnership collaboration with the Association of Collegiate Schools of Planning (ACSP), the Lincoln Institute of Land Policy (the "Institute") invites educators to submit exemplary courses for a Curriculum Innovation Award. To prepare future planners to solve economic, social, and environmental challenges facing communities world-wide, the award seeks courses that:

- Incorporate innovative design of learning experiences to sustain learner engagement, foster creative applications of policies, tools, and practices, and encourage different ways for learners to express and demonstrate their knowledge and skills;
- Integrate expertise from multiple disciplines, connect theory and research to practice, and incorporate insights from professionals in the field to fill essential knowledge and skills gaps and inspire new ways of thinking; and
- Have been taught with measurable student success and have gathered and used student feedback and

Our Mission

The Association of Collegiate Schools of Planning promotes education, research, service and outreach in the United States and throughout the world by seeking to:

- recognize diverse needs and interests in planning;
- improve and enhance the accreditation process, and;
- strengthen the role of planning education in colleges and universities through publications conferences, and community engagement;
- extend planning beyond the classroom into the world of practice.
