Meet the Pathologists:

A Discussion of Careers in Pathology for Veterinary Students

2017 ACVP and ASVCP Concurrent Annual Meeting, Fairmont Waterfront Hotel and Vancouver Convention Centre, Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada

West Room 205, Vancouver Convention Centre

Monday, November 6, 2017 1:45PM – 3:00PM

(Immediately preceding the ASVCP Education Forum)

All veterinary students and other interested attendees are invited to attend this interactive panel discussion about careers and career paths in veterinary pathology.

The goals of this session are to allow veterinary students and others to

- Learn about training pathways that led to careers in veterinary pathology
- Learn about unique careers in academia, industry and government
- Interact directly with pathologists engaged in different areas of veterinary pathology
- Directly ask pathologists questions about training, career opportunities, and the highs and lows of life as a pathologist

Panelists include:

Tara P. Arndt, DVM, Diplomate ACVP (Anatomic and Clinical Pathology)
Covance Laboratories, Inc., USA

David K. Meyerholz, DVM, PhD, Diplomate ACVP (Anatomic Pathology); Diplomate ACVM
Carver College of Medicine, University of Iowa, USA

Dorothee Bienzle, DVM, PhD, Diplomate ACVP (Clinical pathology)
University of Guelph, Canada

Sponsored by The NIH Comparative Biomedical Scientist Training Program (CBSTP)

An NIH Graduate Partnership Program

For more information contact:  Mark Simpson, DVM, PhD, Diplomate, ACVP, or Hibret Adissu, DVM, DVSc, PhD, Diplomate, ACVP ncimolpathol@mail.nih.gov

http://nih-cbstp.nci.nih.gov