Vancouver Meeting

Vancouver, Canada, situated in one of the world’s most beautiful locations, will be the venue of the first concurrent annual meetings of the American Musicological Society, the College Music Society, the Society for Ethnomusicology, and the Society for Music Theory. The meetings will take place in three adjacent downtown hotels, within walking distance of some of the city’s main attractions: the Vancouver Art Gallery, the Orpheum Theatre, Stanley Park, Chinatown, the historic Gastown area, and the Harbour district. The venerable Hotel Vancouver will serve as the conference center for AMS delegates and activities. With students in mind, special arrangements have been made providing for three-in-a-room accommodations. The four-society Book and Instrument Exhibit will also be housed at the Hotel Vancouver, as will an exhibit entitled The Lives of J. S. Bach, Handel, and Schütz, sponsored by the Goethe Institute.

Papers and concerts at the meetings will cover a broad spectrum of Western and world music cultures, and will include presentations in celebration of the birth years of several major Western composers: the centenary anniversary for Albéniz, the bicentenaries for George Frederic Handel, Johann Sebastian Bach, and Domenico Scarlatti, and the quatercentenary for Heinrich Schütz. The program is vast and varied. Of the approximately 240 papers, 98 will be read at 25 AMS sessions, one of which will be held jointly with SMT. About one-third of the AMS sessions will focus either on the works of one composer or pairs of composers: J. S. Bach, C. P. E. Bach, Handel, Haydn and Beethoven, Schubert and Chopin, Wagner, Brahms, and Debussy. Four sessions will be devoted to Antiquity and the Middle Ages, and five to Renaissance studies. One session will treat Baroque music and rhetoric, and one, twentieth-century topics. Eighteenth-century keyboard music, eighteenth-century opera, nineteenth-century opera, and nineteenth-century symphonic music will also be the subjects of full sessions, as will Russian music and popular music and jazz.

Several distinguished speakers have been engaged as well through special funding noted in the program; among these are the following: Winton Dean (England) and Werner Breig (West Germany), who will give featured papers on Handel and Bach respectively for the AMS; Barbara Krader (U.S.), who will deliver the Charles Seeger Memorial Lecture for SEM; and Arnold Whittall (England), who will give the SMT Keynote Address. A four-society plenary session entitled Fact and Value in Contemporary Musical Scholarship will feature the four societies’ presidents as principal speakers.

A variety of free lunch-hour concerts has been scheduled. Of these, AMS will offer three on Friday—a lecture-recital by William Kinderman on the Diabelli Variations, a fortepiano recital of works by J. G. Eckard and J. G. Mühl performed by Preethi de Silva, and a lecture-recital of Sebastián de Alfar’s music by Linton Powell—and four on Saturday—a concert of Kalkbrenner’s music by Bruno Biot, a Domenico Scarlatti concert by Eiji Hashimoto, a program of nineteenth-century parlor songs by the University of Washington Collegium Musicum, and a performance of Die Kunst der Fuge by organist Adel Heinrich. Tentative plans have been made for a Berlioz-Onslow concert by the University of California at Davis Orchestra and Chorus, conducted by D. Kern Holoman.

There will also be several subscription concerts: the Academy of Ancient Music Chamber Ensemble (Christopher Hogwood, director) in a program of Handel, Vivaldi, and Bach; the Vancouver Cantata Singers and Chamber Orchestra (James Fankhauser, conductor) in a concert entitled Bach and Handel: The Formative Years; the Vancouver Symphony with pianist Alexis Weissenberg (Rudolph Barshai, conductor); and programs of Euro-Canadian folk music and Northwest coast native music (Hunt Family/Fort Rupert Singers).

A number of social events are planned as well. On Thursday evening, the Government of British Columbia and the UBC Department of Music will welcome delegates at a hosted cocktail reception in Vancouver’s new glass-topped courthouse. This will be followed by an SEM-continued on page 3
President's Message

The AMS 50 Fellowship Program is committed to fostering excellence in musical scholarship. It thus carries a message broader than the urgency, at this time, of helping young scholars to begin their careers without undue delay. We hope of course to do that too; that we can offer one fellowship for competition within a year of launching the campaign is surely a testimony to strong support, albeit from too small a proportion of our membership. A restatement of the appeal enclosed with this Newsletter urges you to add your name and your contribution to that list.

