Members of the APA Board,

The Queens Public Philosophy project is off to a fantastic start. We have hired two student interns who are former LaGuardia philosophy majors and who have since transferred to four-year colleges to pursue their BA degrees in philosophy. We have also scheduled workshops with the Queens Public Library. These sessions are currently scheduled to take place at the Forrest Hills branch of the Queens Public Library in the upcoming weeks. The schedule and topics for those sessions are as follows:

1. Oct. 8, 2022 – 2:00-4:00 p.m.: What is Love?
2. Oct. 22, 2022 – 2:00-4:00 p.m.: What is knowledge?
3. Nov. 5, 2022 – 2:00-4:00 p.m.: Can computers think?

Our interns are currently practicing to be discussion facilitators and look forward to engaging in public-facing philosophical dialogue.

Thank you for your support.

Sincerely,

Andrew McFarland
