Ertel\(\text{FN}\{J.\text{Peter & Philippina Margarethe}\}\): said by the Schaefer FSL (#46a) to be step-children in the Knaup household. For 1798 see Mai1798: S24.

Ertel\(\text{FN}\): the Schaefer FSL indicates that this widow must have become frau Knaup.

Ertel\(\text{Gottlieb}\): KS:82 and 127 say he was from\(^\text{UC}\) Breslau and in 1764 was sent on to the Saratov area as part of the group of colonists transported under the command of Captain Paykul and Cornet Rehbrinder. I have not found him in any published FSL or in Mai1798.

Erzingen, Balingen [Amt], Wuerttemberg: is 2 miles SW of Balingen city, and the GCRA proved that the Goehring \{Jakob\} born here never went to Kassel.

Erzweiler\(\text{GL}\): see Ehnweiler.

Esch\(\text{GL}, Nassau\): is some 11 miles SW of Usingen town, and said by the Bangert FSL to home\(^\text{UC}\) to an Eckert family. Nassau here probably is short for the Duchy of Nassau-Usingen.

Esch\(\text{GL}, Schoenborn [County]\): now spelled Aisch, some 12 miles S of Bamberg city, and said by the Lauwe FSL to be home\(^\text{UC}\) to a Grefenstein family.

Eschach\(?\), Erbach [County]: an unidentified place said by the Pleve version of the Walter FSL (#63a) to be home\(^\text{UC}\) to the orphan Mueller \{Michael\}. There were at least six Eschach in the German-speaking lands, but I could not find any within the bounds of the former Erbach County.

Eschach\(?\), Olenburg?: said by the Lauwe FSL to be home\(^\text{UC}\) to a Winter family. There is an Eschach some 10 miles WNW of Aalen city, but it looks like it then would have been part of the Limpurg County; no Olenburg state has so far been identified. Said by the Schwab FSL to be home\(^\text{UC}\) to the Voelker and Mueller families; this place was called Eschen in a Voelker-Ort marriage record (Mai&Marquardt#600).

Eschau Barony\(\text{GS}\): Eschau town, now in Bavaria, is 18 km E of Hoechst-im-Odenwald, 19 km SSE of Aschaffenburg and 15 km NE of Erbach city. Thomas Hoekxman’s “1789” map p.5 appears to place a small barony in the same place that Eschau now occupies, so I have tentatively assumed that Eschau town was the seat of a barony of the same name.

Eschbach, Riedesel: said by a Friedberg ML to be home to the Moser woman who married a Kuhn man in 1766 (Mai&Marquardt#325); by 1767 this couple was in Straub. This might be a mistake for Eisenbach.
