Birth Certificates

This guide will help you get a certified copy of your own birth certificate if you were born in the State of New York.

If you were born outside New York City, your birth certificate is usually available from both the New York State Department of Health and the City or Town Clerk's Office in the city or town where you were born. If you were born in one of the five boroughs of New York City, your birth certificate is only available through the New York City Department of Health and Mental Hygiene Office of Vital Records.

You can request a copy of your birth certificate by mail, or in some cases, in person. Both New York State and New York City have partnered with an independent company called VitalChek Network, Inc. to make online and telephone ordering available. Orders through VitalChek and through the New York State Department of Health generally cost more than ordering through a City/Town Clerk's office.

To use a birth certificate as proof of identity, you need a certified copy, which means a copy issued by a government agency. A certified copy will usually have a raised seal on it, to prove it is an official copy. This guide will help you obtain a certified copy of your birth certificate if you were born in the State of New York. Requirements for getting your birth certificate from other states will be different.

Who Can Get a Birth Certificate?

Birth Certificates are not public information. They are confidential records, and therefore they can only be obtained by the following people:

- The person named on the birth certificate (must be over 18 years old).
- A parent named on the birth certificate.
- By court order only: a spouse, child, or other person not named on the birth certificate. (This guide does not address how to get a court order for someone else's birth certificate.)

IDENTITY DOCUMENTS GUIDE

For security reasons, anyone seeking a birth certificate will need to prove their identity. Each agency has different requirements for what documents you need.

Through New York State Department of Health

Remember: the New York State Department of Health (NYSDOH) does not file and cannot issue copies of New York City birth certificates. If you were born in New York City, please see the next section on page 7.

Category B: Provide two (2) of the following showing the applicant's name and address

 - Regular Handling: $30.00. Mail requests ordered with regular handling are processed within 10 to 12 weeks from the date they are received.

This is a sworn statement from you, saying that you have an attorney/client relationship with the attorney whose information you are including. You may write this statement yourself, but it must be notarized. A sample affidavit is included on page 6. For more on getting a document notarized, see section on notarization, page 50.

Request Birth Certificate from City or Town

Getting your birth certificate from the city or town in which you were born can often be the least expensive option. This guide will cover Albany, Schenectady, and Troy, although those are not the only cities where requests can be made. However, since many of the major hospitals are located in these areas, many people born in the Capital Region will be looking for their birth certificates in these cities. If your city or town of birth is not listed here, call the town or city clerk in the municipality where you were born, and ask them for more information. If you have access to the internet, try a Google search for “[Town name] Vital Statistics” or “[Town name] birth certificates.”

Fee waivers may be available, depending on your town’s rules.

Social Security Cards

This guide will help you apply for a Social Security card for the first time, or request a replacement Social Security card if you were born in the United States and are over 18 years of age.

You need a Social Security number to get a job, collect Social Security benefits and get other government services. You don't often need to show your actual Social Security card, but you will need to know your Social Security number. As discussed in the next section, however, in some cases you will need your physical Social Security card, specifically to obtain a driver license or a non-driver photo ID from the New York State DMV.

Who is Eligible for a Social Security card?

All U.S. citizens are eligible for a Social Security card. This guide can help you apply for the first time or get a replacement card if you are a citizen who was born here. The requirements are different for U.S. citizens who were born in another country.

Non-citizens are eligible for a Social Security card if they have permission to work in the U.S. The requirements for a non-citizen applying for a Social Security card are not covered by this guide.

If you are a non-citizen and you do not have permission to work in the U.S., you are generally not eligible for a Social Security card. Non-citizens are not allowed to get a Social Security card solely for the purpose of getting a driver license or non-driver ID. The only situation where a non-citizen without permission to work can obtain a Social Security card is when a federal, state, or local law requires a person to provide their Social Security number to get a benefit or service. This situation is also not covered by this guide. For more information about Social Security card eligibility and immigration status, visit the Social Security Administration website at <https://www.ssa.gov/ssnumber/ss5doc.htm>, or call a Social Security office near you. Phone numbers of some Social Security offices in the Capital Region are on the next page.

How to Apply

Applying for a Social Security card is free. There are limits on how many replacement cards you can get in a year (3) and in a lifetime (10). You must fill out the application form (included in the forms folder as Form 6), collect enough documents to prove your citizenship and identity (see sections below), and either mail them or bring them in person to any Social Security Administration office. You must include the original documents (no photocopies), even if you are mailing your application. The original documents will be returned to you by mail.

