

AMWA's Spring Essential Skills Workshop Series

Take advantage of an opportunity to participate in AMWA Workshops at a special educational event hosted by Merck & Co in April. This series offers a chance to brush up on the fundamentals of medical communication, network with other medical communicators, and receive credit toward AMWA's Essential Skills Certificate.

Register between now and March 8 for the best rates. Advanced registration is required, and space is limited. Workshops are priced "a la carte"; register for one or as many as six!
