

BECOME AN AASP MEMBER TODAY!

The Association of Advancement Services Professionals (AASP) is an international organization for individuals interested in the profession of advancement services. AASP provides education, professional development, and networking opportunities to its members and promotes the professional status of advancement services in the philanthropic community.

Membership in AASP is open to individuals whose terms of affiliation are not contrary to the goals of AASP, and who uphold the responsibilities and integrity of the association without conflict of interest.

AASP MISSION

To be the leading professional resource for advancement services practitioners and those wishing to learn about the field by:

- Establishing, promoting, and advocating professional standards and practices.
- Helping not-for-profit organizations understand the role of advancement services.
- Promoting educational resources and opportunities for advancement services practitioners.
- Supporting professional growth and advancement for practitioners.
- Facilitating relationships and interaction among practitioners.

AASP PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

Attend Summit and you'll leave equipped with tools that will allow you to digest the vast flow of data that characterizes the field and develop meaningful analysis strategies that will facilitate success for your organization. Education programming focuses on areas including:

- Managing Financial Controls
- Engaging Constituent Groups
- Expanding Information Management
- Sharing Institutional Data
- Developing Cohesive Stewardship

In addition to an impactful educational program, attendees have numerous opportunities for meaningful discussions with peers, to enjoy world-class networking events, and much more! To register for Summit, please visit www.advserv.org.

AASP BENEFITS

- Being a part of a preeminent community of thought leaders across the Advancement Services profession
- Discounted registration to AASP's educational programs and partner organization programs
- Access to networking opportunities with hundreds of other Advancement Services professionals from all non-profit sectors
- Access to a library of Advancement Services and operations content, including original white papers written by experts in the field
- Access to published Best Practices covering many areas of Advancement Services operations
- AASpiration (quarterly newsletter), Facebook, LinkedIn, and other social resources
- Access to the exclusive Members-Only portion of the AASP website, which includes a Career Center for current job openings
- Access to the FundSvcs Listserv (www.fundsvecs.org) for discussions and searchable archives of hot topics and pressing issues facing the advancement services profession across the entire non-profit sector
- Access to the member directory for professional networking opportunities

JOIN AASP

We invite you to join our organization!

For more information about AASP, visit www.advserv.org or call 312.981.6798.

We look forward to welcoming you as a member of the Association of Advancement Services Professionals!