If your driver license or non-driver ID card was issued in New York, or if you do not currently have a license or non-driver ID, you must apply by mail or in person. If your ID is issued by another state, you may qualify to apply online. Requesting a Replacement Card

To request a replacement card, you will need:

- A completed application (included in the forms folder as Form 6), downloadable from <https://www.ssa.gov/forms/ss-5.pdf>, or available at a Social Security office.
- To collect enough documents to prove your citizenship and identity. Some documents can be used to prove more than one requirement (such as a passport or birth certificate). These documents must be the original or a certified copy. A certified copy will usually have a raised seal on it.

Citizenship

To prove citizenship, you must provide either a birth certificate or a U.S. passport. Other forms of proof are not accepted. For help getting a birth certificate, see Chapter 1: Birth Certificates, on page 1. You must present an original birth certificate or a certified copy (with a raised seal). No photocopies are acceptable.

Identity

The documents you use to prove your identity will meet the following requirements: they will show your name, identifying information (such as date of birth or age), and preferably a recent photograph. Any documents you bring must be current (that is, not expired). The preferred documents include:

- U.S. driver license
- State issued non-driver ID card

IDENTITY DOCUMENTS GUIDE

- U.S. passport

If you do not have these documents, or cannot get a replacement of one of them within 10 days of your application, the Social Security Administration will ask to see other documents that meet the requirements listed in the previous paragraph. Some examples of appropriate documents are:

- an employee identification card,
- school identification card,
- health insurance card (not a Medicare card),
- U.S. Military Identification Card.

If you do not have these documents either, you may submit a certified medical record from a hospital or doctor that contains your name and your date of birth (or age). “Certified” means that the custodian (that is, the “keeper”) of those medical records has officially declared that the copy is true and accurate. Speak to a hospital or doctor whom you have visited before to find out more about how their office provides certified medical records.

If you cannot locate your previous medical records from a doctor or hospital, you can try making an appointment with a new doctor for a physical. If you are in the Albany area and do not have health insurance, or cannot afford a physical, you may try calling Koinonia Primary Care:

Koinonia Primary Care, Inc.

533 Clinton Avenue

Albany NY, 12206

For more information

For more information about getting a replacement Social Security card, visit the Social Security Administration website at <https://www.ssa.gov/ssnumber/>.

You can also call the Social Security Administration for more help at 1-800-772-1213. This is a national helpline number. Often the wait time to speak with a representative can be more than 30 minutes. You can request a call back instead of waiting on hold, but you must provide them with a direct phone number (not an extension). Be prepared for these special circumstances before you call.

Applying for Your First Social Security Card

This guide can help you apply for a Social Security card for the first time if you are a citizen born in the United States. The requirements are different for US citizens born in other countries, and for non-citizens with permission to work in the US. To find out more about these requirements, visit the Social Security Administration's website at <https://www.ssa.gov/ssnumber/>, or call a Social Security office near you.

To apply for a Social Security card for the first time, you will need:

- A completed application (included in the forms folder as Form 6), downloadable from <https://www.ssa.gov/forms/ss-5.pdf>, or available at a Social Security office.
- To collect enough documents to prove your citizenship, age, identity, and that you do not already have a Social Security number. Some documents can be used to prove more than one requirement (such as a passport or birth certificate), but you must submit at least two documents. These documents must be the original or a certified copy. A certified copy will usually have a raised seal on it.

Citizenship

To prove citizenship, you must provide either a birth certificate or a U.S. passport. Other forms of proof are not accepted. For help getting a birth certificate, see Chapter 1: Birth Certificates, on page 1.

Age

To prove age, you must present your birth certificate, if a birth certificate has ever been created for you. To get a copy of your birth certificate, see Chapter 1: Birth Certificates, on page 1. If no birth certificate was ever created, that is the only circumstance in which the Social Security Administration may be able to accept any of the following records as proof of age:

- Religious record made before age 5 showing your date of birth
- U.S. hospital record of your birth
- U.S. passport

Identity

The documents you use to prove your identity will meet the following requirements: they will show your name, identifying information (such as date of birth or age), and preferably a recent photograph. Any documents you bring must be current (that is, not expired). The preferred documents include:

- U.S. driver license
- State issued non-driver ID card
- U.S. passport

If you do not have these documents, or cannot get a replacement of one of them within 10 days of your application, the Social Security Administration will ask to see other documents that meet the requirements listed in the previous paragraph. Some examples of appropriate documents are:

- an employee identification card
- school identification card
- health insurance card (not a Medicare card)
- U.S. Military Identification Card.

No Existing Social Security Number

Anyone age 12 or older applying for a Social Security Number for the first time must appear in person for an interview. The Social Security Administration will ask for evidence to show you do not already have a Social Security number.