But beyond the goal of dissertation-year support, it can and I believe should remind us of basic values in musical scholarship, of the fact that we are all engaged in a common enterprise, and that there is room for many different but equally valid intellectual gifts, pursuits, and styles. In setting up the Fellowship Program, the Board reaffirmed the purpose of our Society as stated in the By-Laws (“the advancement of research in the various fields of music as a branch of learning and scholarship”), which accords no primacy for certain kinds of talent or certain styles of discourse over others. It is just a hundred years since Guido Adler codified what he saw as the historical and systematic principles of the new discipline of Musikwissenschaft. American scholars would now add areas of study and whole subdisciplines.

that Adler could not have foreseen, while showing less current interest in some that he listed. Charles Seeger’s writings on the theory and philosophy of ethnomusicology were among the most significant prescriptions for the discipline in this country; others still living who have by example and precept stimulated our greater awareness of what we are doing include some of our Honorary Members and Past-Presidents honored at the recent Philadelphia meeting. Even if temporarily eclipsed by changing scholarly fashions, such essays are not invalidated by them.

It is surely healthy that musicologists should continue to give thought to the broader context within which they work, and to map out future directions for the field. But prescriptions can be dangerous if they are too restrictive or hierarchical; for example, a recent article by an art historian (in Humanities, February 1985) narrows the area of approved intellectual activity to the “conceptual,” and shows little respect for “antiquarianism” (especially archival work). “Berensonian connoisseurship,” or a “diluted Warburgian approach.” It becomes easy, under such taunts, to lose sight of the blend of rigor and vision, discipline and imagination that has always characterized durable and first-rate scholarship.

The spirit of affirmative action does not always seem to apply when it comes to intradisciplinary discrimination. The entire field will suffer eventual impoverishment if we allow some areas of study to be relegated to lower status according to their history, geography, ideology, material, method, or approach. Are those national scholarly traditions that have in recent times fostered certain styles of scholarship at the expense of others indeed better for having done so? Does the old-fashioned discipline of history offer no lessons about the morality of imposing or encouraging conformity? There is good and bad theory, good and bad archival work, good and bad musical sociology, editing, iconography, paleography, performance practice, bibliography, biography, analysis, criticism, reception history, aesthetics, semiotics, organology, liturgiology, and so on. Let us rather direct our critical energies to work that is good, and therefore interesting, than to rank the relative validity—or inherent interest—of different scholarly enterprises that should be complementary.

The community of serious musical scholarship is in any case small enough, and under sufficient pressure from the outside, both from other musicians who are suspicious of scholarship and from other scholars who are suspicious of music, that we cannot afford to exacerbate mutual disrespect between our different kinds of endeavor. Above all, none of us should lose confidence about undertaking what we feel we can do well. May the AMS, in the best traditions of this country, long remain even more tolerant of, and even more hospitable to, good musical scholarship of any kind.

Agenda Items and Nominations

Members wishing to suggest items for business on the agenda of the Annual Business Meeting should submit their requests to the President in writing before 15 October. This deadline has been set in order to give time for a response in the event that the proposed item is more appropriately handled by a standing committee or body of the Society. The President welcomes members’ views on all matters of practice and principle.

Agenda suggestions and other concerns relevant to the following open meetings scheduled in Vancouver should be directed to the convening chairs listed here: Committee on the Status of Women: Open Forum, Marcia J. Citron, Chair (Friday 12:00-1:00); Graduate Students’ Meeting, Ruth So-sponsored dance. Following the Friday afternoon session, there will be an AMS no-host cocktail reception for members of all societies. On Saturday afternoon, a Dim Sum (Chinese Buffet) Concert-Luncheon will be held in Chinatown, and on Saturday evening, all delegates are invited to dance at the AMS-SMT Ball.

Three tours will also be available to delegates: (1) a half-day tour of the city, featuring visits to Stanley Park to enjoy spectacular views of the Pacific and the surrounding mountains, Granville Island with its large market and numerous theatres and restaurants, Chinatown, historic Gastown, and the University of British Columbia, with its highly-regarded and architecturally-striking Anthropology Museum; (2) a half-day tour of the North Shore, featuring a ride along a panoramic corniche (rivaling those of the south of France), and visits to a salmon hatchery, Howe Sound, Lion's Bay, and a sky-ride to the top of Grouse Mountain—a popular ski area overlooking the city; and (3) a full-day tour to Vancouver Island and the city of Victoria, including a beautiful ferry trip through the Gulf Islands and visits to the famous Butchart Gardens, the University of Victoria, the Parliament Buildings, the Provincial Museum, and the Inner Harbour. The full-day tour will be offered the day preceding and the day following the meeting; the half-day tours will be scheduled at various times during the meeting.

The vast program of papers, forums, the four-society plenary session, and the many concerts, social events, and tours—all of this in a city whose setting is one of enchanting beauty—will combine to make Vancouver 1985 a rich and rewarding experience for each of us.

