Member Spotlight
Keith Tamura, Assoc. AIA
I Am A Member Of The American Institute Of Architects (AIA) Because... it takes a village... most of what I’d like to achieve, going forward in my career would be MUCH better accomplished with the help and support of not only colleagues but the local, national AND international networks that the AIA would connect me to. I have found them to be valuable... indispensable. As my personal goals morph from personal to those that are “broader”... this organization allows me to easily make these connections.

I was fortunate enough to have been born and raised in Hawaii... in a middle class family... great childhood... I got my Mechanical Engineering degree from UC Berkeley, and B.Arch from University of Hawaii. In between degrees, I taught conversational English in Japan for 3+ years, and went on a 2 month student bus tour of Europe with 9 other Architecture classmates... After graduating, I’ve worked for WWAT&G (great resorts architecture firm), Leo A Daly and AECOM. I am, presently, semi-retired and working at Brazen Architecture, focusing on DOING something about Homeless and Affordable Housing.

What is the most important thing you’ve learned? The “BIG things”... AND... the “little things” are BOTH important for a successful project, business, and life... Its knowing WHEN and HOW that’s been central to most of my “life lessons” over the years. “Stepping Back” and “Zooming In” (the Deep Dive) are important skills to develop... and LOL in our profession, the quicker and easier it is for us to switch from one mode to the other, the smoother your practice will be.

Where will you be in 20 years? I will be (God willing...) giving a symposium on “Do’s and Don’ts for a SUCCESSFUL Affordable Housing project” (...in between leisurely trips to all my bucket list places around the world...)

How do you think the profession will evolve in the next 5-10 years? With the dawning of the AI age, many of the “housekeeping” functions of our profession will be done automatically. This will allow us to function mainly in “finding solutions” for our clients... We can take our clients on virtual tours of their projects and make changes, in real-time, with them present... we can focus much more (and more easily) on how a space ‘FEELS’... the look, texture, color, sounds of spaces will become part of the dialog... that’s the FUN part of what I foresee will be (and maybe already is) happening.

More importantly, however, I see us, as a profession, doing MORE of what we do best... we are one of the FEW professions that incorporates BOTH the ‘left’ AND ‘right’ brains... we are trained in BOTH engineering AND artistic modes... We HAVE to incorporate not only the technical, but ALSO the emotional aspects of our projects... AND, we also have to deal with the financial/economic aspects, the governmental/coding issues... (and, CRUCIALLY, the ecological as well). We are the conductors of the ‘symphony’... As such, we are uniquely equipped to tackle some of the most pressing issues in our communities/world. We, no longer, just ‘design buildings’... we need to, ALSO, be ‘solving the challenges our society is facing’.

If you were to change one thing about our profession today what would it be? I would make our profession completely INCLUSIVE... its about time.
As we kick off August, I’d like to reflect on a great AIA National Convention (A’22) in July. It was a great feeling to see members gather in person again on such a grand scale! I was inspired by the opening Keynote featuring AIA’s new CEO & AVP, Lakesha Ann Woods, who spoke about the need to run AIA as a business to elevate the needs of the profession and for the longevity and future of the Institute. We also heard from President Barack Obama, who spoke about the importance and impact that architects have on designing a built environment that is dignified and reflective of the communities around it. The greatest highlight of A’22, however, has to be witnessing the investiture of a friend and my business partner, Mr. Eric Roberts, FAIA, into the AIA College of Fellows.

As the summer winds down, AIA events are ramping up. August’s Membership Meeting will be in person on August 24th as a collaboration with AIA Nevada’s Fellows as a Business of Architecture Forum: Leadership, Vision, and Culture. This will be the first in-person event for our fall series. In September, we have the Women Building Nevada Symposium hosted by the Women in Architecture Committee on September 9th. Following the Symposium, we are excited to bring back our AIA Las Vegas Product Show on September 28th, held at the Westgate Hotel. Come out to network and see the latest and most excellent products. Be sure to support AIA Las Vegas and all Allied members involved.

October will usher in our first annual Top Golf Tournament. Forte Construction and TORI Contracting will be our title sponsors for this event. This is a must-attend event for both golfers and non-golfers. We will feature a full tournament-style game for our competitive players and an Angry Birds free play for those who don’t want to compete. Come and enjoy the comradery, tasty food, and great cocktails. Bragging rights will be up for grabs here, so who will be the first winner of our Top Golf Tournament? Sponsorships for this event are still up for grabs, don’t miss out!

I look forward to seeing you as we get back to The Business of Architecture. I hope you have a wonderful and safe rest of your summer, spending quality time with family and friends!

Regards,

John Sawdon, AIA

We are gearing up for the next Bald By Design head shave event in support of the St. Baldrick’s Foundation. The Foundation funds millions of dollars each year toward childhood cancer research initiatives.

The event will be on September 17th at McMullan’s Irish Pub (shave time TBA). As AIA Las Vegas is our official team sponsor, we invite any AIA members to join our team as shavees or as volunteers. If you want to shave, men usually just shave. Women with long hair have the option to shave, or to cut 10+ inches for use in making wigs for kids going through chemotherapy. If you are interested to join the team in any capacity, you can sign up at the St. Baldrick’s website (www.stbaldricks.org). Be sure to check the Team box and pick Bald By Design. Those of you that are returning for another year, same instructions apply regarding checking the team box. If anyone needs assistance you can reach out to me at phil.ralston@anclv.com.