Examples of documents you can use to prove a Social Security Number was never assigned:

- If you have lived in the United States and you are applying for an original Social Security number, you may be asked for information about the schools you attended or to provide copies of tax records that would show you were never assigned a Social Security number. For more information on getting your school records see pages 38-39. For help getting copies of your tax records, see page 41.
- If you lived outside the United States for an extended period, a current or previous passport, school and/or employment records, and any other record that would show long-term residence outside the United States could be used to show you do not have a Social Security number.

This guide will help you apply for your first non-driver ID, reapply for an ID if your ID has expired, renew your ID, or request a replacement non-driver ID if your current card has been lost or stolen. It will not address applications for REAL IDs or Enhanced IDs.

The New York State Department of Motor Vehicles (DMV) issues photo identification cards for non-drivers. This section will help you apply for a non-driver photo ID from the New York State DMV only. If you are replacing or renewing a New York State driver license, please see the next chapter (Chapter 4: Driver Licenses) on page 43.

Who Can Get a NY Non-Driver ID?

To apply for a photo ID card, you must:

- Be a citizen or legal resident of the US
- Be a resident of NY State
- Be able to provide enough documents to verify your identity
 - The NYS DMV uses a point system to help you collect enough documents to verify your name and date of birth. In general you must collect documents worth 6 points from a list of approved documents called the ID-44 (included in the forms folder as Form 7). This is discussed in depth on pages 36-43.

What are REAL IDs and Enhanced IDs?

New laws have been passed that set the standards for the kinds of ID needed to do certain federally-regulated activities. There are now three kinds of IDs that can be issued by New York State:

- Standard ID: used for photo identification purposes

IDENTITY DOCUMENTS GUIDE

- REAL ID: used for photo identification purposes, to board an airplane for a flight within the US (as of October 2020), and to enter federal buildings or military bases. The fee to obtain a REAL ID is the same as the cost for a Standard ID.
- Enhanced ID: used for everything listed above under “REAL ID,” and can be used instead of a passport to cross the US border coming from Canada, Mexico, and some Caribbean countries (but is not acceptable for air traffic between these countries). An Enhanced ID will cost $30.00 in addition to the regular cost of the ID.

This guide addresses how to get a Standard ID. This is because most users of this guide will not need a REAL or Enhanced ID for daily activities. Your Standard ID will have the phrase “NOT FOR FEDERAL PURPOSES” printed on it. This does not affect your ability to use it as identification. The only time you would need an elevated form of ID is in the situations described above. Note: You can still board flights after October 2020 using your passport.

REAL IDs and Enhanced IDs generally require a social security card, birth certificate, proof of New York residence, and proof of identification. For the most part, electronic versions of bills, pay stubs, bank statements and other documents will not be accepted (unlike the rules for a Standard ID). If you do not have trouble producing these additional proofs, you are encouraged to get a REAL ID. Speak to someone at your local DMV, or go to <https://dmv.ny.gov/which-id-right-me> for more information.

Expiration Dates

Usually, your ID expires every 8 years. If you want to find out when your ID expires, you will need to know your ID number. Then you can call the DMV or use the DMV’s website (www.dmv.ny.gov/mydmv) to find out the status of your ID. If you do not know and cannot find out your ID number, you can try the procedure below for replacing your license. The DMV may give you more information about the status of your license while you attempt to replace it.

The procedures and fees for getting a new ID changes depending on which of the following categories your previous ID falls into:

- A) ID not expired – this process is called “replacing” your ID
- B) ID expired less than two years – this process is called “renewing” your ID
- C) ID expired two years or more, OR you have never had a New York State ID issued by the Department of Motor Vehicles (DMV) – in these situations you must apply for a completely new ID.

As you’re looking through this guide, make sure the instructions you’re reading apply to your ID expiration status.

Where to Apply

If you are applying for the first time, or if your old ID expired more than two years ago, you must apply for your non-driver ID card in person at a Department of Motor Vehicles (DMV) office. If your ID is current or expired less than two years ago, you can apply in person, online, or by mail.

Another important factor in where you can apply is when your photo was taken. If the photo on your ID is more than 16 years old, you must apply in person so a new photo can be taken.

Apply In Person

The addresses of some Capital Region DMV offices are listed below. Please note that the opening and closing times differ for each location. For faster service, you can make a reservation online before visiting offices in Albany County. (Online reservations are also available in New York City and the following counties: Westchester, Nassau, Suffolk, Rockland, and Onondaga.) Apply Online (replacing or renewing only)

The online application process to replace an ID can be found on the DMV's website. You must pay with a major credit card.

To replace a current ID: <https://transact2.dmv.ny.gov/PhotoDocDuplicate/>.

To renew an ID expired no more than two years: <https://transact2.dmv.ny.gov/photodocrenewal/>.

