Report to American Philosophical Association Small Grant Fund

In November of 2019, the Philosophy Learning and Teaching Organization (PLATO) found out we had been granted $4500 to help fund the AAPT Summer Seminar on Teaching and Learning Philosophy which was due to take place in July 2020 in Ohio. Unfortunately, due to the covid-19 pandemic, the AAPT canceled its scheduled meeting and we were also forced to cancel the week-long workshop for high school and middle school teachers that was to accompany it. Both the AAPT conference and the workshop are planned to take place in July 2021, although the exact time and place is still undecided.

As a result of this, we were unable to use the grant this year but would like to have the grant transferred to next year if that is possible.

Thank you so much for your generous support.

Best,
