Maryland Child Sexual Abuse and Sexual Misconduct Prevention Legislation

EBS is excited to welcome Sarah Spross, Assistant State Superintendent, at the Maryland State Department of Education to come and speak to attendees regarding the new Child Sexual Abuse and Sexual Misconduct Prevention law. Mrs. Spross, will be providing guidance on the provision of Md. Code, Educ. §6-113.2. Attendees should submit their questions in advance during the online registration process.

Health Plan Legislative Update

Abolishing the “Cadillac Tax”, IRS allowing health plans to cover more, and updates to the Affordable Care Act are just a few of the changes that took place in 2019. EBS is pleased to welcome back Jill Brooking, Vice President of Benefits Compliance at National Financial Partners (NFP), for a discussion on legislative changes, timing of those changes, and how the changes will impact employers providing group health plans.

Mental Health Resources

Unfortunately, none of us have to look very far to find someone who has been affected by suicide or mental health issues. Knowing that this is a growing concern for our schools, the AIMS Benefit Trust has partnered with UnitedHealthcare and Optum for solutions. During this session you will learn and explore the full menu of resources available to our schools through our current medical plans and our Employee Assistance Program.

EBS is committed to raising awareness and supporting our schools on this subject. During this session we will discuss additional requirements added to the WellEducated Program specific to Mental Health.

Leveraging Supplemental Health Programs to Mitigate Financial Hardships

Historically, many of our schools have provided deductible funding for those beneficiaries enrolled in a High Deductible Health Plan. The AIMS Benefit Trust is pleased to announce new voluntary benefits to provide educators with an alternative to HSA funding while still providing a “safety net” for those beneficiaries faced with critical illness or accident concerns. Join Joe Meehan and Chris Wilson from Reliance Standard to learn about the Group Critical Illness and Accident Plans now available to our schools.
