

Real Estate Finance: Call for Articles

Real Estate Finance (REF) invites you to submit an article for publication. Real Estate Finance is geared toward both academics and industry professionals in the field of real estate. We seek to help real estate professionals add to their knowledge base, do their jobs more efficiently and effectively, introduce new datasets and methodologies, and inform professionals of relevant and timely developments in the field. In addition to full-length studies, Real Estate Finance is open to publishing shorter editorial comments on past articles, current events, and so forth.

We pride ourselves on a very quick turnaround with minimal revisions. We'll either want the paper or we won't. Please send your best industry and academic articles for immediate publication consideration. We promise a streamlined publication process with quick reviews and short printing queues.

Please email manuscripts to mjseiler@wm.edu

Sincerely,

Dr. Michael J. Seiler