Vancouver: Air Travel, Registration, and Hotels

The lowest available fares for flights to Vancouver are, at present, the "Ultra-Saver" fares, offered by major carriers for travel within the United States. "Ultra-Saver" fares are applicable to such West Coast destinations as Seattle and Portland, from which excursion fares to Vancouver are readily available. Due to restrictions in capacity and the need for advanced booking, members are urged to make their reservations early.

Travel Headquarters (Hillside, Illinois), whose services have been engaged by the Local Arrangements Committee, advises that substantial discounts have been negotiated with Air Canada, the designated conference carrier. For further information about these, as well as "Ultra-Saver" and other special fares, members may telephone Travel Headquarters at 800-323-9128 (in Illinois or from outside the U.S., call 312-449-7077; collect calls will be accepted from Vancouver registrants).

Registration procedures permit an individual to register as a member of more than one society, with registration fees apportioned accordingly. Registration in any one society allows access to the sessions of all four organizations. AMS members should take accommodation in the Hotel Vancouver, headquarters for the AMS Annual Meeting; a reservation card for this hotel is included in the preregistration packet.

Cleveland—1986 Call For Papers

The 1986 Annual Meeting of the American Musicological Society will be held in Cleveland, Ohio. Co-hosted by Case Western Reserve University, Oberlin College, Baldwin Wallace College, Cleveland State University, and Kent State University, the meeting will take place at Strother’s Inn on the Square from Thursday afternoon, 6 November to Sunday afternoon, 9 November. The Local Arrangements Committee is co-chaired by John G. Suess and Quentin W. Quercia.

Abstracts of papers to be considered for the Annual Meeting should be submitted to Douglas Johnson, Department of Music, Douglass Campus, Rutgers University, New Brunswick, NJ 08903. The deadline for submission is 1 February 1986.

Individual papers should be planned to last not more than thirty minutes. Abstracts should be one page in length and typed, double-spaced, on 8 1/2-by-11-inch bond paper. They should be written so that they may be incorporated directly into the published Abstracts of Papers. The title should appear at the top of the page, with the author and institutional affiliation at the bottom. For less formal study sessions and panels, the organizer may submit a general prospectus with summaries of the individual contributions. Proposals for reports on research in progress should describe the format envisioned for the display and report. It should be noted that members may propose formal sessions devoted to a single topic, but that an abstract is required for each contribution and that each will be considered separately. Abstracts that do not conform to the published guidelines will be returned.

For its initial review the Program Committee circulates blind abstracts; that is to say, the author’s name is removed from the copies read by Committee members. In recent years the Committee has been able to approve only about a third of the abstracts submitted, and the selection process becomes especially difficult when abstracts are vague. It is advantageous therefore to be as explicit as possible about one’s methods and conclusions. The Committee will be disinclined to schedule two appearances by an author at the same Annual Meeting, or appearances by the same author at two consecutive Annual Meetings.

The Performance Committee for the 1986 Annual Meeting invites proposals for concerts and lecture-recitals. Suggestions should be sent before 1 February 1986, along with a cassette tape that is representative of the performing forces and repertoire being proposed, to the Committee Chair: Kay Jaffe, 305 Riverside Drive, New York, NY 10025.
AMS 50 Fellowship Competition Open

The AMS 50 Dissertation Fellowship Committee, under the chairmanship of James Haar, is extremely pleased to announce that, due to the generous support of AMS members and friends, it is now possible to award one Dissertation-Year Fellowship for the academic year 1986–87. The guidelines and application procedures for that award follow. The 1986–87 Fellowship recipient will be announced in the August 1986 issue of the Newsletter and at the Annual Meeting of the Society in Cleveland.

Guidelines For AMS 50 Dissertation Fellowship Competition

The American Musicological Society will hold an annual competition for up to five Dissertation-Year Fellowships to encourage what the Society’s By-Laws define as the “advancement of research in the various fields of music as a branch of learning and scholarship.”

Eligibility

Anyone is eligible to apply who is registered for a doctorate at a North American university, is in good standing there, and has completed all formal degree requirements except for the dissertation at the time of full application. In no case will an award be made to a candidate who at the time of final decision on the year’s awards has not completed all requirements other than the dissertation. AMS awards are not intended for support of early stages of research; it should be expected that a fellowship recipient’s dissertation will be completed within the fellowship year.

Any submission for a doctoral degree in which the emphasis is on musical scholarship will be eligible.

Competition and Application Procedures

The AMS President, with confirmation by the Board, shall maintain a Fellowship Committee of at least fifteen respected musicologists from whom three judges, through a system of rotation and replacement, will be chosen by the Committee Chairman in any one year. Whereas the membership of the Fellowship Committee will be known (and should be widely representative of fields of study), the individual judges for the competition in any one year will not be identified until after the competition. Judges will serve without honorarium.