Note: After you pay the application fee, you will be given one chance to download a temporary document. If you need a temporary document immediately, you should make sure you do not start the application process until you are at a computer attached to a printer. Otherwise, you can wait for your ID to come in the mail, which takes approximately 2 weeks.

Apply by Mail (replacing or renewing only)

Complete the application form (MV-44 included in the forms folder as Form 8 or downloadable at <https://dmv.ny.gov/forms/mv44.pdf>) and gather your proof documents as described below. When applying by mail, photocopies of documents ARE permitted. Payment of fees must be by check or money order, payable to "Commissioner of Motor Vehicles." Do not send cash.

Mail your application, documents and payment to:

NYS Department of Motor Vehicles
207 Genesee Street, Suite 6
Utica, NY 13501-2874

Where Will My Non-Driver ID Card Be Sent?

Your non-driver ID card will be sent by mail to the address the DMV has on record at the time of the order. If your address has changed, you should indicate that on the MV-44 form so that the DMV can update their records. Whatever address you put on the MV-44 will be the new address printed on your license.

If applying by mail or in person, you may request that your ID card be sent to an alternate address (that is, an address other than the one printed on your ID). If you want your new non-driver ID sent to an alternate address, include an additional note and clearly print the alternate address. Don't write the alternate address on form MV-44. The mailing address you write on form MV-44 will appear on your photo document and your DMV record.

If you are applying online, you may not request your ID to be sent to an alternate address. Your ID card will be mailed to the address that appears on your non-driver ID.

Mailing takes approximately two weeks from the date your application is received.

Replacing Non-Driver Photo ID Card

Use this method if:

Your New York State non-driver ID card, license, or permit is current.

What to bring:

All documents you bring to the DMV must be originals or certified copies. No photocopies will be accepted in person. However, if you are applying by mail, you must ONLY submit photocopies, as the documents will not be returned to you.

You will need:

- A filled out application form, called “Form MV-44” (included in the forms folder as Form 8, downloadable at <https://dmv.ny.gov/forms/mv44.pdf>, or available at your DMV office).
- Proof of name (see list on pages 36-43, or the ID-44 table included as Form 7 in the forms folder). The New York State DMV uses a point system to determine what makes up enough evidence to prove your name. Each document is worth a different number of points. You must bring documents that total 6 points. For replacements and renewals, note the following additional sources of proof of name:
 - As long as it has not been expired more than 2 years, an old license, permit, or non-driver ID, will count for 6 points. If you have your old license, permit, or non-driver ID, this will be the easiest way to prove your identity.
 - Since you do not have to present your Social Security Card to get a replacement non-driver ID, you can use it for a total of 2 points toward proof of name, in addition to the items on the list on page 36.
- Application fee, payable by cash, credit card, or by check or money order made out to “Commissioner of Motor Vehicles.”
 - In general the fee is $8.00.
 - If you are age 62 or older, the fee is $6.50.
 - If you receive SSI, you can qualify for a reduced fee. If you are under 62 and receive SSI the fee is $6.50. If you are 62 or older and receive SSI, there is NO fee.
 - Bring an original (not a photocopy) of one the proofs of SSI listed below to qualify for a reduced fee:

- Award letter
- Cost of Living Adjustment (COLA) letter
- Notice of change in payment (SSA-L8151)
- Third Party Query (TPQY) letter
- Report of Confidential Social Security Information (SSA-2258)
- Benefit Verification letter (you must call the Social Security Administration in advance to obtain this letter: 1-800-772-1213)

Replacement Application Checklist:

- Completed application form (MV-44, included in the forms folder as Form 8)
- Proof of name totaling 6 points
- Application fee (and if applicable, proof you receive SSI)

For more information

Visit the New York State Department of Motor Vehicles non-driver ID replacement information page at: <https://dmv.ny.gov/id-card/replace>

The MV-44 application form is also available for download from: <https://dmv.ny.gov/forms/mv44.pdf>

Renew a Non-Driver ID

Use this method if

You had a New York State driver license, permit, or non-driver ID, but it has been expired for less than two years.

What to bring:

You will need:

- Your Renewal Notice OR the general application form (MV-44) (included in the forms folder as Form 8, downloadable at <https://dmv.ny.gov/forms/mv44.pdf>, or available at your DMV office).
 - Renewal Notice: When it is time to renew your ID, the DMV will send a renewal notice in the mail to the address they have on file for you (usually the address printed on your last ID card). If you have this notice, fill it out and return it in the envelope provided, along with payment

IDENTITY DOCUMENTS GUIDE

(below). If you do not have your renewal notice, just fill out the MV-44 (Form 8 in the forms folder).

