Welcome to the fourth ACSP Student Bulletin! Here, you will find information about your fellow students and the Association’s news for the upcoming fall conference.

There are many student-related activities! First, there are three workshops on Friday and Saturday (p. 5). The popular graduate student clinic is back, where students can sign up to meet with faculty to assist students with job market materials (p. 3).

This issue also includes updates on ACSP and its committees to help you learn how to become involved (p. 6). We look forward to meeting you at the Saturday Student Reception and other events! For any questions, comments, or ideas, please contact us at acspgroup@gmail.com.

Your student reps,

Elham Masoomkhah & Awais Azhar
Tyler Haupert, a Ph.D. candidate in Urban Planning at Columbia University, recently had an article published by Housing Policy Debate. The article, "Racial Patterns in Mortgage Lending Outcomes During and After the Subprime Boom" examines the impact of a borrower’s race and the racial composition of their targeted neighborhood on lending outcomes. It can be accessed at https://doi.org/10.1080/10511482.2019.1636286.

Qian He, Qian He, a Ph.D. Student at the University of Texas at Arlington, was awarded Monique Pegues Graduate Leadership (Leadership Legacy) Scholarship by Women’s Transportation Seminar Greater DFW Chapter. This Scholarship is awarded to women pursuing graduate studies in transportation or a related field who have demonstrated great achievements in leadership.

Tanin Haidary, Tanin Haidary, a Ph.D. candidate in Planning, Design and the Built Environment at Clemson University, was awarded the Graduate Student Leader of the Year, 2019 award by Clemson University Campus Life. This award is for student leaders that show ongoing excellence as a member of Clemson community through their leadership, commitment to diversity, working to foster and build relationships among all Clemson University students, staff and faculty, and creating an environment of belonging and togetherness.

Tianjun Lu, a Ph.D. candidate in Urban Affairs and Planning at Virginia Tech, recently published the article, "Land Use Regression models for 60 volatile organic compounds: Comparing Google Point of Interest (POI) and city permit data" in Science of The Total Environment.

Julia Triman, recently earned a Ph.D. in the Constructed Environment from the University of Virginia School of Architecture. Her dissertation, "Regulating Wildness: Planning Discourses of Weeds and Wildlife in Washington, D.C." examines the ways heterotopic urban plants and animals challenge discourses of order embedded in human-centric planning theory and practice.

Rakibul Ahasan. Recently earned the Master of Community and Regional Planning (MCRP) and Master of Science in Transportation (MSTrans) from Iowa State University. Her dissertation, titled "Transit proximity and affordable housing investments: Application of Hedonic Model in Des Moines, Iowa" explored the relationship of Investments by Habitat for Humanity International and affordable housing prices.

Allison B. Laskey, recently published the article, "Jumping Off the Ladder: Participation and Insurgency in Detroit’s Urban Planning," in Journal of the American Planning Association. She also created the syllabus and taught Wayne State University's "Sustainable Cities" course, the cornerstone for the new undergraduate minor in sustainability.

Bri Gauger, Bri Gauger, a PhD candidate in Urban and Regional Planning at the University of Michigan, received a Rackham Predoctoral Fellowship for her research on the history of women’s activism and feminist thought in the planning academy. This award provides a year of support for University of Michigan doctoral students from any discipline who are working on dissertations which are unusually creative, ambitious, and impactful.
GRADUATE STUDENT CLINIC

The graduate student clinic is back! Students meet with faculty for 30 minutes to get advice on their dossiers or the job application process. The booth will be in the Community Center (Regency Ballroom AB) at the Hyatt Regency Greenville. Sign ups are available online at https://www.signupgenius.com/student.

The following are volunteer faculty mentors as of Sept. 2019:

- Andrea Roberts (Texas A&M University)
- Ann Forsyth (Harvard University)
- Ariel Bierbaum (University of Maryland)
- Connie Ozawa (Portland State University)
- Daniel Hess (University at Buffalo)
- Deirdre Pfeiffer (Arizona State University)
- Donovan Finn (Stony Brook University)
- Joshua Drucker (University of Illinois at Chicago)
- Lesli Hoey (University of Michigan)
- Marla Nelson (University of New Orleans)
- Mickey Lauria (Clemson University)
- Noreen McDonald (UNC Chapel Hill)
- Stacey Swearingen White (University of Kansas)
- Tom Sanchez (Virginia Tech University)
- Vincent Reina (University of Pennsylvania)

STUDENT AWARDS FOR 2019

Each year ACSP is proud to honor faculty and students who have distinguished themselves or made major contributions to the academy or to the profession. This year ACSP will award the following prizes to students.

