Weekly Highlights

2022 Best Paper Award in Planning & Entrepreneurship

In partnership with the Ewing Marion Kauffman Foundation, ACSP is pleased to announce two annual awards for promising research studying the connections between planning and entrepreneurship.

The purpose of this award program is to encourage innovative, insightful and timely research in city, community, urban or regional planning that is relevant to questions related to entrepreneurs and their firms as well as to practitioners and policymakers who want to promote entrepreneurship. Research that has direct practical implications and addresses pressing economic and/or social problems is especially appropriate for these awards.

A total of $3,000 in prize money will be awarded. Learn more here.
$13,000 USD Available for ACSP Student & Travel Awards

We have great news for students! ACSP, along with our award sponsors, has increased the overall prize money for student awards this year. We are giving away more than $6,000 USD in academic award money and $7,000 USD in travel scholarships.

Nominations for all student and faculty awards are being accepted now through June 1. Winners will be honored as part of the ACSP Annual Conference.

Visit our website for the full list of awards and nominate yourself or another deserving candidate today!

Volunteer as a Discussant for ACSP2022

There are several volunteer opportunities available for the up-coming Annual Conference and we are currently looking for discussants.

Discussants should be knowledgeable about their session topic and will receive papers prior to the conference for review. We ask that they offer compelling comments about each paper in their session as well as act as the timekeeper.

Learn more about this and other volunteer roles, as well as sign up to serve, on our website.
ACSP is delighted to announce that starting with Volume 42, Number 2, our flagship Journal of Planning Education and Research will be online only for members. This move reflects the reality of how most of our members read the journal and has the added benefit of being more ecologically-friendly. We hope you continue to use the journal in your scholarly work and that you consider publishing in the journal.