- Your expired non-driver ID or license, OR proof of name (see list on page 36, or the ID-44 table in the forms folder as Form 7). The New York State DMV uses a point system to determine what makes up enough evidence to prove your name. Each document is worth a different number of points. You must bring documents that total 6 points. For replacements and renewals, note the following additional sources of proof of name:
 - As long as it has not been expired more than 2 years, an old license, permit, or non-driver ID, will count for 6 points. If you have your old license, permit, or non-driver ID, this will be the easiest way to prove your identity.
 - Since you do not have to present your Social Security Card to get a replacement non-driver ID, you can use it for a total of 2 points toward proof of name, in addition to the items on the list on page 36.
- Application fee, payable by cash, credit card, or by check or money order made out to “Commissioner of Motor Vehicles.”
 - In general the fee is $8.00.
 - If you are age 62 or older, the fee is $6.50.

 - Bring an original (not a photocopy) of one the proofs of SSI listed below to qualify for a reduced fee:
 - Award letter
 - Cost of Living Adjustment (COLA) letter
 - Notice of change in payment (SSA-L8151)
 - Third Party Query (TPQY) letter
 - Report of Confidential Social Security Information (SSA-2258)
 - Benefit Verification letter (you must call the Social Security Administration in advance to obtain this letter: 1-800-772-1213)

Renewal Checklist

- Completed renewal notice or MV-44 application form
- Expired non-driver ID or license, OR proof of name totaling 6 points.
- Application Fee

For More information

Visit the New York State Department of Motor Vehicles non-driver ID renewal page at: <https://dmv.ny.gov/id-card/renew>

The MV-44 is downloadable from: <https://dmv.ny.gov/forms/mv44.pdf> and included in the forms folder as Form 8.

Proof of Name

The New York State DMV uses a point system to determine what makes up enough evidence to prove your name. Each document is worth a different number of points. You must bring documents that total 6 points.

Note: When applying for the first time, you must present your Social Security card, which is worth 2 points. Therefore you will only need to assemble documents worth 4 points from the list below.

The table that shows the point value of different proofs of identity is called the ID-44. The ID-44 is located in the forms folder as Form 7, but a summary of the “proof of name” information on the ID-44 is below, along with some suggestions about how to obtain the necessary documents.

Documents you can use as proof of name:

- NYS photo driver license, learner permit, or non-driver ID that is current, or not expired for more than 2 years – 6 points
- U.S. passport – 4 points
- If you are under the age of 21, your parent or guardian can sign a statement that certifies your identity or residence. This form is called an MV-45, and is worth 4 points. It is included on in the forms folder as Form 9, downloadable at <https://dmv.ny.gov/forms/mv45.pdf>, or available at your DMV office.
 - Your parent or guardian must complete the form with a DMV representative present.

IDENTITY DOCUMENTS GUIDE

- Your parent or guardian must be able to verify his or her identity. Generally they ask to see a NY driver license, learner permit, or non-driver ID card. If your parent or guardian does not have any of these available, he or she must meet the same requirements as you do. That is, your parent must prove his or her name with a 4 point document, his or her birth date (as described below) and show a Social Security card.
- Form MV-45A -- 4 points
 - If you are mentally or physically challenged, and you are represented by a government or government-approved facility, you may have your government (or government-approved) representative fill out a form that will verify your identity. Have your representative download form MV-45A from the DMV website and follow the instructions given on the form.
- Form MV-45B -- 4 points
 - If you can be considered homeless or disenfranchised youth and you are represented by a government or government-approved facility, you may have your government (or government-approved) representative fill out a form that will verify your identity. Have your representative download form MV-45B from the DMV website and follow the instructions given on the form.
- U.S. Military Photo ID Card – 3 points
- NYS Benefit/Medicaid Card
 - WITH photo – 3 points
 - WITHOUT photo – 2 points

You will generally need to prove your identity with a photo ID.

You will generally need a photo ID to get a copy of your divorce decree. NYS DOCCS Released Offender Identification Cards are acceptable, as long as they include a photo. A birth certificate or Social Security card will not be accepted.

Proof of Name for Recently Released Offenders

If you have been recently released from a correctional facility, there is a special procedure in place to help you get an ID from the DMV. You do not need to use the point system described above. Upon release, you will receive a NYS Department of Corrections and Community Supervision Released Offender Identification Card. This card will have your photo, information, and an expiration date on it. You MUST visit the DMV before the expiration date on your Released Offender Identification Card. If your Released Offender Identification Card has expired, there is no guarantee the DMV will be able to use it as proof of your name.

