Speaker Comments – Bruce Smoller, MD (Send a Photo)

Have the overall specified learning objectives been met? If no, please explain
• No comments received

How will you utilize stated learning objectives within your practice?
• Consider sending photos to path for inflammatory dermatoses
• I do utilize this in my practice but will push for the labs I use to provide a secure pathway for photos
• I will be more vigilant about sending photos and a better history to my pathologists
• I will send more photos to my dermpaths
• Improve patient care
• May start using more photos
• Sending digital photos!
• Will implement information in my practice

What did you find most effective about this session?
• Clarity, brevity! Thank you so much, have been sending photos before digital photography. In the old days we had expensive Polaroid cameras and Polaroids for Mohs and general dermatology and put photos in chart and to dermpath. Thank your you time, wisdom, and a great lecture!
• Easy and convenient to use
• Improve patient care
• That clinical information does make a big difference

How will you utilize stated learning objectives within your practice?

- Be more aware of possible malignancies with cutaneous disease
- Be more aware that many skin problems may have an internal component
- Helpful factors to differentiate diseases
- I am retired
- Send more photos with my biopsies
- Think about internal disease with sebaceomas and trichoemmomas
- Will be on the lookout for these uncommon disorders

What did you find most effective about this session?

- Always enjoy an interesting lecture. I really enjoy your lectures and speaking style and hope you continue to lecture in the future. Thank you very much!
- Clear and concise presentation
- Easy and convenient to use
- Excellent presentation
- Sending photos is easy to do and very helpful to the dermatopathologist
- The sebaceous adenoma section will be most useful
- Very interesting lecture—Thank you for your time
- Work ups are invaluable

Speaker Comments – Carlos Gomez-Meade, DO, FAOCD - SC Recur

Have the overall specified learning objectives been met? If no, please explain

- No comments received

How will you utilize stated learning objectives within your practice?

- I will be continuing to be very cautious with "margins-free" on pathology reports and speak to our pathologist about not making comments on skin cancer margins with biopsies
- I will consider using Mohs more frequently on the face. However, I would have liked to have seen the literature supporting the frequency of Mohs he was suggesting.
- I will use some of his phrasing to help my patients better understand their need for Mohs surgery: "Cancer goes in one direction," I will show pictures of the results of undertreated BCCs to my patients refusing Mohs.
- Improve patient care
- N/A Retired
- Probably do more Mohs on superficial BCC
- Reinforced the idea of treating skin cancers aggressively
- Review all options for skin cancer treatments with patient before treatment
- To know the margins of a cancer are paramount
- Will remember the impressive lecture and apply information to my practice daily

What did you find most effective about this session?

- Avoid the "H" areas of the face when skin cancer is present—Better to refer for Mohs surgery
- Easy and convenient to use
- Great lecture!
- Great pictures!
- Results of not treating appropriately
- The Mohs app
- This lecture has thoroughly scared me—Thank you
- Treatment options
- Very good reminder

Comments

- Great conference
- Great information. Thanks so much!
- Great Job!
- These virtual options are great! I can go at my own speed. I can pause to catch up notes. I can rewind to better understand a concept. I don't have to divide my time between transcribing what the speaker is saying or understanding what the speaker is saying. I don't have to sit in a cold miserable room on a hard chair. I don't know what's wrong or what needs to be done, but it's hard to watch a video when it keeps pausing(?).