Application forms will be available from the Society. Supporting documents are to include a curriculum vitae, certification of enrollment and degree requirements completed, and three supporting letters from faculty members, one of whom is the principal adviser of the dissertation. A detailed dissertation prospectus and a completed chapter (or comparable written work on the dissertation) should accompany the full application.

Awards

AMS Fellowships will be awarded solely on the basis of academic merit. Winners will receive a twelve-month stipend, to be set at $8,000 for 1986. Fellows may elect to accept the award on an honorary or partly honorary basis, thus freeing scarce resources for others. The Fellowships are intended for full-time study. An equivalent major award from another source may not normally be held concurrently unless the AMS award is accepted on an honorary basis. Grants are for one year and are not deferrable or renewable. There are no provisions for the payment of tuition; it is hoped that graduate schools will provide tuition fellowships or waivers.

The winners will be selected in the spring, announced in the summer issue of the Newsletter, and given formal recognition at the AMS Annual Meeting.

Application Deadlines and Address

Application forms may be had by writing the following address: Rena Charnin Mueller, Secretary, AMS 50 Dissertation Fellowship Committee, Department of Music, New York University, 268 Waverly Bldg, Washington Square, New York, NY 10003. Statement of application is due to the above address by 1 October 1985. Final application (with letters, supporting documents, prospectus of dissertation, a chapter or its equivalent from the dissertation) is due to the above address by 15 January 1986.

AMS 50 Campaign Bulletin

It is enormously gratifying to report the remarkable and enthusiastic support AMS 50 has received since its formal launching at the Society’s fiftieth-anniversary meeting in Philadelphia this past October. Thus far, more than $125,000 has been received or pledged, one-quarter of our projected total of $500,000. As a result, the first competition for an AMS Fellowship, to be held during the 1986–87 academic year, will take place this year.

The membership of the Society has responded with particular warmth. Contributions have been received from almost 450 members, for a total of more than $105,000. What is truly extraordinary is the level of support we have achieved. Where we had originally projected twenty-eight gifts of $1,000 or more, forty-three members of the Society and their friends have already responded at this level. We have projected fifty gifts of $500 to $999; twenty-seven have been received. We have projected fifty gifts of $250 to $499; thirty-nine have been received.

But we have a long way to go towards our goal of $250,000 from the membership. In particular, less than fifteen per cent of the members have thus far contributed. I want to urge every member of the Society, from first-year graduate student to professor emeritus, to subscribe to the AMS 50 campaign at whatever level you can afford, together with a first installment of your contribution. We continue to need substantial individual contributions, pledges of $200 and up; but we also need a substantial number of contributors to demonstrate the kind of wide-ranging membership support that foundations, corporations, and government agencies look for when they consider an application.

Important efforts are being made now to reach beyond our immediate constituency. Most successful have been our efforts in the area of corporate donations, where we have raised $22,600 from five music publishers, including A&R Editions, Garland Publishing, W. W. Norton, and G. Ricordi & C. We are particularly pleased to announce two new gifts of $10,000 from W. W. Norton and $5,000 from G. Ricordi. Several additional proposals to publishers are in progress, and approaches to the classical record industry are under way.

The next step will be formal applications to corporations not directly involved in music but who have been known to support musical events and education.

Several artists have offered monetary grants to AMS 50, including the $5,000 from Marilyn Horne already announced and $1,500 from Samuel Ramey. In addition to the concerts in the last issue of the Newsletter, a number of prominent artists have agreed to participate in or are being asked to consider giving benefit concerts. One of the more exciting events will take place in Chicago in the fall of 1986, when Claudio Abbado will lead an orchestral concert in support of AMS 50. This past spring, the Lydian String Quartet gave the first AMS 50 benefit concert, a beautifully played program presented at Brandeis University, and Musica Alta, under the directorship of Dennis Slavin, gave a fine program in Princeton. We are most grateful to both ensembles for their contributions to our campaign. But every event counts; even if a benefit concert by a university college music institute nets $200 for AMS 50, it will help the cause, and many such concerts given by friends of the Society all
Obituaries

Ralph Kirkpatrick died at his home in Guilford, Connecticut on 13 April 1984, two months short of his seventy-third birthday. He was best known as the premier harpsichordist and clavicordist of his generation. As his long membership in the American Musicological Society attests, however, he was equally distinguished as a scholar. He edited an important edition of J. S. Bach’s Goldberg Variations, facsimile editions of Bach’s Clavier-Buchlein für Wilhelm Friedemann, and the complete sonatas of Domenico Scarlatti, as well as an anthology of sixty Scarlatti sonatas. His most important work, the monumental Domenico Scarlatti, published in 1951 (Princeton University Press), restored Scarlatti to his rightful place as a peer of Couperin and Bach among harpsichord composers. His Ernest Bloch lectures at Berkeley have recently appeared as Interpreting Bach’s Well-Tempered Clavier: A Performer’s Discourse of Method (Yale University Press), and a volume of memoirs is in press. He also contributed articles to such journals as The Musical Quarterly, Notes, and Early Music. He was a member of the Century Association, the American Philosophical Society, Cavaliere Ufficiale al Merito della Repubblica of the Italian government, and he was the recipient of a Guggenheim Fellowship and honorary degrees from Eastman School of Music and Oberlin College.