You will need:

- Your DOCCS-issued, unexpired Released Offender Identification Card.
- Your birth certificate (an original or certified copy, not a photocopy).
- Your Social Security card (an original, not a photocopy).
- Your parole release papers. If you are not released with parole papers, you must obtain a letter from the Superintendent of your correctional facility upon release.
- If you have changed your name due to marriage, you must bring your marriage certificate. (If you have changed your name for other reasons, you will need to bring a certified copy of the Name Change Order signed by the court. See above, page 39)

You will then exchange your Released Offender Identification Card for an ID provided by the DMV.

Driver Licenses

This guide will help you replace your current driver license if it has been lost or stolen, or renew your driver license if it has been expired for less than two years. It will not cover new applications, or REAL or Enhanced IDs, or restoration of driving privileges after a suspension or revocation.

The New York State Department of Motor Vehicles (DMV) issues driver licenses. This section will help you renew or replace a driver license that is current or not expired for more than two years. This guide is meant to assist people seeking documents to verify their identity. If your license has been expired longer than two years, it will be faster and easier to get a non-driver ID for photo identification purposes. To get a non-driver ID, please see the previous section (Chapter 3: Non-Driver Photo IDs) on page 26.

If you need a driver license for driving privileges, you must to apply and pay for a learner permit, pass a written test and a vision test, have supervised driving practice, take a driver education course, schedule and pass a road test, and then pay fees to exchange your learner permit for a driver license. These steps are beyond the scope of this guide, but you can find more information about getting a driver license from your DMV office or from the DMV website at <https://dmv.ny.gov/driver-license/get-driver-license>.

This guide also cannot assist you if your driving privileges have been suspended or revoked by the DMV. If you are in need of photo identification, it will be faster and easier to apply for a non-driver ID. What you need to do to restore your driving privileges will depend on the reason your privileges were taken away in the first place. To find out why your license status has changed, you should call the DMV. For more information about restoring your driving privileges after a suspension or revocation, speak to a representative from the DMV, or visit the DMV website at <https://dmv.ny.gov/tickets/suspensions-and-revocations> and <https://dmv.ny.gov/tickets/restore-license-after-revocation>.

What Are REAL IDs and Enhanced IDs?

New laws have been passed that set the standards for the kinds of ID needed to do certain federally-regulated activities. There are now three kinds of IDs that can be issued by New York State:

- Standard ID: used for photo identification purposes
- REAL ID: used for photo identification purposes, to board an airplane for a flight within the US (as of October 2020), and to enter federal buildings or military bases. The fee to obtain a REAL ID is the same as the cost for a Standard ID.
- Enhanced ID: used for everything listed above under REAL ID, and can be used instead of a passport to cross the US border coming from Canada, Mexico, and some Caribbean countries (but is not acceptable for air traffic between these countries). An Enhanced ID will cost $30.00 in addition to the regular cost of the ID.

This guide addresses how to get a Standard license. This is because most users of this guide will not need a REAL or Enhanced ID for daily activities. Your Standard driver license will have the phrase “NOT FOR FEDERAL PURPOSES” printed on it. This does not affect your ability to use it as identification. The only time you would need an elevated form of ID is in the situations described above. Note: You can still board flights after October 2020 using your passport.

REAL IDs and Enhanced IDs generally require a social security card, birth certificate, proof of New York residence, and proof of identification. For the most part, electronic versions of bills, pay stubs, bank statements and other documents will not be accepted (unlike the rules for a Standard ID). If you do not have trouble producing these additional proofs, you are encouraged to get a REAL ID. Speak to someone at your local DMV, or go to <https://dmv.ny.gov/which-id-right-me> for more information.

Expiration Dates & License Status

Usually, your license expires every 8 years. If you want to find out when your license expires, you will need to know your license number. Then you can call the DMV or use the DMV’s website (www.dmv.ny.gov/mydmv) to find out the status of your license. If you do not know and cannot find out your license number, you can try the procedure below for replacing your license. The DMV may give you more information about the status of your license while you attempt to replace it.

The procedures and fees for getting a new license change depending on which of the following categories your previous license falls into:

- A) License not expired -- this process is called “replacing” your license

- B) License expired less than two years – this process is called “renewing” your license. You may also renew your license up to one year before its expiration date.
- C) License expired more two years or more, OR you never had a New York State driver license – in these situations you must apply for a completely new driver license, starting with the learner permit process. As described above, this situation falls outside the scope of this guide. Please consult the DMV.
- D) Driving privileges suspended or revoked – this process is called “restoring” your license. As described above, this situation falls outside the scope of this guide. Please consult the DMV.

As you’re looking through this guide, make sure the instructions you’re reading apply to your license’s expiration status.

Where to Apply

In general, you can apply to replace or renew your license in person, online, or by mail. However, if the photo on your license is more than 16 years old, you must apply in person so a new photo can be taken.