- Ed McClure Award for Best Master Student Paper Award Winner: Esteban Doyle, University of California, Los Angeles
- Barclay Gibbs Jones Award for the Best Dissertation in Planning Award Winner: Magdalena Ugarte, University of British Columbia
- Don Schön Award for Excellence in Learning from Practice Award Winner: Cauam Ferreira Cardoso, Massachusetts Institute of Technology
- Marsha Ritzdorf Award for the Best Student Work on Diversity, Social Justice, & the Role of Women in Planning (FWIG) Award Winner: Karla Jimenez-Magdaleno, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill
- Gill-Chin Lim Award for the Best Dissertation on International Planning (GPEIG) Award Winner: Shruti Syal, University of Illinois at Urbana -Champaign

Congratulations to all the award winners for being recognized for their work! Additional information can be found here: https://www.acsp.org/Awards:
Public Transportation

Greenlink supports the mobility, livability and economic viability of the Greenville region by providing convenient, safe, reliable, efficient, and financially sound public transit; and Playing an increasing important role in the community's transportation system.

Riders can utilize Google Transit to plan their trips using their smartphone, tablet or desktop. Access Google Transit using the widget at the link here: https://www.greenvillesc.gov/Trip-Planner or via the Google Maps website or app.

A full-fare, one-way trip is $1.50 and you can purchase a transfer ticket for $0.50. The fare boxes on the buses only accept cash or coin, and do not provide change, so you should have the exact amount you need on hand.

You can also purchase a 20-ride punch pass for $27 or an an all-day pass for $5. Because the latter is activated when you use it for the first time, it doesn't need to be used on the same day that you purchase it, so you can purchase multiple passes at one time to have for days when you'll be taking multiple trips.

You can find more information on fares and answers to other questions on how to ride here: https://www.greenvillesc.gov/How-to-Ride

Join us at the Student Reception!

Saturday, Oct. 26, 7:30 pm - 9:30 pm
@ Carolina Ale House, 113 South Main Street

Meet with fellow students for great food, drinks, and fun in downtown Greenville. No tickets or RSVP required. We hope to see you there!

Career Center Table

In the exhibit room, you can use the Career Center for 1) those who are interested in applying to jobs, and 2) those who are interested in identifying potential candidates. Laptops will be available for students, recent graduates, and search committee members to browse through available jobs or resumes.

Want to be the next ACSP Student Rep?

ACSP has two student Governing Board Representatives who each serve a two-year alternating term which means ACSP seeks interested students on an annual basis.

Consider the opportunity, discuss it with your department chair, and review the instructions in the call here: https://www.acsp.org/StudentRepCall
Student Activities in Greenville!

October 24-27, 2019
Hyatt Regency Greenville, 220 North Main Street

• Graduate Student Clinic (see p. 3)

• Student Workshops

  1) Publishing in Planning
     Fri. Oct. 25, 10:00 am-11:15 am
     This workshop focuses on publishing in planning journals as a student or recent graduate. Topics of discussion will include: publishing expectations of doctoral students, journal selection, publishing a paper from the dissertation, and the merits of various types of publication. The format of the workshop will be interactive with a panel of faculty to share valuable tips and insights and answer questions.
     Moderator: Awais Azhar, PhD Student (University of Texas, Austin) & ACSP Student Rep
     Panelists: Gulsah Akar (Ohio State University), Clinton J. Andrews (Rutgers University), Ann Forsyth (Harvard University), Mickey Lauria (Clemson University), Michael Lens (University of California, LA)

  2) Preparing for the Job Market
     Sat. Oct. 26, 8:00 am-9:30 am
     This workshop is geared towards doctoral students who are on the job market, will be applying soon, or are interested in learning about the job application and interview process. It features faculty who have been part of search committees and/or were recent job market candidates. The format is primarily focused on student interest, so come prepared with questions!
     Moderator: Elham Masoomkhah, PhD Student (Clemson) & ACSP Student Rep
     Panelists: Jennifer Clark (Ohio State), Eran Ben Joseph (Massachusetts Institute of Technology), Noreen MacDonald (University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill), Vincent Reina (University of Pennsylvania), Vonu Thakuriah (Rutgers)

  3) Teaching as an Ally
     Sat. Oct. 26, 5:15 pm-6:30 pm
     This workshop will provide participants with tools for creating and sustaining inclusive classrooms for LGBTQ+ students. The aim of this workshop is to equip participants with the basic tools required for creating an LGBTQ+ inclusive learning environment and provide avenues for future learning.
     Moderator: Awais Azhar, PhD Student (University of Texas, Austin) & ACSP Student Rep

• Saturday Student Reception
   Sat. Oct. 26, 7:30 pm - 9:30 pm
   Carolina Ale House, 113 South Main Street
   Meet with fellow students for great food, drinks, and fun in a historic Buffalo warehouse. No tickets or RSVP required. We hope to see you there!
INTEREST GROUPS

