5 Big Questions: A Positive Approach to Hazing Prevention

What is Asset-based Community Development (ABCD)?

<http://sustainingcommunity.wordpress.com/2013/08/15/what-is-abcd/>

ABCD is built on four foundations (Kretzmann, 2010; Kretzmann & McKnight, 1993; Mathie & Cunningham, 2003):

1. It focuses on community assets and strengths rather than problems and needs
2. It identifies and mobilizes individual and community assets, skills and passions
3. It is community driven – ‘building communities from the inside out
4. It is relationship driven.

What is Asset Mapping?

From a Michigan State University Best Practices Brief (468 Kb PDF)

The community assets approach:

1. Starts with what is present in the community
2. Concentrates on the agenda-building and problem-solving capacity of the residents
3. Stresses local determination, investment, creativity, and control

What the Research is Telling Us

Hazing's Perfect Storm: How the Environment Produces Hazing of Terrific Magnitude

<http://doctorgentry.blogspot.com/2013/09/hazings-perfect-storm-american-college.html>

When confronted with these brutal facts, one must conclude that the American college fraternity brings together a perfect storm for hazing. The rare combination of environmental factors present in the college fraternity converge to make it an environment that produces hazing of a terrific magnitude. But what are those variables? What about the college fraternity creates an environment so conducive to dangerous, deadly hazing? Examining these questions and truly understanding the unique factors that contribute to the fraternity hazing culture is the first step in moving towards an effective fraternity hazing prevention strategy.

Is Self-Governance Dead? What About Shared Governance Instead?

<http://doctorgentry.blogspot.com/2014/05/is-self-governance-dead.html>

A 2010 study by researchers at the University of Michigan point out that empathy among college students is at an all-time low. Empathy, or the ability to relate to another person by putting yourself in their shoes, is a uniquely human trait and, as suggested by moral psychologist Jonathan Haidt, is at the core of human morality. Several explanations have been made for the decline in empathy – my friend Stephen Black would suggest that it stems from our decreased levels interaction with those who are different from us – the civic disconnect of our society.

What makes a bLUeprint?

Do I need to include all of those things?

Absolutely not! Start where you feel comfortable and let your pen do the rest!

Is there a particular way to bLUeprint?

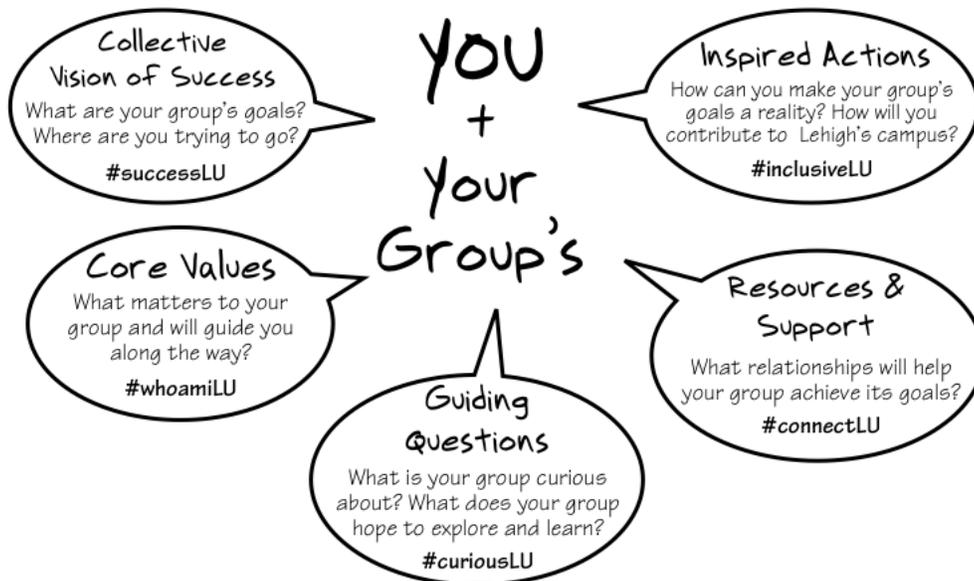

There's no wrong way to create your bLUeprint.

Some advice: Make it represent you. Design a bLUeprint that you can understand and use. Utilize your resources to make your design come to life.

bLUeprint your way to success one sketch at a time!