Apply In Person

The addresses of some Capital Region DMV Offices are listed below. Please note that the opening and closing times differ for each location. For faster service, you can make a reservation online before visiting offices in Albany County. (Online reservations are also available in New York City and the following counties: Westchester, Nassau, Suffolk, Rockland, and Onondaga.) Visit the online reservation system here: <https://visit.dmv.ny.gov/onlineReserve/indexB.html>

If you apply in person, the fee can be paid by credit or debit card, or by check or money order made out to “Commissioner of Motor Vehicles.” Major credit/debit cards are accepted, including American Express, Discover, MasterCard and Visa. MasterCard and Visa debit cards are accepted without PIN numbers.

Apply Online

The online application process to replace or renew online can be found on the DMV's website. You must pay with a major credit card.

To replace a current license that has been lost or stolen, visit:
<https://transact2.dmv.ny.gov/photoduplicate/>

To renew an ID expired no more than two years:
<https://transact2.dmv.ny.gov/photodocrenewal/>

Note: After you pay the application fee, you will be given one chance to download a temporary document. If you need a temporary document immediately, you should make sure you do not start the application process until you are at a computer attached to a printer. Otherwise, you can wait for your license to come in the mail, which takes approximately 2 weeks.

Apply by Mail

Complete the application form (MV-44, included in the forms folder as Form 8) and gather your proof documents and fees as described in the applicable section below. When applying by mail, photocopies of documents are required. Do not mail originals, as they will not be returned to you. Payment of fees must be by check or money order, payable to “Commissioner of Motor Vehicles.” Do not send cash.

Mail your application, documents and payment to:

NYS Department of Motor Vehicles
207 Genesee Street, Suite 6
Utica, NY 13501-2874

Where Will My License Be Sent?

Your license will be sent by mail to the address the DMV has on record at the time of the order. If your address has changed, you should indicate that on the MV-44 form so that the DMV can update their records. Whatever address you put on the MV-44 will be the new address printed on your license.

If applying by mail or in person, you may request that your replacement license be sent to an alternate address (that is, an address other than the one printed on your license). If you want your new driver license sent to an alternate address, include an additional note and clearly print the alternate address. Don't write the alternate address on form MV-44. The mailing address you write on form MV-44 will appear on your photo document and your DMV record.

If you are applying online, you may not request your license to be sent to an alternate address. Your license will be mailed to the address that appears on your license.

Mailing takes approximately two weeks from the date your application is received.

Replacing a License

To replace a lost or stolen license that is not expired, you will need:

- A completed application form (MV-44, included in the forms folder as Form 8, downloadable at <https://dmv.ny.gov/forms/mv44.pdf>, or available at your DMV office).
- Proof of name totaling 6 points from the list on pages 36-43.
 - Note: In addition to the items on the list on page 36, you may also show your Social Security card, which is worth 2 points. Your Social Security card is recommended but not required.

- Application Fee: $17.50. Acceptable payment methods will be different depending on how you apply (in person, by mail, online). See the relevant sections above for information on which payment to use.

Renewing a License

You can renew a license up to one year before it expires, and up to two years after it expires.

To renew your license, you will need:

- Your Renewal Notice OR the general application form (MV-44, included in the forms folder as Form 8, downloadable at <https://dmv.ny.gov/forms/mv44.pdf>, or available at your DMV office).
 - Renewal Notice: When it is time to renew your license, the DMV will send a renewal notice in the mail to the address they have on file for you (usually the address printed on your most recent license). If you have this notice, fill it out and return it in the envelope provided, along with payment (see below). If you do not have your renewal notice, just fill out the MV-44 form instead.
- Your current license OR proof of name totaling 6 points from the list on pages 36-43.
 - In addition to the items on the list on page 36, you may also show your Social Security card, which is worth 2 points. You are not required to bring your Social Security card.
- To pass a vision test.
 - The DMV will administer the vision test for free if you renew in person at the DMV. This is likely the fastest and least expensive way to have your vision test completed.
 - You can have your vision tested somewhere else instead, and provide proof of this test to the DMV. You may have your vision test done:
 - By an approved vision registry provider. Many pharmacies and eye care specialists are on the DMV's approved registry. This means that they will test your vision and supply you with a document to bring to the DMV. There are 55 different approved providers within 15 miles of the 12207 zip code. Many of these are located at a Price Chopper or Hannaford Supermarket Pharmacy. If you have internet access, you can use the DMV's online vision test locator at <https://dmv.ny.gov/vision-registry->

locator to find an approved provider nearest you. If you do not use the online locator, call ahead to the supermarket pharmacy or eye care specialist you plan to visit to find out if they are DMV-approved vision registry providers.