Kirkpatrick was born in Leominster, Massachusetts on 10 June 1911, and received his first piano lessons from his mother. In 1928 he went to Harvard University, where he first became acquainted with the harpsichord and clavichord and made his recital debut on the harpsichord in 1930. Upon his graduation in 1930, the receipt of a Paine Traveling Fellowship allowed him to visit Europe, where he studied with Wanda Landowska and Nadia Boulanger in France, Gunther Ramin and Heinz Tessen in Germany, and Arnold Dolmetsch in England.

In 1933 Kirkpatrick taught at the Mozarteum in Salzburg and made his German debut with a performance of the Goldberg Variations. In 1940, he joined the faculty of the Yale School of Music, where he remained until his retirement in 1976. His partnership with the violinist Alexander Schneider resulted in a series of tours and in recordings of violin sonatas by Bach, Handel, and Mozart.

Recording was an important part of Kirkpatrick’s career. His records of the Manuel de Falla Harpsichord Concerto (a performance directed by Stravinsky) and the Mozart Concerto, K. 453 on the fortepiano were pioneering efforts. The recording of the sixty sonatas of Domenico Scarlatti sealed Kirkpatrick’s reputation as the greatest interpreter of that composer.

He recorded the complete Clavierbuehne (with Paul Callaway) for the Haydn Society, and in the late 1950s undertook a recording of the complete non-organ keyboard works of J. S. Bach for Deutsche Grammophon. This enterprise was crowned by recordings of both books of The Well-Tempered Clavier on harpsichord and clavichord (the harpsichord version has now been reissued)—his last significant recording enterprise except for a record of Scarlatti sonatas.

The bare recital of Ralph Kirkpatrick’s career gives little sense of the breadth of his culture. He read and spoke English, French, and German interchangeably, and knew Italian and Spanish well. He was at home in the literatures of all those languages, and numbered distinguished artists and writers among his friends. His special passion was the visual arts; he was a print collector of exceptional expertise and a trained art historian. It was thus more than commonly tragic that for the last seven years of his life he was totally blind. He not only bore this afflication with Olympian patience, but put in order for publication his Berkeley lectures on The Well-Tempered Clavier and his memoirs of his earliest years. He even returned to concert performance and played a handful of recitals never to be forgotten by those who heard them.

—Frederick Hammond

Editorial Note

Emanuel Winternitz died on 4 August 1983, not 1984, as was reported in the February issue of the Newsletter.

Noah Greenberg Award

Next Application Deadline—1 April 1986

The Noah Greenberg Award Committee wishes to remind potential applicants of the 1 April application deadline for the 1986 Award, the guidelines for which last appeared in the February 1985 issue of the Newsletter. General inquiries can be directed to the current Committee Chair: Mary E. Cyr, Faculty of Music, McGill University, 555 Sherbrooke Street West, Montreal, Quebec H3A 1E3, Canada. The 1986 Committee Chair and application address will be announced in the February 1986 issue of the Newsletter.

The U.S. RILM Committee is undertaking an inventory of librettos in North America. The libretto subcommittee, chaired by Marita P. McClymonds and Diane Parr Walker of the University of Virginia, invites input on the subject of bibliographic control of published and manuscript librettos and information on locations of librettos of potential historic interest. Libretto is defined for this effort as any text published for a musical production; the range is not limited to opera only or to a specific time period. Music and rare book libraries in the United States and Canada are currently being polled for information about their libretto holdings. Collections, private and public, which did not receive an inquiry from the subcommittee and individuals with comments, information, or questions are encouraged to contact Diane Parr Walker at the Music Library, Old Cabell Hall, University of Virginia, Charlottesville, VA 22903-3298 (804/924-7041).

The Music Library Association has announced, in addition to its annual awards (listed elsewhere in this issue), two special awards given at its 1985 convention in Louisville, Kentucky. Ann Basart was cited "for her imaginative, innovative, informative, precedent-setting work" with Cum nosti variorum, the newsletter of the Music Library, University of California, Berkeley, and recognition was given posthumously to Albert Seay for 146 reviews appearing in Notes between 1957 and 1984. Nominations for annual awards for publications appearing in 1985 should be sent to Garrett H. Bowles, 14290 Mango Drive, Del Mar, CA 92014 by 1 December 1985.