This will be the 13th year that the Bald By Design team has been shaving as a team. In that time the team has raised over $1,030,000 for the Foundation! We are very proud of this, but look forward to raising even more!! If you don’t choose to volunteer or to shave, please keep supporting your friends and family that do shave by donating to their websites. We can’t do what we do without your support.

Thanks for all the support and encouragement that the chapter has provided. We look forward to another great year!

NOMINATIONS ARE NOW BEING TAKEN FOR SERVICE ON THE 2023 - 2024 AIA LV BOARD OF DIRECTORS

It is an honor to be elected for service on the Chapter's Board of Directors. Only those members who are most dedicated and have demonstrated a commitment to the AIA qualify for service. The success of our Chapter depends upon having strong leadership, and looking toward the future with a working Board of Directors that is composed of members who understand the value and purpose of the organization, and are willing to commit their time and resources to strengthening the Chapter. We need leaders who move the Chapter forward while upholding and protecting the profession and leading the way for those who are just entering the profession.

Each Director must make a commitment to accept the requirements of service as a priority. As a member of the Board and a leader of the Chapter, Directors are required to attend all AIA Membership Meetings, special events and social functions and to support the Chapter’s efforts in all programs. Directors are responsible for the financial security of the Chapter and generating the funding for programs and benefits for members. Directors must know and support the Chapter’s mission, goals, programs, member benefits and concerns. They are familiar with the policies and procedures of the Chapter and the Institute, and they act in accordance with these governances. Directors seek out opportunities to be ambassadors for the Chapter and actively work to encourage new members, engage civic and community leaders and positively represent their fellow members and the organization at all times.

If you …or someone you know …is ready to make this commitment to Chapter leadership, then now is the time to become a candidate for service on the Board of Directors. Contact Carlos Fernandez, Executive Director via email at cfernandez@aianevada.org.

Candidate Statements are due August 25th. Voting will take place in September 2022.

Infill development in the city’s Midtown District aims to offer residents sustainability and community.

By Ben Schulman

Architect Jack Hawkins, AIA, first arrived in Reno, Nev., more than 30 years ago. Despite the city’s seedy reputation at the time, Hawkins was drawn to its relative low cost of living and myriad outdoor opportunities, given the proximity to Lake Tahoe and the Sierra Nevada Mountains. Hawkins set up his firm, Hawkins & Associates, Inc., in the Midtown District, a short jaunt—but a world away—from Downtown Reno’s urbanist fever dream of Modernist kitsch, faded Old West grandeur, surface parking lots, and superblock casinos.

How quickly the summer vacation comes to an end. August 8th seems too early to begin school this year but that is what the CCSD school calendar says. I remember summer vacations that lasted three months, from June through August.

Our committee had a good school year with a total of nine high school career fairs attended, numerous judging and critiquing events both on line and in person, many hours of mentoring high school students through our involvement with ACE (Architecture, Construction, and Engineering) mentor program. We also had the all day guided building tour with Valley High School’s students that visited four outstanding buildings inside and out. The High School Design Awards went very well again this year. I thank all the volunteers again for their time and commitment to these excellent programs.

The committee is planning to continue with these programs and hope to increase the number of career fairs attended, mentor hours provided, and hopefully more building tours and in class presentations to students. We hope to build on what our committee has accomplished and to increase the number of active volunteers with a more varied list of activities, schools and programs that we are able to do with CCSD schools and others in 2022-2023.

Female architects have often been viewed as not belonging in the profession. I write The Architectress to show how successfully—and for how many decades—women have been proving that perception wrong. Each issue includes a feature on the work of a female architect from history; a current inequity and how we can address it as individuals and as firm leaders; and a feature on architect Mary E. J. Colter (1869 – 1958).

Coral Stone is the Best Option for hot desert climates. Very low heat retention keeps the stone cool on your feet.

Coral stone has a low heat absorbency level that makes it ideal for hot summer days. By keeping this surface, a little cooler, you’ll keep your family safer and more comfortable when they’re out enjoying the yard or pool, plus is non-sleeper even when wet.
Perkins+Will worked with Houston Mayor Sylvester Turner and community residents to redesign the historic Emancipation Park, and AIA made a short film about it for AIA Film Challenge 2022. Now in its eighth year, the film challenge invites people to share the stories of AIA’s Blueprint for Better campaign—architects, civic leaders, and their communities working together to design sustainable, equitable communities.

For the first time, the Women’s Leadership Summit (WLS) – the largest event for women architects and designers in the country—will be held in Silicon Valley, the global center for technology and innovation.

Known for its spirit of collaboration, the region is the ideal background for a continually evolving, forward-looking event. Hosted by The American Institute of Architects, WLS 2022 will bring diverse leaders together, with a focus on: firm leadership, advancing business knowledge, targeted networking, proactive career management, and personal empowerment.

The first WLS began as a grassroots effort to bring together women principals of architecture firms, women in leadership positions, and women architects moving into leadership roles across the country for an inspiring two-day Summit focusing on leadership and design. Today, the Summit spans a diverse spread of career stages and seeks to support all women in the profession.