FACULTY WOMEN INTEREST GROUP

President: Petra Doan (pdoan@fsu.edu), President 2017-2019

The Faculty Women’s Interest Group (FWIG) is an association of individuals who are committed to the advancement of women in the academy. Our members include faculty and students at ACSP member and non-ACSP member schools. We sponsor a FWIG luncheon at the ACSP annual conference, host panels and workshops on topics of interest to our members, and celebrate the achievements of our members and individuals who make a difference in the lives of women in the academy. We also produce a FWIG resume book that includes resumes from FWIG members who are seeking academic job opportunities. The resume book is available before ACSP each year. Join us on Facebook (https://www.facebook.com/groups) or the FWIG listserv (http://fwig@googlegroups.com)

GLOBAL PLANNING EDUCATORS INTEREST GROUP

Co-Chairs: Praveen Maghelal (praveen.maghelal@ku.ac.ae) 2018-2020; Emel Ganapati (ganapat@fiu.edu) 2017-2019

Since 1998 the Global Planning Educators Interest Group (GPEIG) has worked under the umbrella of the Association of Collegiate Schools of Planning (ACSP) to bring together planning educators and students from North America to share, shape, and incorporate global perspectives in planning education and research, and to connect with colleagues and partners in other regions of the world. Through its members and ACSP, GPEIG advocates a comparative perspective on planning and development based on a nuanced appreciation of, and respect for, cultural, economic, and socio-political dimensions of planning practices and processes taking shape around the world and influencing our profession worldwide. We work to ensure that local and regional planning contexts and issues from around the globe enter our comparative frameworks and are treated as critical foundations for effective international planning practice and scholarship. GPEIG also administers and celebrates the work of upcoming scholars through a number of awards including the Gill-Chin Lim Award for the Best Dissertation in International Planning and the Gill-Chin Lim Travel Awards.

PLANNERS OF COLOR INTEREST GROUP

Co-Chairs: Willow Lung-Amam (lungamam@umd.edu) 2018-2020; Sheryl-Ann Simpson (sheryl-ann.simpson@carleton.ca) 2017-2019

The mission of the ACSP Planners of Color Interest Group (ACSP-POCIG) is to advance the interests and concerns of people and communities of color within the planning academy and profession. Formally recognized by the ACSP Governing Board as an interest group in April 2007, POCIG has established several programs and activities over the years that increasingly carry out this mission. POCIG awards student travel scholarships to the ACSP conference and provides financial support for students and faculty to utilize National Center for Faculty Development and Diversity resources. POCIG is conducting research on the climate for diversity within planning programs and the profession. Biannually, POCIG recognizes worthy individuals who support the cause of social justice with the Edward Blakely Award at the ACSP Conference. Annually, POCIG hosts business meetings at ACSP where interested people are welcome to attend and provide feedback. Join POCIG’s listserv (pocig-acsp@googlegroups.com) or contact POCIG Secretary-Treasurer Ivis Garcia Zambrana (ivis.garcia@utah.eduT) for more information on how to become involved.
ACSP Website
The ACSP website is a great place to connect with fellow students, receive news or announcements, and access job postings. The student section of the ACSP website is a resource hub for students in planning. Features include:

- Student Communication - find information about communication tools, the Bowling League listserv, and the annual student bulletin
- Student Resources - access student advice blogs and student planning publications
- Student Conference Initiatives - learn about what the ACSP annual conference has to offer students

Visit the student pages at www.acsp.org/page/StudentsAbout.

Career Center (jobs.acsp.org)
The ACSP Career Center serves as the resource for student members to manage their career. Student members are encouraged to visit the Career Center page regularly and can:

- Search and apply to the best planning jobs at organizations that value your credentials.
- Upload your anonymous resume so employers can contact you, while maintaining control of your information and choosing to whom you release your information.
- Receive an alert every time a job becomes available that matches your personal profile, skills, interests, and preferred location(s).
- Access career resources as well as job searching tips and tools. Email your questions to clientserv@yourmembership.com or careers@acsp.org.

Frequently asked questions:
How do I join as a student member of ACSP? To become a Student Member of ACSP, visit https://www.acsp.org/page/IndividualMember. You’ll find information about costs and benefits of membership, which is $45 per year and includes the one-year print and on-line JPER subscription plus student discounts for conference registration. Postdocs also qualify for the Student Member rate.

Do I have to pay for membership before using the website? No, a paid membership is not required to use the website! You don’t have to be a dues-paying member in order to create a profile – you can register as a guest user of www.acsp.org for free. Guest users do not get any conference registration discounts or JPER subscriptions. To sign up as a guest user, follow this link.
I still need help with the website. Who do I contact? For more information, please contact Damien Raimondi, Marketing Manager at damien@acsp.org. If you have ideas for the website, please contact the student reps at acspgroup@gmail.com.

Does Bowling League still exist?

The student Bowling League listserv serves as a community-run listserv for doctoral students/recent grads in planning. Visit www.acsp.org/page/StudentCommunication for listserv guidelines and instructions on how to join!