Allen P. Britton (Dean Emeritus, University of Michigan) has been elected the third president of the Sonneck Society. Britton has announced the new members of the Lowens Award Committee, which will choose the best book, edition, or recording on American music copyrighted in 1984. Nominations or self-nominations should be sent to Wiley Housewright, Committee Chairman (Dean Emeritus, Florida State University, Tallahassee, FL 32306); other committee members include Victor Cardell (Music Library, Yule University) and Melva Peterson (Music Library, City College, CUNY).

The Royal Musical Association Monograph Series, under the editorship of David Fallows (Manchester University), is supported from funds made available to the RMA from the estate of Thurston Dart. The purpose of the series is to provide a medium for specialized investigations of a topic, concept, or repertory—studies of a kind that would not normally be feasible for commercial publishers and would be too long for most periodicals (approximately 40,000 words in length). A study of Berio's Sinfonia by David Osmond-Smith was published earlier this year; future volumes include studies of the oratorio in Venice by Denis and Elsie Arnold and European sources of music in Tudor England by John Milsom.

The Metropolitan Museum of Art has announced the opening of an exhibition of historic pianos. Entitled Keynotes: Two Centuries of Piano Design, the exhibition will run from 20 May until 20 November 1985 in the Robert Wood Johnson, Jr. Recent Acquisitions Gallery and includes more than thirty examples of pianos from the Museum’s permanent collection, many never before on public display.

The Ohio State University has become home to the Caden Collection, an extensive record of the interests and activities of Norman Caden (1914-1980), a scholar whose interests spanned the fields of psychology and aesthetics as well as composition and performance. The Caden Collection reflects these interests, and includes folk-music materials and tapes, too autograph scores, and many other diverse source materials. Persons interested in obtaining further information about these holdings should write the Caden Collection Curator, Professor Emeritus William Poland, School of Music, The Ohio State University, 1866 College Road, Columbus, OH 43210 (614/422-6400).

The Shrine to Music Museum and Center for Study of the History of Musical Instruments at the University of South Dakota has announced the acquisition of the Witten Collection of early stringed instruments, bows, labels, tools, and documentary source materials. The collection includes seventy violins, violas, violoncellos, viols, lutes, and guitars built by the Amati family, Andrea Guarneri, Ferdinando Gagliano, Gasparo da Salo, Magnus Tieffenbrucker, and others. A permanent exhibition entitled The Genius of North Italian Stringed Instrument Making, 1440-1793 will open in May 1986 in conjunction with the joint meeting of the Midwest Chapter of the American Musicalological Society and the American Musical Instrument Society.

Bruno Nettl (University of Illinois) has retired as series editor of the Detroit Studies in Music Bibliography; succeeding him as editor is J. Bunker Clark (University of Kansas). Nettl founded the series, published by Information Coordinators of Detroit, twenty-five years ago and has overseen fifty-two publications. He remains a member of the Editorial Committee of the series.

The Billy Graham Center Archives at Wheaton College announces holdings of possible interest to Society members. The Archives include the following: the records of International Christian Broadcasters, including audiotapes of radio broadcasts of African music, African church music, and discussions of the use of music; oral history interviews with missionaries, which include comments on the function of music in various societies (especially Africa and China); recordings, manuscripts, and ephemera of Billy Sunday, Fanny Crosby, and Paul Rader; gospel songs from the 1930s and 1940s; and recordings from the Old Fashioned Faith and the Billy Graham Evangelistic Association. Further information should be directed to the Billy Graham Center Archives, Wheaton College, Wheaton, IL 60187 (312/260-5910).

A session entitled Music and the Visual Arts is scheduled as a part of the 1986 Annual Meeting of the College Art Association of America, which will take place 13-15 February 1986 in New York City. Further information on this interdisciplinary enterprise can be obtained from the session chair, David Rosand (Department of Art History, Columbia University, New York, NY 10027) and Ellen Rosand (Department of Music, Rutgers University, New Brunswick, NJ 08903).

The 1985-86 concert season has been officially designated as the William Schuman 75th Birthday Year by a committee formed to plan the celebration. The committee chair is Aaron Copland, and Leonard Bernstein is serving as Honorary Chairman. Plans are underway by many college and university ensembles as well as community and professional musical groups to participate in the festivities by programming Schuman's music. A new brochure including Schuman's complete catalogue is now available. For a copy and for further information about the William Schuman celebration, write Bette Snapp, Coordinator The William Schuman 75th Birthday Celebration, 415 Madison Avenue, New York, NY 10017.

