Therefore, to retain the Certified Equipment Manager (CEM) or Certified Equipment Support Professional (CESP) credential, a certified professional must accumulate 40 points of continuing education/professional development or 30 points of continuing education and 10 points in other areas, such as leadership, instruction or writing, every five years and submit a completed Recertification Report Form.

MAINTAINING CERTIFICATION: To retain the CEM or CESP credentials, certified professionals must accumulate 40 points in the areas of continuing education/professional development leadership, instruction or writing, every five years and submit a completed Recertification Report Form.

CEM/CESP's MUST RENEW AT FIVE-YEAR INTERVALS: Certification is valid for five years from the date indicated on CEM/CESP original certificate. Continued education points for renewal can be earned from the date appearing on the CEM/CESP certificate for the first renewal, or from the date of the last renewal, whichever is applicable.

PROCEDURES: AEMP will notify certified professional renewal requirements. A report on maintenance points for the personal file of each CEM/CESP can be submitted at any time the CEM/CESP has earned the total 40 points of continuing education/professional development. Renewal forms are retained for five (5) years.

The CEM/CESP is not currently employed.

NOTIFICATION AND REPORTING: AEMP will notify you one year prior to the expiration of your certification. This expiration date is based on your anniversary date, which is established as January 1, immediately following your initial certification. Your certification will expire five years after this established anniversary date.

You are required to submit a Recertification Report Form with full payment and all required supporting documents by February 1st of that year. For example:
