Dave Temme joined PNC in 1992 after spending several years addressing a variety of cash management and other treasury-related issues at Unisys Corporation. Prior to joining Unisys, Dave spent several years serving a diverse client base as part of the audit staff at Coopers & Lybrand. His background provides an effective blend of insights from a corporate practitioner perspective with a solid understanding of the accounting implications of our client's treasury activities.

For the past twenty five years, Dave has represented PNC's Treasury Solutions Group. This unit assists clients and prospects in addressing core Corporate Treasury functions/activities and working capital utilization - covering billing, collection, credit, procurement and trade payment processes.

Dave graduated from Drexel University in 1984 with a BA in Accounting. He subsequently received his MBA from Duke University's Fuqua School of Business in 1989. He is based in Philadelphia, PA.