The Library of Congress has announced improved facilities, extended hours, and increased staff in its audio listening facilities, housed in the Performing Arts Reading Room of the James Madison Memorial Building. The audio collection, including over 1,300,000 sound recordings of classical, folk, and popular music, is now open to researchers from 8:30 A.M. to 5:00 P.M., Monday through Saturday. Researchers wishing to make a listening appointment should apply to the Recorded Sound Reference Center, Library of Congress, Washington, D.C. 20540, or call (202) 287-7813.

Readers are advised by the editor that the Newsletter column listing papers read at AMS chapter meetings will henceforth appear in the February issue, and will include all chapters’ meetings from the preceding year.

Schumann News

At the Second International Schumann Festival-Conference (Düsseldorf, 13–18 May 1985), it was announced that more progress had been made toward a new, complete critical edition of Schumann’s works. The support of the Deutsche Akademische Gemeinschaft has been secured, and a research and archival center has been established. The overseeing editorial committee for the new edition consists of Professors Akio Mayeda (Zurich, Tokyo), Klaus Niemöller (Cologne), and Rufus Hallmark (New York), and the sponsoring organization is the Robert-Schumann-Gesellschaft (Düsseldorf), which organized the Festival-Conference. The highlights of the week were a Lied matinée by Dietrich Fischer-Dieskau, a concert by the Leipzig Gewandhaus Orchestra directed by Kurt Masur, and the participation in the conference of scholars from the German Democratic Republic and a number of young German post-doctoral scholars. The Heinrich-Heine Institut (Düsseldorf) exhibited items from the Dickinson Collection of Schumanniana, recently acquired from June Dickinson of Rochester, New York. (For information and membership, write Frau Doktor Gisela Schäfer, Robert-Schumann-Gesellschaft, 4000 Düsseldorf 1, Bilker Strasse 4–6.)

ANNUAL REPORT, FINANCE COMMITTEE
The table below offers detailed information on the AMS 50 Fund since its inception.
FY 1983-84 FY 1984-85 totals paid in on pledges 10,042.00 53,286.59 63,328.59 earnings 215.77 2,646.25 2,862.02
totals 10,257.77 55,930.84 66,186.61
The initial instrument of investment as funds are received is Vanguard Money Market Trust.
However, because dividends on money market funds have dropped, we have been seeking secured investments that will give us a better return: the PNSF CD's earn 11%. We hope to maintain invested funds at earning rates in excess of 10%

The "bottom line" figure in the above report is the $11,308.45 increase in net worth accrued during the year. Of that sum, $80,930.84 is new money ($55,930.84 AMS 50 Fund and $25,000.00 from the Flamencos bequest: $16,590.68 is appreciation in the value of equity investments and capital gains, and $13,780.93 is net excess of receipts over expenditures.
Ours record of appreciation in the equity market for the year was 13.981%.

Respectfully submitted,

International Heinrich Schütz Festival and Conference

The Thirtieth International Heinrich Schütz Festival and Conference will be held 17-20 October 1985 on the campus of the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign. With support from the National Endowment for the Humanities and the University of Illinois, the Festival-Conference is under the auspices of the International Heinrich Schütz Society, the AMS, and the International Federation for Choral Music. Coordinators are Herbert Kellar and Chester Alves. This is the main Schütz celebration in the U.S. in this four-hundredth anniversary year of the composer's birth. For the first time in this country, the event will incorporate, in addition to a wide array of performances of Schütz's music, a full-scale conference on the composer, designed to provide a forum for significant recent scholarship and stimulus for increased research.

Conference speakers include the following: Chester Alves, Darline Berkovitz, Paul Brainard, James Brauer, Werner Breig, George Buelow, J. Michele Edwards, Arno Forchert, Derrick Henry, Martin Just, Herbert Kellar, Silke Leopold, Eva Linfield, Gordon Paine, Joshua Rikfin, Benito Rivera, Alexander Silbiger, Allen Skei, Gina Spagnoli, Craig Westendorf, and Christoph Wolff. There will be seven concerts of the works of Schütz and his contemporaries, performed by the following: Pomerium Musices (Alexander Blachly, director); Les Filles de Saint-Colombe (Mary Springfiel director); and Mark Brombaugh, harpsichordist and organist. Roger Norrington (London Schütz Choir, director), will be in residence and, with Chester Alves, will conduct the University's Concert Choir and Graduate Chorale; a visiting choir from Germany (Heinz Henning, director) will also participate.

The Midwest Chapter of the AMS will hold its Fall Meeting concurrently with the Festival-Conference. All members of the Society are most cordially invited to attend these events. To the extent that it is available, free student lodging will be provided. For further information and registration materials, write to Herbert Kellar, School of Music, University of Illinois, 1114 West Nevada Street, Urbana, IL 61801.