- By another provider who must fill out a Vision Test Report Form (MV-619) for you to return to the DMV. The MV-619 is included in the forms folder as Form 11, downloadable from <https://dmv.ny.gov/forms/mv619.pdf>.
- The application fee. For class D or DJ licenses (most non-commercial licenses are class D) the fee is $64.50. This fee cannot be waived. Acceptable methods of payment vary depending on how you are applying for renewal (in person, by mail, or online). See these sections above for appropriate forms of payment.
 - Other classes of licenses cost more. For a full chart of license classes and costs, visit the DMV's website at <https://dmv.ny.gov/driver-license/renew-license>, or call a DMV office.
 - Residents of most downstate counties (near New York City) and New York City boroughs will need to pay an additional fee, which changes depending on the class of your license.

Notarization and Forms of Payment

This chapter will address how to get a document notarized and how to handle certain methods of payment.

Getting a Document Notarized

What does “notarized” mean?

Some agencies require that the paperwork you give them be notarized. Notarized means signed by a notary public (usually called a “notary”). A notary is a person designated by the state to be an official witness to important documents.

A notary public must follow certain procedures before he or she can witness your signature. The purpose of these procedures, and the purpose of requiring a document be signed by a notary, is to guard against fraud. The procedures always include verifying your identity. Sometimes, depending on the type of document you are signing, the notary will ask you to swear that the information provided in the document is true to the best of your knowledge.

Identity and notarization

The law requires that a notary have “satisfactory evidence that the person making it is the person described in and who executed such instrument.” That means that the notary must verify that you are who you say you are before he or she can witness your signature. The law does not say what evidence is required. In general, notaries want to see a license, passport, or other state-issued ID before they will sign your document. If you do not have a state-issued ID, you can try to present other evidence of your identity. If you have a another photo ID, birth certificate, Social Security card, inmate ID, or other evidence of identity, you may present it to the notary to see if they will accept it, but they do not have to. The only form of ID they must accept is a state-issued ID.

Where do I find a notary?

Many different kinds of places have a notary on staff. You should call ahead if possible to determine whether a notary will be available, and what hours he or she will be there.

Bank – You can most likely get something notarized at a bank where you have an account. You can try asking a bank for notary services even if you do not have an account there.

Library – many public libraries offer notary services.

Government Offices – Government offices, like a town or city clerk, city hall, or county court often have notaries on staff. Some agencies that require their forms to be notarized will have a notary on staff, or require their clerks to be notaries.

Shipping Stores – Places like The UPS Store and FedEx have notary services as well.

How much does it cost?

In New York State, the law has set a maximum fee of $2.00 for notary services. Sometimes this means $2.00 per signature, and sometimes it means $2.00 per document. Many notaries do not charge at all. When you speak to someone at a bank, library, shipping store, or government office, be sure to ask whether they will charge a fee.

Forms of Payment

Each agency discussed in this guide has rules for what form of payment they accept. Here are some tips when using each form of payment:

Cash – some agencies will let you pay with cash in person, but NONE of them will let you pay with cash if you are mailing your application. As a rule, do not put cash in the mail, because it is easily stolen.

Credit/Debit card – Many agencies will take your credit/debit card information over the phone, or swipe your card in person. Payment by credit/debit card is not allowed via mail. In some cases there is an additional processing fee if you choose to pay by credit/debit card. These fees are noted in this guide wherever applicable. If you are unsure whether an agency will charge you more to use your credit/debit card, ask a representative before your card is charged.

Personal Check – This refers to a check written from your personal checking account, with your name pre-printed on the top. Some government agencies cannot accept a personal check, but many will.

Electronic Funds Transfer (EFT) – If an agency accepts this method, it means they can wire money directly from your personal checking account. You will need your checking account number and your bank routing number. Your bank routing number is a 9-digit number found printed on the bottom of checks from your personal checking account. The account number is usually a 10-12 digit number, and it is printed on the bottom of your checks directly after the routing number.

Certified Bank Check – you can get a certified bank check at any bank where you have an account. When you request a certified bank check, the bank sets aside money from your bank account, and will only use those funds to pay the certified check. Once the certified check is written, you will not be able to access that amount of money.

Money Order – You can get a money order at many chain supermarkets and convenience stores, banks and credit unions, or at the Post Office. You get a money order by paying the amount of the check up front (usually with cash, a debit card transaction using your PIN, or a cash advance on your credit card). Before you go into a store to get a money order, you may want to be prepared with the name of the person or agency you want the money order made out to. Sometimes the person printing the money order can add the payee's name. A money order with the payee line blank is easily stolen, much like cash.
