A threat to human survival or a new frontier for human flourishing? Join in a conversation about automation and the good life that goes beyond wild speculation about super-intelligences and singularities.

Don Howard former director of the Reilly Center for Science, Technology, and Values, Notre Dame

Jerry Kaplan author of Humans Need Not Apply: A Guide to Wealth and Work in the Age of Artificial Intelligence

Patrick Lin director of the Ethics + Emerging Sciences Group, Cal Poly

Ajung Moon co-founder of the Open Roboethics initiative

John P. Sullins chair of Sonoma State’s Center for Ethics, Law, and Society

A public forum presented in conjunction with the 2016 Pacific Division meeting of the American Philosophical Association.