Free for the Asking

Members can still obtain a copy of the anniversary booklet that was distributed to all Philadelphia registrants and a facsimile edition of J. C. Bach's Set a canzett per una, Op. 4 (London, 1765), with an introduction by Ellwood Dorr (Ann Arbor, UMI Research Press, 1982). Write the Office of the Society, 201 S. 34th Street, Philadelphia, PA 19104.

Report of the Chapter Fund Committee

Overdrawing its modest budget slightly, the Chapter Fund Committee was able to fulfill all the requests made of it between the Society's Annual Meeting in Philadelphia (October 1984) and the end of the fiscal year (30 June 1985). Eleven chapters were given money for two types of expenditures: half of the transportation expenses of ten student representatives of their respective chapters to attend the Society's Annual Meeting in Philadelphia, and honoraria or partial expenses to guest speakers at chapter meetings. Eighty per cent of the money given to chapters was for student travel.

Since its beginning in 1970, the Committee has followed a "matching-funds" policy, but the guidelines established at that time limit the total expenditure to two hundred dollars in any one year to any one chapter. With rising costs, this limit is more closely approached each year. In the view of the Committee, the partial reimbursement of travel expenses of a student representative to a national meeting is one of its major functions. Policy on this kind of expense has been consistent in the past, but depending upon demand and upon the hard fact of rising transportation costs, the policy of reimbursing half of the travel expenses may perforce be modified in the future.

The guidelines prepared for the Committee in 1969 state specifically that the Chapter Fund is "not for clerical aspects of chapter management (steno graphic wages, cost of chapter announcements, mailing, etc.)." A request for funds must be submitted by a chapter officer and must include either receipts or bills as documentation for money spent, or a detailed outline of anticipated expenses. For travel reimbursement to a student representative, a ticket stub or an invoice from the issuing transportation agent should be included. All checks of remittance from the Treasurer's Office will be made out in the name of the chapter.

Requests for funds should be addressed to Paul J. Revitt, Chairman, AMS Chapter Fund Committee, Conservatory of Music, University of Missouri, Kansas City, MO 64110.

Call for Papers

The Seventeenth International Byzantine Congress, to be held in Washington, D.C. on 3-8 August 1986, has issued a call for papers on all aspects of Byzantine history and culture. Abstracts should be submitted by 1 December 1985 to DETAILS, Inc., 1100 17th Street NW, Suite 330, Washington, D.C. 20036.

The Sonneck Society will hold its Annual Meeting on 17-20 April 1986 at the University of Colorado at Boulder. Topics dealing with music and music activity in the Great Plains, Southwest, and West are encouraged, but proposals on all aspects of American music are invited. Performances of American music are also solicited. Submission of a cassette tape with performance proposals is preferred. Proposals for papers, workshops, panels, and performances should be sent in six copies by 1 October 1985 to John Graziano, Program Chair, Music Department, City College, CUNY, Covent Avenue & 138th Street, New York, NY 10031.

The College Music Society, Northeast Chapter will meet jointly with the AMS, Allegheny Chapter at the University of Pittsburgh and Carnegie-Mellon University on 11-12 April 1986. Proposals are invited for papers, workshops, lecture-demonstrations, lecture-recitals, and panel discussions in the areas of musicology, theory, composition, performance, music education, administration, and the humanities. Abstracts are to be two to four pages in length, typed, double spaced, and should include the name, address, and telephone number(s) of the author or organizer, a project title, and a clear description of the topic, its goals, and conclusions. Presentation time limits are from 25 to 40 minutes. Abstracts should be submitted by 1 October 1985 to Robert V. Sutton, Chair, CMS-NE Program Committee, Department of Music and Dance, University of Massachusetts, Amherst, MA 01003.

The South Central Renaissance Conference has announced that its 1986 meeting will take place 3-5 April 1986 at Southwest Texas State University in San Marcos, Texas. Proposals for papers should be submitted by 31 October 1985, to Gary Stringer, Department of English, University of Southern Mississippi, Box 3037, Southern Station, Hattiesburg, MS 39406.

The Nineteenth Romantic Music Festival will be held at Butler University from 21-27 April 1986. The theme of the festival of concerts and lectures will be "Liszt and His Circle," to commemorate the centennial of Liszt's death. Organizers solicit proposals for presentations on Liszt's life and music, on such related composers as Paganini, Berlioz, and Wagner, and on interdisciplinary questions concerning Liszt's times. Papers chosen will be presented during the festival, either as preconcert lectures or on scholarly sessions, and presenters will be reimbursed. Proposals, on preferably completed papers, should be submitted by 1 January 1986 to James R. Briscoe, Jordan College of Fine Arts, Butler University, Indianapolis, IN 46208.
